EVILS CONTROLLED IN KANSAS CITY ON A BUSINESS BASIS

Board of Public Welfare Keeps Careful Watch and Institutes Needed Reforms.

Chief Mission of Commission Is to Guard Interests of the Poor and Downtrodden.

WINNING FIGHT ON LOAN SHARKS

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY ALFRED PITTMAN.

The board of public welfare is a queer sounding title for a department of municipal government. At least it would sound queer to a politician of the old type. In Kansas City we are quite used to it. And we are proud of the board, of the men who are its members, and of its work.

A mere list of the activities of the board tells the story. At least it gives a good idea of the many different ways in which the welfare of the public is affected.

A GOOD many of the things done by the Kansas City board are done in no other city in the country. Here is the list:

The municipal pawnshop, which is putting the extortionate pawnbrokers out of business.

The welfare loan agency, which is ruining the loan sharks.

The free legal aid bureau, where the poor man can go to get protection in his legal rights.

The municipal employment bureau, which got 27,000 jobs for men last year.

The municipal rock quarry, which furnishes employment for men in the winter until they can find permanent situations.

The municipal farm, on which prisoners are given wholesome work and where many of them are reclaimed.

The parole department, under which men have earned for their families $200,000 in a period when otherwise they would have been a charge on the community.

The inquiry into women's wages, which has thrown a sane and wholesome light where such a light was needed.

The dance hall inspection, under which scores of young people are saved each week from coming under evil influences.

The housing investigation, which has presented facts that are bound to result in a general cleaning up of insanitary conditions.

THE group of humane enterprises which have made Kansas City a leader in social betterment work had its beginning in the board of pardons and paroles, which was created by ordinance in December, 1908. The plan had been presented to T. Crittenden Jr., then mayor, by Frank P. Walsh, attorney, who was head of the social justice department of the Wilson forces in the last presidential campaign and is now chairman of President Wilson's new industrial relations commission.

Mr. Walsh had learned what life is at hard angles. He was born in St. Louis forty-nine years ago, and had fought poverty as a boy—really fought it; never liked it or accepted it. The iron was still in his soul against poverty and suffering. He hated poverty as an unnecessary evil. Of thirty boys he remembered of his neighborhood only three had come through to normal, useful manhood. He still believed that twenty-seven lives were too great a price to pay for three that were "fit to survive."

SO Mr. Walsh had perceived that harm was being done in the name of the law through the police courts. Strict justice aside, he reasoned, a man should not be kept in jail for a petty offense when it was doing him and his family harm, costing the city money, and doing no one any good. The judge, to be sure, had had the power of parole, but the limits of one man's time kept him from being thorough.

The new commission constituted itself a board of second trial. It sat as often as necessary to keep up with all the police court convictions. It was given ample authority to inquire into all cases in the municipal court and in the house of correction, and it had arbitrary power of parole or pardon.

IT was the board's conviction in the beginning, as it had been Mr. Walsh's, that too many men were in the workhouse. One of the earliest conclusions of the board

ALDERMEN FAVOR HARRISON SUBWAY 'H-H' CROWD DITTO

Mayor's $133,000,000 Plan for City-Wide Bore Indorsed by Committee.

POLITICS ENTERS CASE

Democracy's Committee Meets in Executive's Office and Approves the Project.

MAY GO TO VOTERS NEXT APRIL

It was a big day yesterday for Mayor Harrison's "comprehensive, independent" subway system.

After an all day discussion, with the mayor present, the committee on local transportation recommended the measure for passage by the city council.

While the aldermen were putting the finishing touches on the mayor's plan in a second floor committee room, the executive committee of the H.-H. County Democracy was acting on it in the mayor's outer office on the fifth floor. This body recommended the plan to the public and started a campaign for its approval by the voters in the election next April.

Three Plans Before Electorate.

The mayor's ordinance is designed to place the city in a position to ask for bids on the construction of rapid transit bores reaching out into all sections of the city. The estimated cost is placed at $133,000,000, and as the measure is drawn capital must bid on the entire system. If one or more bids are received the mayor proposes to give the voters their choice between this comprehensive underground traction system and two other plans, both for subways in the downtown district only, one for street cars and the other for the elevated road trains.

Members of the committee were bewildered in considering the results that might come from such a three pronged referendum. As it is now proposed, the voter may vote "for" or "against" each of the three schemes. In order to win, one must receive more "for" votes than either of the others, and this total must not be upset by a greater number of votes "against" it. There is no requirement that it must receive either a majority of the votes cast in the election or a majority of those cast on the three propositions.

These Routes Proposed.

The routes proposed for the comprehensive subway system, as adopted by the committee, are as follows:

Two track bore from Lawrence avenue along Broadway, Clarendon avenue, and Halsted street to Fullerton avenue, to be joined by a two track bore from Lawrence avenue along Lincoln avenue; from Fullerton avenue the two routes to unite and run, four tracks wide, under Lincoln avenue and Clark street to the loop district.

Through the loop the four tracks to divide into two two track systems and unite at Polk street, to run under State street to Fifty-fifth street, where it is to divide, one branch to run west to Western avenue and the other east on Garfield boulevard and south on Ellis to Seventy-ninth street.

Another branch to run south from Fullerton avenue and Halsted streets to Seventy-ninth street, under Clark street. A branch is to run west on Madison street to Forty-ninth avenue; one northwest on Milwaukee avenue, California, and Elston avenue to Kedzie avenue. The last branch to run southwest under Blue Island avenue to Twenty-second and Ashland ave-

Income Tax Puzzles.

The Tribune Will Help You Solve Them.

Preliminary survey of the new income tax law convinces the exhausted surveyor that any one who solves its problems can triumphantly attack the riddle of the Sphinx, explain the mystery of the Man in the Iron Mask, and tell a waiting world who struck Billy Patterson and where Charlie Ross is to be found.

Appreciating this fact and sympathizing with bewildered readers, The Tribune has arranged to have their problems answered by the Union Trust Company.

Send to The Tribune the points that puzzle you and they will be referred to the legal and financial experts of the Union Trust Company, who will do their best to clear them up for you as soon as the Treasury Department makes its authoritative interpretation of the law's requirements.

The answers will be given through the columns of The Tribune for the general benefit of readers, but names of questioners will not be used wherever they prefer initials or a nom de plume.

MINE EXPLOSION ENTOMBS 280 MEN

Blast from Black Damp Wrecks Stag Canon Workings at Dawson, N. M.

FIVE RESCUED TO DATE.

Dawson, N. M., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—A black damp explosion in mine No. 2 of the Stag Cañon Fuel company at 3 o'clock this afternoon entombed 280 miners.

Up to a late hour tonight only five men had been rescued, and the fate of the other imprisoned workers is unknown.

General Supt. Frank McDermott and several American miners are among the men entombed. The other prisoners are mostly Italians.

The sound of the explosion had hardly died away before the work of rescue began, but because of the tons of coal and débris in the shaft progress was slow. Up to 10 o'clock tonight the workers had penetrated the shaft only 100 feet.

The rescue work was undertaken by men from the night shift and from neighboring mines, while appeals were sent to other districts for aid.

Federal Stations to Rescue.

J. C. Roberts, superintendent of the federal mine rescue stations in the Rocky mountain division at Denver, was notified, and he immediately began preparations to hurry here with a rescue car. Aid from Pittsburgh, Kas., and Rock Springs, Wyo., stations has been promised.

The five rescued miners had suffered much from gas resulting from the explosion and were in no condition to tell what happened at the time of the explosion. They are under care of physicians who say their recovery is uncertain.

Mine officials believe the entombed men are safe. They assert that all precautions had been taken for just such an emergency and that avenues of escape to other workings were open.

Danger from Impure Air.

The greatest danger lies in the impure air always incident to an explosion of this character. That this is worrying the rescuers is made plain by the fact that the workers who have penetrated the shaft only a short distance are forced to wear oxygen helmets and are relieved at short periods.

The air shaft to the workings immediately affected by the explosion is filled with débris and the more pessimistic of the rescuers fear the men are doomed to death by suffocation.

By steady work the coal and débris cannot be cleared away before tomorrow night at the latest.

Mayor E. L. Kinney has organized a relief camp at the mine, where rescuers are being cared for and where miners as they are taken out will be given immediate medical assistance.

Kin Stolid and Hopeful.

Mothers, wives, children, and sweethearts are at the shaft awaiting news of their loved ones. There are no scenes of wild excitement usually attendant at accidents of this kind. Stolid and collected the women wait. They have been urged to believe their kin are safe and the rescue of five men has cheered them.

Women residents are in camp ready to comfort them in case of the worst. The miners' relatives have great faith in Superintendent McDermott. They confidently believe that he will find some way to bring his men to safety from their underground prison.

IRISH PRIESTS STOP FLIGHT OF 50 CHILDREN TO ENGLAND.

Show Power Over Offspring of Strikers—Mothers Warned They Were Going Into "Socialist Homes."

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—There was a remarkable demonstration here today of the powers of the Irish priests. About fifty children of strikers were waiting in the labor exchange to be taken to England to remain there until the labor trouble is settled. The priests appealed to the parents not to allow the children to go, emphasizing "the dangers of allowing young childrento be sent to Socialist homes in England."

The mothers of the children thereupon decided that they would not consent to the sending of the children despite dissenting murmurs from the fathers.

Priests intercepted nineteen other children as they were about to embark at Kingstown and ascertained that the parents of some of them had not consented to their departure. Ten of the children did not go aboard the steamer. Nine were on board when the priests told them they were going away for three years, on hearing which they dashed ashore and none sailed.

Some of the mothers said they had no idea their children were going away. It is believed that the children were bribed to go without the consent of their parents.

GARY STEEL PLANT TO CLOSE? NEWS TO CHAIRMAN GARY.

Says There Will Be No Statements Regarding Reported Curtailment of Production Until Iron Convention.

Rumors originating in Washington, D. C., last night that the United States Steel corporation intended to curtail its production and close its plant at Gary were called to the attention of Elbert E. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel corporation.

"I have not heard these rumors," said Mr. Gary at the Blackstone hotel.

"If the plants were to be closed you would have been informed, would you not?"

"Certainly."

"Will any statement regarding possible curtailment of production be given out tomorrow?"

"No. There will be no statement until the meeting of the American Iron and Steel institute on Friday."

The institute will meet at the Blackstone. Mr. Gary, who is president, and Secretary James T. McCleary will be present. Today Mr. Gary and James J. Farrell, president of the steel corporation, and the presidents of sixty subsidiary companies will inspect the Gary and South Chicago steel mills.

DENIES TROTH WITH KNIGHT.

Mrs. Agnes Wyness Says She May Be Engaged to Titled Cousin by Next Christmas.

The following announcement was sent to the society editor of THE TRIBUNE:

"The engagement of Mrs. Agnes Wyness of 4331 Prairie avenue to her cousin, Sir Alexander Hall of Aberdeen, Scotland, is announced."

The announcement was a surprise to Mrs. Wyness. She told a reporter last night that she was not engaged to Sir Alexander, but that she knew him and he was coming here to visit her Christmas.

"Some of my relatives must have sent that in for a joke," she said. "We are not engaged, but we may be by Christmas. He is my cousin."

'CHAMPION, EXTRA DRY,' 10 CTS.

Seventy-three Bottles of Charged Wine Violating Food and Drugs Act Sold at Auction.

United States Deputy Marshall John P. Wolf yesterday auctioned off seventy-three bottles of charged wine and thirty-four bottles of imitation wine. The former brought 10 cents a bottle and the imitation wine 11 cents. The cases of wine were seized several weeks ago on charges of being labeled in violation of the food and drug act. The charged wine bottles bore the label, "Champion—extra dry."

WOMAN AND BABY BOUND AND GAGGED

Maid and Child of M. J. Devine Threatened with Death by Two Robbers.

TAKE $8,000, MISS $1,000.

Two young burglars yesterday forced their way into the residence of Miles J. Devine, former city prosecutor, at 1262 Macalister place. They bound and gagged a maid, tied up Mr. Devine's eight month's old grandson, cracked a safe, and escaped with money and jewelry valued in excess of $8,000, and certain papers whose value Mr. Devine could not estimate.

It took the maid, Catherine Crimmin, who is only two years over from Ireland, nearly an hour to free herself and notify the police, and by that time the burglars had made an easy escape. In spite of the accurate description she gave there is not the slightest clew to the men's whereabouts.

Blushes Over "Lisle Bank" Theft.

The girl—still blushing over her admission that one of the men had removed her stocking and taken $5 she had put there on deposit—told of her attempt to save the house valuables. With the armed men threatening death to her and the baby, she refused steadfastly to tell them anything and they went about their investigation alone. In their haste they overlooked silverware valued at $1,000.

"I was in the kitchen with the baby," she said, "when the men entered. They pointed their revolvers at me. Then they found a skipping rope that belonged to Mildred Devine and tied me hand and foot to a washtub partly filled with wet linen.

"'I'll give you until I count twenty to tell me where the money is,' said one. 'If you don't tell me I'll shoot the baby.'

"I didn't say a word, but I thought a lot, until he reached eighteen, and then I screamed to them to kill me if they had to, but to let the baby alone. They lowered their revolvers and laughed, then gagged both me and the baby.

"Then," continued the maid, "they—they took my $5."

Crack Heavy Safe.

The trail of the burglars shows they worked their way through the second floor and opened the heavy safe, it is supposed with an explosive, although the maid heard no sound. In it was money left by Miles Devine Jr., who is secretary of the City Teaming company. They also took one of the shotguns in the room and a revolver given Mr. Devine when he was city prosecutor. It was that used by former Police Inspector John Wheeler in his revolver duel with "Buck" Allen years ago.

On the third floor they found Mrs. Devine's three jewel cases and a bracelet and brooches which Miss Mabel Devine had stored under her pillow. The diamond in one of her mother's rings had originally been a part of a decoration also presented to the attorney. The open front door indicated they had left by the route least likely to arouse suspicion.

Burglary Well Timed.

The burglary was well timed. Mrs. Devine and her children had just driven away to meet a relative on an incoming train and Mr. Devine was at his office. He knew nothing of the robbery until the police notified him, and arrived just before his wife's return.

Mr. Devine has had visits from burglars before. This, he explained patiently, is the sixth time. As the visitors arrived on each occasion he moved away to new quarters. The first four cost him $5,300. Then he had a long lapse and he thought his friends had forgotten him. When burglars broke into his garage and stole an automobile, adding $1,000 in repairs to the car to the $5,300 earlier depredations, he did not bother to move. He does not see that moving does much good anyway.

WILSON DECIDES AGAINST PROTEST ON BEILIS AFFAIR

Message Sent to Russia at This Time Could Do No Good and Might Cause Harm.

EMPIRE WOULD IGNORE IT

Trade Conditions Place Handicap Upon Any Movement on Part of United States.

LEWIS ASKS SENATE TO ACT

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Unless specifically directed to do so by congress, President Wilson will not make any representations to Russia in connection with the case of Mendel Beilis.

The principal reasons for the attitude of the administration are: First, the trial of Beilis is in progress and the outcome may be his vindication; and, secondly, Beilis, not being a citizen of the United States, intervention in his behalf might further injuriously affect the already unsatisfactory relations existing between the two governments.

The Russian authorities make no secret of their attitude of hostility to representations in the interest of Beilis and, it is said, would refuse to receive any communication on the subject. They will observe the policy adopted in connection with the Kishinev massacre several years ago—decline to listen to the views of the people of the United States with respect to Russia's internal affairs.

Russia Now Has Advantage.

At present the United States has no treaty relations with Russia. Ambassadors and consuls still perform their functions, but it is by courtesy only. Further, as a matter of grace, Russia has continued to accord conventional tariff rates to American imports, though some of the St. Petersburg authorities favor the application of the maximum rates in retaliation for American denunciation of the treaty of 1832.

If the agitation with reference to the Beilis case should persist, the intimation is made that the highest tariff rates will be imposed on American products. The Simmons-Underwood tariff law, recently put into force, contains no provision in the way of retaliation, such as was included in the Aldrich tariff law.

So Russia has the upper hand in respect to the trade situation. Under the circumstances administration officials say the United States has more to lose than to gain by intervening in the Beilis case.

Resolution Offered by Lewis.

In spite of this view of the matter, a movement is under way to get one of the houses of congress to adopt a resolution which will show American interest in the prosecution now under way at Kieff. A resolution of this character was introduced several days ago in the house and today Senator Lewis of Illinois introduced in the senate a resolution which quoted the Mosaic law to show that the practice of which Beilis is accused is forbidden, quoted eminent divines and scholars as testifying to the falsity of the charge, and cited the fact that the trial is likely to incite outrages against the Jews in Russia. The resolution concluded:

"Resolved, by the senate of the United States, that the senate looks with disfavor upon the prosecution of Beilis and that the proper officers of the government be directed to use the good offices of the government of the United States with the government of Russia to the end that the unjust ritual charge against the Jewish people at large and Mendel Beilis in particular be withdrawn and the Jewish people receive the vindication justice requires."

Referred to Foreign Committee.

The Lewis resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee, where it will lie unacted upon, at least for the present. If a resolution should be reported favorably by the committee it will be essentially different from that proposed by the Illinois senator. Even should the senate adopt the measure in the form approved by the committee, President Wilson, if he observes the counsel of his advisers, will decline to forward it to the Russian government.

When the Balkan allies were engaged in formulating a treaty of peace from the conquest of Turkey, President Wilson directed that representations be made in behalf of Jews residing in the territory to be ceded by the beaten government. The allies made the curt reply that their constitutions covered the matter and indicated that the United States was interfering in a matter with which it had no concern. Having thus shown its interest in the Jewish people, the administration apparently is of the opinion that it cannot be expected to take up the Beilis case.

SAYS BEILIS IS INNOCENT.

KIEFF, Oct. 22.—The former chief of police of Kieff, Krassovsky, gave important testimony today at the trial of Mendel Beilis, charged with the murder of the Christian boy, Andrew Yushinsky, in March, 1911. He had investigated the crime, he said, and found nothing to implicate Beilis.

Krassovsky described his investigation and told how he had interrogated all persons employed at the brick works at the time of the murder, and became convinced that none of them had any connection with the crime.

Disguised as a workman, the police inspector had mingled with the brickworkers and listened to their talk concerning the murder. He learned that the general opinion among them was that the crime had been committed by thieves, who feared that if the boy was not gotten rid of he might make damaging disclosures regarding them.

Planned to Rob Cathedral.

Krassovsky recounted a story told him by Svatchka, a fellow prisoner of Rudzinsky, one of Vera Tcheberiak's associates. One night in jail Svatchko overheard a prisoner say to Rudzinsky: "Why did you decorate him like that?"

Rudzinsky replied: "To prevent him from becoming a traitor, the dog."

Rudzinsky also told his jail companions a plan he and others had drawn up for pillaging the Cathedral of St. Sophia, the most interesting religious edifice in Kieff. He said the door of the cathedral could not be forced, and it was therefore decided to pass young Yushinsky through a grating for the purpose of drawing the bolts.

Under the guise of a Moscow reporter, Krassovsky made the acquaintance of Catherine Diakonoff, a friend of Vera Tcheberiak, and from her learned that the Tcheberiak flat was a den of thieves, and in 1905, during the outrages against the jews, served as a depository for pilfered goods.

Woman Tells of Thief Gang.

Catherine Diakonoff told an extraordinary story, which could not be shaken by cross examination. She described visits to evening parties given by Vera Tchaberiak in the winter of 1910-'11, where she met members of Vera's gang. On one of her visits, on the afternoon of March 25, 1911, the day of the murder, the same men were present, and the room was in disorder as if there had been a dance.

Two nights later, said the witness, while sleeping on the outside of a bed at Vera's, her feet touched a sack at the bottom of the bed containing an object resembling a corpse. She was frightened and woke Vera, who said: "Don't worry, it's only rags."

She described subsequent adventures with a mysterious masked man, as related in the indictment. She testified that he asked her to take part in the murder of Krassovsky, Fenenko, and Col. Ivenoff, officials who were trying to solve the mystery of Yushinsky's fate, and who, he said, were "a nuisance to everybody."

Says Murder Was Described.

On promising to help, provided he would tell her who murdered the boy Yushinsky, he described the murder in Vera Tcheberiak's flat by Vera's gang.

Under cross examination the Diakonoff woman said that the masked man's voice did not resemble Krassovsky's. She declared she was ignorant of Vera Tcheberiak's relations with the criminal world, but knew that she ill treated her children, who feared her.

In conclusion the witness identified part of a pillow case found near the cave where the boy's body was found as belonging to Vera Tcheberiak.

WILL INDICT MORE AT EAST ST. LOUIS

Action Against Twenty-three Men Merely Start on a Wide Crusade.

FORMER MAYOR INVOLVED

Ex-Treasurer and Controller and Present Chief of Detectives Accused.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22.—The indictment today of twenty-three present and former officials of East St. Louis, Ill., on charges growing out of an investigation of alleged municipal irregularities, was characterized by State's Attorney Webb as the forerunner of other indictments to be returned by the grand jury.

Those indicted today include an ex-mayor, a former city treasurer, two former controllers, two former heads of city departments, twelve aldermen, and the present chief of detectives.

All these were a part of the administration of Charles S. Lambert, who retired from the mayoralty last spring, being succeeded by Mayor Chamberlin, who was elected on a reform platform.

Hundred Witnesses Testify.

The grand jury investigation began Sept. 15, and more than 100 witnesses have testified before the inquisitors as to various phases of municipal corruption.

Among the allegations supported by evidence introduced before the grand jury were the following:

That East St. Louis was more than $200,000 in debt.

That during the Lambert administration warrants were issued for large sums of money for the payment of city officials who had contracts with the city in violation of the law.

Men Who Were Indicted.

The men against whom indictments were returned are:

Charles S. Lambert, mayor in 1911 and 1912.

W. Fred Gerold, city treasurer in 1911 and 1912.

William R. Rodenberger, former city controller.

John J. Faulkner, charged with a part in a $100,000 conspiracy.

Lester J. Grigsby, present chief of detectives.

Dr. Lemuel B. Short, present health commissioner.

Daniel G. Wuersch, former superintendent of streets.

John Edminston, assistant superintendent of streets.

John D. Young, former deputy building commissioner.

Claus B. Tietje, present alderman and former chairman of the council claims committee.

John W. Gavin, former alderman.

Anton Hahn, Fred W. Leckel, John C. Malinee, Leon Priwer, Edward J. Spiesbach, Louis G. Runtz, John D. Roche, Andrew Bouge, William H. Degen, James M. Sheer, Lee Brown, and Rudolph Huschle, aldermen.

FLAG TRAIN; AVERT ACCIDENT.

Driver and Itinerant Use Auto Lamps to Warn Engineers—Relief Car Goes Into Ditch.

An auto truck belonging to the Schulz Baking company stopped dead on the tracks of the St. Paul road in Shermerville, Ill., yesterday. The chauffeur, George App, and an opportune itinerant, seized the auto lamps and flagged trains coming from both directions, thus preventing a serious accident.

Later two officials of the company went to rescue the stalled truck and their auto went over a ten foot ravine on Sheridan road near Fort Sheridan, pinning them to the ground, but inflicting no injuries.

August Hammann of Milwaukee, on his way to Chicago, was thrown over a ten foot embankment when his auto skidded on Lake avenue in Lake Forest. He was not hurt. His machine was smashed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reemer of 6511 Woodlawn avenue walked in front of the automobile of John M. Carlson of 1403 Pratt avenue. In the accident happening at State and Adams street, she received three broken ribs and possible internal injuries, considered as possibly serious in view of her 65 years.

Gordon Reid of 4550 Magnolia avenue, charged with being driver of the car which killed Harry D. Smith of 14 East Thirteenth street last June, was brought here from Michigan last night and booked for manslaughter.

May Not Reach the Voters.

Some members of the committee contend the "comprehensive independent" system will not get so far as a referendum. They say capital will not bid on a $138,000,000 subway for Chicago on the terms proposed. If that proves the case it will not go on the ballot at the request of the council. If it does go to the voters there are complications possible on the three pronged referendum that may keep the project active in politics for a year or more longer. That is where the County Democracy comes in.

Charles C. FitzMorris, secretary to the mayor, is also secretary of the H.-H. organization. It was because he could not leave his desk in the mayor's outer office, he said, that the meeting of the executive committee was held there. As soon as it was adjourned he sent to reporters at the traction meeting copies of the resolutions adopted. These are to be submitted at a meeting of the full H.-H. organization on Sunday.

Petitions May Be Circulated.

In addition to placing the County Democracy on record in favor of the "comprehensive independent" system the H.-H. resolutions direct the president to appoint a committee to act with the executive committee "to take such steps as may be necessary to secure signatures to a petition addressed to the County court to have the question of whether the city shall proceed to the construction of a comprehensive independent subway system submitted to the people at the next general election."

FIGHT POLICY OF NEW HAVEN ROAD

Opponents of Directors Beaten in Stormy Meeting of Stockholders.

CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT.

Elliott Becomes Chairman of Board with Power Over All Subsidiaries.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—More than 400 persons, including a few women, attended the annual meeting of the stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad here today. It was a stormy session.

Vigorous opposition developed over acceptance of the road's annual report, because this provision in the call for the meeting was coupled with a proposition for approving all acts and recommendations of the directors.

Clarence H. Venner of New York opened hostilities against the management by moving that the minutes of the board of directors relating to the annual report be read. His motion was seconded vociferously from all parts of the hall.

Venner Loses Two Fights.

Mr. Venner insisted that unless these matters were cleared up the stockholders would have to vote blindly in approving the annual report. "The time has come," he said, "when the rights of the stockholders should be recognized and not thrown under foot by gag rule. We know that the company employs astute lawyers who can clothe the call for a meeting like this in language which will deceive. They have done so in this case."

After two hours of vigorous discussion a compromise was reached by which the reference to the approval of the acts and recommendations of the directors was stricken out.

Change in Director System.

A board of directors was chosen by stock votes ranging from 904,734 for William Rockefeller to 1,013,562 for Howard Elliott, with President Hadley of Yale university second, with 1,013,524.

The chief change in the bylaws was that creating the office of chairman of the board of directors, which in effect gives each of the subsidiary properties of the New Haven system its own president and directorate with Mr. Elliott chairman of the board of directors to direct the policies of the whole; while the properties themselves are each under its own executive.

The directors met later, when Mr. Elliott resigned as president of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford railroad to become chairman of the board, and Vice President J. H. Hustis was elected president of the road.

Mellen Waives Big Salary.

Mr. Elliott told the stockholders that on Monday Charles S. Mellen, former president of the road, whom the road had retained in an advisory capacity at a salary of $30,000 a year for five years, had notified the company he would waive all claims to compensation for whatever services he might be able to give. This, Mr. Elliott said, was purely voluntary. Mr. Mellen's letter gave him no clew as to his reasons for refusing to take the $150,000 voted him.

CAREY FACES FRESH TROUBLE.

Green Bay Man Under Arrest for Violating Mann Act May Be Charged with Wife Abandonment.

Arthur Royal Carey, who is under arrest at Green Bay for violation of the Mann act because he walked across the dividing line between Illinois and Wisconsin three years ago with Miss Laura H. Flueker, may face two charges brought by the state of Illinois—wife abandonment and contributing to the delinquency of his three minor children.

The Legal Aid society, which has been hunting for Carey three years, prepared yesterday to take out a warrant for wife abandonment in case Carey is set free by the government.

The records of the Legal Aid show that Carey was married in 1898 and had three children. His wife, who until recently lived at 4456 Cottage Grove avenue, kept alive after he deserted her by taking in washing. On Dec. 12, 1907, the record shows, Carey was married under the name of Chauncey A. Carey to Miss Marie Cappie. She died six months later and Carey returned to his first wife. Since 1911, the record shows, he has given her $12.

WARNS AGAINST WAGE CUTS

Secretary Redfield, at Flint, Mich., Defies Employers.

INQUIRY PLAN NOT DROPPED.

U. S. Commerce Head Promises Public Utilities Investigation.

Flint, Mich., Oct. 22.—Notice was served on employers of labor tonight by Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce that he had not abandoned his intention of investigating general reductions of wages made on the plea that the new tariff compelled retrenchment. The secretary voiced his views in an address before the Flint board of commerce.

Number of Threats Decreases.

The secretary declared that the threats of reduction in wages as a result of the Underwood tariff law had become few of late. This he attributed directly to the declaration of the administration that it would act promptly where such threats were carried out.

"The fact that powers exist," he said, "in hands that will use them if and only if general and sufficient cause shall appear for such use, and will then use them conservatively and considerately if at all, seems to have had a sobering effect upon those who would make the wages of the laborer a fulcrum on which to poise their political arguments."

Inquiry Into Public Utilities.

Investigation of public utilities corporations, the secretary said, was a line of inquiry his department proposed to begin, with the object in view of aiding both the corporations themselves and the public utilities commissions of the states and cities. Congress is to be asked to appropriate $100,000 to begin the work.

"This fund," explained Mr. Redfield, "would be used to enable the bureau of standards to carry on such investigations as would fix standards of service for public utility companies, that would assist the public service commissioners of the states and cities, and other authorities in regulation and control of these utilities."

UNVEIL CHIEF KEOKUK STATUE; IOWA STATE D. A. R. IN CHARGE.

Bronze Shaft Dedicated at Keokuk to Famous Sac Leader—Great-Grandson of Indian Speaks.

Keokuk, Ia., Oct. 22.—A bronze statue of Chief Keokuk was unveiled this afternoon in Rand park on the site where three-quarters of a century ago his war councils were held. The unveiling ceremony was in connection with the convention of the Iowa Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. William Cummings Story, national president general of the D. A. R., was one of the speakers at the exercises, which were held in the Grand Opera house instead of at the park on account of the rainy weather.

John Keokuk, a resident of the Sac and Fox agency in Oklahoma, and great-great-grandson of the noted chief, delivered a message from his people.

The statue of Chief Keokuk is ten feet in height, resting on a base fifteen feet high. It is the work of Miss Nellie V. Walker, an Iowa girl, now living in Chicago.

The bones of Chief Keokuk were buried recently under the statue.

INDICTED LAWYER ASKS BAR INQUIRY ON '$60,000 FRAUD'

Weymouth Kirkland Invites Fellow Attorneys to Investigate His Acts.

CAR CHIEFS ABSOLVE HIM

Chicago Railways Officials Reassert Discharged Employe's Allegations Are Not True.

DENIAL ISSUED BY ACCUSED MAN

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland last night announced he would call upon the Chicago Bar association for a thorough investigation of the charges made by Thomas G. Lynch before the grand jury. Indictments were returned charging Kirkland with having obtained approximately $60,000 from the Chicago Railways company through false vouchers for services rendered during a period of six years.

The indictments, according to State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne, are based on the testimony of Lynch, a former investigator for the car company, who was discharged two and a half years ago, and who subsequently had a personal encounter with Mr. Kirkland in the latter's office.

Kirkland Issues Statement.

Mr. Kirkland sent out the following statement:

"I want the judges and lawyers with whom I have practiced for the last ten years to know that the confidence they repose in me is justified. I cannot ignore this attempt of a discharged employe to break down with irresponsible statements the reputation it has taken me years to build. I shall ask the Chicago Bar association to institute immediately a thorough investigation of the charges on which the state's attorney says the indictments are based."

More than a year ago Lynch's charges were made and investigated by the two interests concerned in any alleged swindle of the company's profits—the officers of the company and the corporation counsel of the city of Chicago, to which 55 per cent of the company's profits revert.

Hoyne Explains Charges.

The indictments technically charge the operation of a confidence game and larceny. Mr. Hoyne issued a statement in which he said that Lynch charged Kirkland with collecting money from the company for services he did not render, by presenting bills for the signing of bonds in cases which never existed and for charging a full day's fee for a legal holiday. Mr. Hoyne said the specific dates of the alleged offenses were Dec. 2, 1910, $853; Jan. 3, 1911, $870; Feb. 6, 1911, $876; and March 1, 1911, $862.

"There are many cases of irregularities," the prosecutor said. "According to Lynch between the two they obtained close to $60,000 in six years. It appears Kirkland would prepare bills for legal services, containing items of service which were never performed and charges for money paid out which was never paid out. Lynch says that some of these bills were O. K.'d by him and then the money divided equally by Kirkland and him.

"Most of Lynch's share of the money was deposited in his bank account to his credit by Kirkland after the latter had passed the checks which had been procured by Lynch from the treasurer of the company."

Car Officials Absolve Him.

The satisfaction expressed by the company's officials with the integrity of Kirkland and their suspicions of the charges by Lynch were reiterated yesterday by the president, the general counsel, the chairman of the board of directors, and the general manager of the Chicago Railways company, for which Mr. Kirkland is still trying cases.

After an investigation in which the company turned over all of the Kirkland vouchers to the city, Corporation Counsel W. H. Sexton more than a year ago turned the matter over to the city controller and the supervising engineers.

"Dwight McKay, at that time one of my assistants and now an assistant state's attorney, investigated Lynch's assertions," Mr. Sexton said. "His report was completed by Assistant Corporation Counsel Nicholas Michaels, who submitted it to the city controller, who turned it over to the board of supervising engineers. Since the matter is now in the hands of the state's attorney I have nothing more to say about it."

Cleared in Third Investigation.

Lynch's charges came up for a third investigation when the board of supervising engineers handed the report to W. W. Gurley, general counsel for the car company. The matter had been previously investigated by the company when Lynch made his charges direct to them.

"Lynch made the charges to me about a year ago," Attorney Gurley said, "but knowing of his bitter feeling toward Kirkland I gave little or no importance to them. I turned the whole matter over to the claim department for investigation. After an investigation J. R. Guilliams, the head of the claim department, reported to me that the vouchers were satisfactory and that he could find no foundation for Lynch's charges.

"Not being in active touch with the department under which Mr. Kirkland is retained, I asked Mr. Guilliams if his department was satisfied with Mr. Kirkland's work or had any doubt as to his honesty. Mr. Guilliams said he was completely satisfied and declared that Mr. Kirkland's integrity was beyond question. So Mr. Kirkland is still trying cases for the company and we have every confidence in him.

No Frauds Discovered.

"Six or eight cases which Lynch alleged were fraudulent were investigated by us and found all right and explanations of them sent to the corporation counsel.

"Last month Mr. Arnold of the board of supervising engineers showed us a communication to the city controller from Assistant Corporation Counsel Michaels. This communication, while not specifying any cases, was to the effect that these vouchers were not satisfactory and bore evidence of being in part at least erroneous and in need of explanation, adding that they were suspicious in their character. Our claim department has asked Mr. Michaels for his data for investigation."

Mr. Gurley, John M. Roach, president of the company; Henry A. Blair, chairman of the board of directors, and Williston Fish, general manager, were subpœnaed before the grand jury in the afternoon. They were not aware that Mr. Hoyne had already announced the return of the indictments. All officers of the company expressed the highest confidence in Mr. Kirkland and attributed Lynch's charges to personal animosity.

Kirkland Calls Charges Absurd.

"The charges are ridiculous," said Mr. Kirkland at night. "For more than a year this man, whom I caused to be discharged because I mistrusted him and whom I threw out of my office because of his habits, has been trying both with the city and with the company to make some trouble for me. His charges have been investigated repeatedly and proven groundless. Those who have investigated them are satisfied.

"Mr. Guilliams will tell you he discharged Lynch two and a half years ago because he lacked confidence in him. In the claim department he was considered maliciously cunning and subsequent events have borne out the belief.

"In the first place $60,000 is almost twice as much as the sum total of all money received by me or my firm for the work transacted by us while Lynch was there. I think that our firm has received about $28,000 for our services and we try an average of five cases a day and sometimes as high as ten.

Tells of Holiday Fees.

"About my charging a fee for a day which happened to be a legal holiday, I will say that all lawyers frequently do that when preparation work is necessary in a case and the preparation must be done on a day when there is no court. In cases where the work has started early in the morning until late at night, I have charged at the rate of six hour days, all of which is perfectly understood by the company.

"The charge that money was collected for services in cases that never existed, I will say that the claim department of the company has not only a file but the stenographic record of every one of the cases, and they can easily be produced."

Symmes Blames Hoyne.

Thomas J. Symmes, law partner of Mr. Kirkland, flatly attributed the return of the indictments to revenge on the part of the state's attorney for the activity of Mr. Kirkland and his firm in the return of two of Hoyne's detectives to Michigan on charges of kidnaping and false arrest.

"I believe the action against Mr. Kirkland," said Mr. Symmes "was the result of the connection of our firm in the Flannigan and Carlin cases. In that matter we represented State's Attorney Osterhaus of Ottawa county, Mich. We represented him at Springfield and in Chicago, and forced Mr. Hoyne to give up the two men who were wanted on serious charges on the other side of the lake."

CLAIMS TITLE TO PICTURES

Attorney Tells Plan for Saving Hogarths to De Luxe Creditors

CALLS SALE A CONTRACT.

Says Purchase by Californian Gives Title to Trustee.

Plans for conserving to the creditors of the bankrupt de luxe book and art firm of Tomlinson-Humes, Inc., the twelve Hogarth paintings, for which the firm tried to stick former United States Senator W. A. Clark for $480,000, were announced yesterday by Michael Gesas, attorney for the trustee.

The paintings originally were sold by the company to Eli P. Clark, a Los Angeles multimillionaire, for $125,000, but a condition in the sale provided that Clark would lose title to the paintings if the company found another purchaser willing to pay $480,000. Attorney Gesas contends this made the sale to the California Clark a conditional contract.

Executed in Illinois.

"We further represent," reads the petition filed with Frank L. Wean, referee in bankruptcy, "that the contract was executed in Illinois and that the laws of Illinois construe said contract as being a conditional sales contract. It is therefore absolutely void as against a trustee in bankruptcy, and the title of the pictures is therefore vested in your petitioner, Frank M. McKey, trustee of the estate."

Further the petition says: "On Sept. 11 of this year Eli P. Clark, through his agent, without notice to Mr. McKey and without warrant or right, and also as your petitioner is advised, by means of a fraudulent order, directed William Clark and his agents to ship the pictures to E. P. Clark's home in Los Angeles. They were so delivered."

Western Attorneys to Sue.

It is known that Trustee McKey has entered negotiations with Los Angeles attorneys to have them start suits there against Mr. Clark with a view to recovering the paintings. His petition asks that the western attorneys be instructed to proceed.

Merrill struck him in the eye.

"WETS" BLAMED FOR CLOSED CITY

Churchman Asserts Association of Commerce Kept 'Dry' Convention Out.

SESSIONS GO TO OHIO.

Baptist Congress Urged to Help Make Gathering a Success Despite Hostility.

In a report of the temperance committee of the Baptist church presented yesterday at the Baptists' state convention in session at the First church, the Chicago Association of Commerce was accused of knuckling to the liquor interests. The report was submitted by the Rev. M. P. Boynton, pastor of the Lexington Avenue Baptist church, chairman of the committee.

Blames "Untiring Watch."

"To show the persistent and untiring watchfulness of the liquor interests," reads the report, "I call your attention to this bit of inside history. Chicago was prepared to extend the invitation for this jubilee convention and had assurance from the committee of the Association of Commerce that coöperation would be given in securing the hall for the meetings and getting favorable rates from the downtown hotels. It was said by these people a convention of 5,000 was well worth their coöperation, and if we could bring 20,000 it would be that much more attractive.

"With these assurances tentative arrangements were made for the greatest convention hall in the west, but suddenly the whole situation changed. No satisfactory response could be obtained from the Association of Commerce.

Thinks Brewers Guilty.

"It is generally rumored the brewers and distillers who hold membership in the Association of Commerce opened their windows and chilled the fervor that had up to then been shown. Thus the Association of Commerce is on record as refusing to coöperate in bringing to the city the twentieth jubilee of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

"It would be interesting to throw over in comparison with this situation the help and encouragement this same Association of Commerce may have given the brewers' convention held in Chicago. It behooves Chicago temperance people to support the national convention at Columbus."

POSTER HERALDS TEXAS BRIDE.

Announces Coming of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Masters from Houston on Honeymoon.

A poster in box car type arrived in THE TRIBUNE office by mail last night to announce that Francis W. Masters of Houston, Texas, was coming to the Auditorium Annex with a recently annexed wife. The Congress hotel clerk insisted, however, the bridegroom not yet had registered. The poster intimates in nine inch type that the Masters are on their honeymoon, he being a "notorious bad man from the plains" who should be "played strong" and charged "top prices" and is good for "$1 tips." The bell hops are looking up Michigan avenue for the bright lights.

When Lieut. No sooner had they started to remove the shackles than the police dashed up in answer to a riot call and twelve policemen strode into the front room. When the lieutenant explained that he just had married Miss Winifred Owen of 6621 Rhodes avenue, each policeman took a chunk of the wedding cake and did a highland fling out to the patrol wagon at the curb.

FINDS GERM NOTE HARMLESS

Dr. Fischer Thinks Bacilli No More Perilous than Gelatin.

SEVERAL CLEWS FOLLOWED.

Arrest May Be Made Soon, According to Inspector Stuart.

The germs in the "Bacilli Blackmail" letters, which caused considerable alarm in the homes of Chicago society women, yesterday were found to be nothing more harmful than the gelatin in which they were contained.

Dr. Charles E. M. Fischer of the Columbus laboratories made a final report yesterday.

"Those germs are the most harmless things in the bacilli kingdom," Dr. Fischer said. "A wagonload of them should not cause any person any fear. Those letters which women of wealth have received probably were written by a crank or an insane person on the subject of germs."

Stuart Works All Day.

Gen. James E. Stuart, inspector in charge of the postoffice department, worked all day on several clews, but he said none of them had proved successful. A man and a woman believed to know something about the letters were questioned, but the inspector refused to give their names.

They were questioned separately in the office of Gen. Stuart and left with deputy inspectors.

"I have nothing I can reveal at this time," Gen. Stuart said. "No arrests have been made, but one is expected at almost any time. I am expecting the capture of a man and woman—one a medical school graduate and the other an expert typist.

"I am convinced the letters were the work of a crank, perhaps insane on the particular subject of germs.

Three Women Blackmailed.

"So far I have the names of three women who have received letters from the same pair. There is no debutante that I know of who received a letter. Mrs. Steele turned her letter over to me. Mrs. Rosenwald received a letter, but it has not been turned over to me. The other woman was on the list for $24,000 which the authors of the letter said should be placed in Grant park. That's all I can say about the case at this time."

URGES LIGHTS ON NORTH SHORE TO SAVE GIRLS FROM ATTACKS.

Protective League Says Thirty Young Women Recently Have Been Accosted in Highland Park Alone.

A lighting system along the lake front extending from Wilmette to Highland Park yesterday was advocated by Howard Moore, superintendent of the North Shore Juvenile Protective association, who sent letters to the village boards of Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe, and Highland Park.

"The darkness along the lake shore," Mr. Moore said, "has been made a cover for all manner of vice. Residents along the lake bluff have told me of hearing the foulest sort of language and of indescribable indecencies which occur at night."

Mr. Moore cited thirty-two instances of young women having been attacked while on the lake shore of Highland Park.

He made two recommendations: A continuous police patrol along the shore, or a lighting system, which is preferred, because the cost would be less.

KEEP RIGHT ON SHIVERING.

Prof. Cox Declares Chilly Weather Will Continue Today and Tomorrow—More Rain Promised.

Two more chilly days are on the weather schedule for Chicago. The cool wave will be accompanied by the usual drizzle of rain, according to Prof. Henry M. Cox. Snow may take the place of the rain, however. Fair weather is expected at the end of the week, but not much change in temperature is promised. Brisk winds will accompany the low temperature.

BEACH BLOOMERS WON FOR WOMAN?

Council Committee Considers Request of Fair Bathers to Doff Skirts at Lake.

HEAR EXPERTS' LETTERS.

Dr. Rosalie Ladova, Arrested for Wearing 'Free and Easy,' Victorious in Discussion.

Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova won the first skirmish yesterday in her fight for an ordinance permitting women to bathe at public beaches in bloomers.

Since she was arrested last summer at a Jackson park beach for doffing her skirt at the edge of the water and taking a long swim with her nether limbs clad in bloomers and stockings she calmly has waited for her chance to advance her campaign. The chance came with a meeting of the city council committee on health, to which had been referred her protest against her arrest.

Other women appeared with her, and she presented letters from swimming instructors supporting her demands. There was some slight indication of disagreement with her, but a subcommittee, composed of Ald. George Pretzel, Ald. Jacob A. Freund, and Ald. Thomas D. Nash, was appointed to consider her plea.

Argues Moral Point.

Harry H. Hindman, athletic instructor at the University of Wisconsin, wrote that skirts hamper women swimmers, but Norman C. B. Cox, swimming director at the Chicago Athletic association, did not stop there. He argued the moral point, urging the skirts and stockings are not needed on the basis that "half concealment" has a psychological effect on the human mind; but he held that white, gray, and yellow suits of thin material should be prohibited.

"I have tried swimming in a woman's full skirt," wrote Dr. H. H. Hayes, chairman of the arrangements committee for the international swimming races last summer, "and I am of the opinion it is almost impossible to learn to swim properly in such an outfit."

Cites Wide Discussion.

Dr. Ladova told the committee her arrest had started a wide discussion, that it had been taken up by a large number of women's clubs, and that even the foreign papers had discussed it. In her argument she contended bathing beaches should not be used for "sociability"; one should bathe and go home. Sun baths, she said, should be taken before swimming and the women should be kept in a walled inclosure during this process.

"This is the effect of the double standard of morality," she said. "If men are allowed to wear tights, why shouldn't women be?"

Ald. Nash was the most outspoken opponent of Dr. Ladova's plan, but he was put on the subcommittee because of Chairman Willis O. Nance's ruling that one bachelor should act with the two others who are married.

ASSAULTS WOMEN; FINED $3.

Highland Park Tailor, Accused of Roughly Treating Mrs. W. M. Lovell and Kicking Daughter, to Appeal.

Michael Walak, Highland Park tailor, tried on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. F. P. Knapp and her mother, Mrs. W. M. Lovell, was found guilty last night and fined $3 by a jury. He will appeal the case.

Mrs. Lovell went to Walak's shop Sept. 30, it is charged, complaining the tailor had torn a coat while cleaning it. She was roughly treated, according to the testimony, and her daughter, who came to her defense, was kicked in the breast and shoulder, and slammed against the door.

James F. Kelley, a witness, testified to the attack.

MINE OWNERS ASK "BLUE SKY" LAWS

All States Will Be Urged to Give Protection to Investors in Stocks.

OPPOSES SHERMAN ACT.

Van Hise Says Co-operation Is Needed to Prevent Waste of Resources.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—A resolution, offered by Sidney Norman of Washington, was adopted at this afternoon's session of the American Mining congress convention in this city, which refers to the "dishonest operations of the financially powerful" as a great menace to the mining industry.

Through this resolution, the congress went on record as favoring the institution of uniform laws in all states that will provide protection to minority stockholders, by making directors more definitely responsible for their welfare and constituting infraction of such laws a felony, punishable by imprisonment.

Opposes Federal Control.

An attack on federal control over coal lands and water rights was made by United States Senator John F. Shafroth of Colorado, former governor of that state, in an address before the convention.

Senator Shafroth's address, which was interrupted several times by applause, was directed particularly against government ownership of 9,425,000 acres of coal lands in Colorado, valued, he said, at from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. The lands thus held, he said, are exempt from taxation for county, state, or school purposes.

He urged the sale of these lands to citizens or to corporations for $400 an acre, but believed they would not be worth so much.

Van Hise Hits Sherman Law.

Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, arraigned the Sherman anti-trust law tonight as the one agency more responsible than any other for appalling waste in mining and consequent grand larceny from future generations of a portion of their inheritance of natural resources.

To remedy the evil, he continued, an interstate trade commission should be fashioned, with broad powers like those of the interstate commerce commission, to regulate cooperation in industry. Monopoly should be prohibited, but business men should be permitted to fix prices, divide territory, and curtail output within reasonable limits.

NAVAL CRUISE AIMS TO SHOW U. S. WAR STRENGTH TO WORLD?

Departure of Nine Battleships on Saturday for Mediterranean Believed More than Trip for Courtesy.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Unusual interest is manifest in official circles in plans for the departure from Hampton Roads on Saturday of two divisions of the Atlantic fleet, comprising nine battleships, for a cruise to the Mediterranean.

This is to be a courtesy cruise, but it is being pointed out here that incidentally it will direct the attention of the world to two important facts—that American battleships in actual service are prepared to hold their own against any navy afloat except that of Great Britain, and that because of its geographical advantages the United States can dispatch its dreadnoughts 3,000 miles from one shores without uneasiness.

In addition to their present crews the battleships will carry 1,500 men from the naval training station on the great lakes. Ammunition, coal, and supplies are being loaded in great quantities, today's consignment of provisions for the shipments including 40,000 pounds of fresh beef and 12,000 dozen eggs.

MOTHER RETELLS STORY OF 15 YEAR OLD DAUGHTER'S RUIN.

Mrs. Rosentiel in Freeport Trial Accuses Dr. B. A. Arnold—More Obscene Letters Introduced.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—A dramatic scene was enacted before the jury in Judge Landis' court today in the trial of Dr. Benjamin A. Arnold, charged with mailing obscene letters to Miss Alta Rosenstial, a farmer's daughter living near Scioto Mills. Mrs. Sofia Rosenstiel, the girl's mother, took the witness stand for the government and told of the alleged assault on her daughter by Dr. Arnold.

The witness told how Dr. Arnold, the trusted family physician for years, had taken advantage of the mother's absence in the summer kitchen to commit the alleged crime while the girl lay in bed convalescent from an operation for appendicitis.

The government today succeeded in presenting in evidence two additional obscene letters received by the Rosenstiels. This makes six letters now before the jury.

REFUSES JOB AS CONTROLLER

E. N. Hurley Declines Appointment; Steward Next in Line.

FOSTER BEATEN BY TRADE.

Loses Porto Rico Governorship by Lewis Deal with James.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—E. N. Hurley of Chicago today declined a tentative offer of the position of controller of the currency.

Secretary McAdoo today informed Senator Lewis that he intended to give the controllership to an Illinois man. As the senator had indorsed Hurley for the place, the secretary suggested he telegraph him to come to Washington immediately to talk over the situation. Senator Lewis did so, but Mr. Hurley replied that while he had consented to become a candidate several months ago, he had entered into business engagements since then which will prevent him from considering the place. On receipt of this wire Senator Lewis asked Secretary McAdoo to hold the place open for a few days that he might decide on some other candidate.

Steward Has Inside Track.

Hurley's self-elimination leaves William Deering Steward of Plano as the leading candidate from Illinois. Steward is president of the Independent Harvester company, chief competitor of the harvester trust. There are 37,000 stockholders in the Independent concern, all of them farmers, and all have indorsed Steward.

The Plano man also has the indorsement of about half the leading bankers of Chicago and shared the indorsement of the Illinois Manufacturers' association with Hurley.

Foster Beaten Out of Job.

The informal tender of the controllership to Hurley brought to light the method by which Congressman Foster of Olney lost the position of governor of Porto Rico. Several weeks ago it was understood that Foster was to get the place. Then it was announced at the White House that Dr. Arthur Yeager of Georgetown, Ky., had been selected.

Senator James of Kentucky was sponsor for Yeager. James also had a candidate for controller of the currency. Senator Lewis was backing Hurley for the controllership and Foster for the governorship. One day Senator James came to him and said he particularly desired to land the governorship for Yeager and promised if Lewis would aid him in doing that he would assist Lewis in landing the controllership. The agreement was made, with the result that Yeager was named and today Lewis was tendered the controllership for Hurley.

SURGEON INSTEAD OF PRISON, NEW PLAN OF MICHIGAN JUDGE.

Benton Harbor Jurist Says He Has Tried Experiment and Proved It to Be Successful.

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—A radical departure in the handling of abnormal criminals and degenerates was announced here today from the bench by Circuit Judge Bridgman. He declared that henceforth such unfortunates, instead of being sentenced to prison, would be sent to the operating table.

Judge Bridgman said he has already tried out his plan in the case of a young woman charged with moral degeneracy. The Chicago surgeon corrected her immoral tendency, he said.

CONTROL EVILS IN KANSAS CITY

Board of Public Welfare Keeps Close Watch and Institutes Reforms.

F. P. WALSH, ORIGINATOR.

Chief Mission of Commission Is to Guard Interests of Poor and Downtrodden.

was that there should be no men at all in the workhouse.

The municipal farm was the result. It is a large place, 150 acres, ten miles or so into the country, where recreative outdoor work is given to such delinquent men as it is believed inadvisable to parole. The earnings of prisoners with destitute families are turned over to the wives and children who are in need. The city paid for the farm and erected suitable buildings. The workhouse as such ceased to exist.

One of the farm's "alumni" wrote back recently with such affection for the farm as a man might show for his college. His course there had straightened him up and he had gone west and made good. It is a typical case.

The pardon and parole work of the board disclosed a huge opportunity for social service which the ordinance that created the board did not permit it to perform. After a little more than a year in its restricted field a new ordinance reorganized the board under the name of the board of public welfare. Its membership was increased from three to five, and besides its parole and pardon power it was given complete control of all the city penal institutions and full supervision of all public charities and social work.

THAT the scope of the board's activities constantly broadened was due largely to William Volker, merchant and humanitarian, who was president from the beginning until 1911 and still is an active supporter of the board. Whenever money has been needed it has been supplied from mysterious sources. No one in authority has permission to say a word of where it came from, but it is known that these gifts have come almost entirely out of Mr. Volker's private fortune.

And Mr. Walsh stood by the board as counselor and attorney, and Jacob Billikopf, superintendent of the United Jewish Charities, has been a member and the expert sociologist of the board since its foundation. All of them have worked without pay.

THE board's welfare loan agency started about two and a half years ago. Up to April it had lent $120,000 at a nominal interest rate—about one fifth that charged by the usual loan agencies and pawnshops—and paid a dividend of 4 per cent. Loan sharks are the only persons who lose by the innovation.

The free legal aid bureau gives free legal aid to those who cannot afford to pay for it. In the last year the agency has collected about $10,000 in sums ranging from 50 cents to $5, mostly owed for wages. These small sums never would have been paid, for the washerwomen, hired girls, and others who are often cheated out of their money would have had no way to collect it. This bureau also has brought back more than a hundred wife deserters, who have resumed the support of their families with a little help.

A set of rules is imposed by the board on every public dance hall, and inspectors are present to see that they are obeyed. If a dance hall keeper does not cooperate his place is closed. Agents of the board personally visited in a year the homes of 270 young girls who have been found in dance halls unchaperoned and without proper escorts. Only about a dozen of the parents of such girls, it was found, knew that their daughters frequented such places.

THE research bureau of the board is engaged in the investigation of general community problems. Surveys of housing, of unemployment, of the industrial conditions of men and women in factories and mercantile establishments, and of the social evil have been completed in the last two years.

One of the results of this investigation has been a new and much improved housing code, and an event which doubtless was hastened by it was the definite and apparently final closing less than two weeks ago of every "red light" house in Kansas City.

The poorest and most neglected parts of the city, where bad housing and unwholesome surroundings exist, are divided into districts, with one superintendent in charge of each. These superintendents have immediate direction of housing investigations, of city prisoners who are paroled and live in their districts, and in general of efforts which are made to counteract the evil influences of bad environment.

FOR the last two or three years the budget of the board has approximated $130,000 a year. Its expenses met with other means have run as high as $150,000.

A hint of the popularity of the board may be had in an incident just before the beginning of the last fiscal year. The city had been running behind in its finances and Mayor Jost proposed to retrench in the welfare board's apportionment. The board had asked for a larger apportionment than the previous year, and the mayor suggested, on the contrary, that it be cut to $100,000. There was indignant protest on all sides, and the board got its $130,000.

It is the common feeling that for every dollar expended by the board the city receives several times that value. The tenement house commission supports that contention. The commission cost $5,800, and it caused $15,000 of improvements to be placed on the houses of the poor. The parole system, it is believed, has saved the city more than all the work of the board has cost. The free legal aid bureau has collected for needy families many thousand dollars more than its cost. The free employment bureau likewise has gotten positions for men whose wages and salaries have aggregated annually several times what the bureau costs.

WOMAN WHO BETRAYED BANDIT SUED FOR DIVORCE BY HUSBAND

Belle Hastings, Friend of Robert Webb and Frank Madia, Made Defendant in Court.

An echo of the operations of the Webb automobile robbers came yesterday when Clara Belle Hastings was sued for divorce by her husband, Joseph Hastings. Belle Hastings was named as the sweetheart of Robert Webb in the trial of the highwayman for the murder of Policeman Peter M. Hart. Hastings adduced from the evidence at the trial that his wife, in addition to being intimate with Webb, was also friendly with Frank Madia, an automobile dealer.

Webb is serving a life sentence and Madia is under indictment for buying stolen property.

Frederick W. Walters, sales manager for the Charles G. Stevens company, was sued by Mrs. Walters yesterday for separate maintenance. Mrs. Walters asks the custody of the child she expects in a few days. She alleges that her husband receives a salary of $11,000 a year and asks an injunction against the Stevens company to prevent them from paying Walters his salary and the percentage of the profits.

OBJECTS TO 'WINK' BY FUNK JUDGE

Attorney for Stiefel Charges Jurist with Making Sly Fun of Him.

PAM DENIES HE "SNIFFED"

Three Clashes Between Court and Counsel Follow Jawbreaker Questions to Veniremen.

The so-called "educational test," more popularly known as the "baiting" of jurors, started three clashes yesterday between Judge Hugo Pam and Joseph R. Burres, attorney for Isaac Stiefel, a private detective on trial with Attorney Daniel Donahoe for conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk.

Attempts of attorneys for the defense to get allegations that Judge Pam had winked into the record formed the subject matter of one of the tilts, and the disputes between court and counsel were read into the record, which is the probable reason for the precipitation of trouble, according to courtroom observers.

The status of the jury remains the same as at the close of Tuesday's session. Eight men have been sworn and two tentatively accepted by both sides, one of the latter being a change from Tuesday's lineup.

The result of the clash over the alleged "educational test" was that Judge Pam took pains to explain by context the meaning of some of the jawbreaking legal terms propounded by counsel for the defense to determine a juror's fitness.

Objects to Court's "Winking."

The second clash arose during the examination of another juror who had served under the late Judge Tuley, to whom Mr. Burres referred with the appellation of "beloved" with strong emphasis on the adjective.

"I had my attention called to the fact that your honor looked at Mr. Bell and Mr. Barnhart [assistant state's attorneys] and certain other parties and winked when I referred to the 'beloved Judge Tuley,'" Mr. Burres said to the court. "Your honor looked toward the prosecuting attorneys and sniffed."

"I do not know whether you are trying to put into the record things that have no place there," Judge Pam said. "If you are, you are going to get into trouble, Mr. Burres. I want to tell you now that with reference to the 'beloved Judge Tuley' you have no right to eulogize this gentleman by passing favorable remarks. Furthermore, I don't think I sniffed."

Prosecutor Denies Seeing Wink.

Assistant State's Attorney Bell denied the court had looked at him and sniffed, and Judge Pam continued, addressing Mr. Burres:

"You are getting a fair trial, Mr. Burres, and I expect counsel to be fair."

The attorney assented, and the judge inquired the identity of the intercepter of the wink and sniff. He proved to be a clerk in Burres' office—Edward Horschler—who maintained he saw a wink directed at a newspaper man and another spectator. Both impugned the veracity of the law clerk. Horschler, who has sat daily at one side of the courtroom, was ordered to hereafter sit in front of the bench.

CHICAGO PYTHIAN DEFEATED IN RACE FOR OUTER GUARD.

Arthur Johnson Loses to Smith L. von Fossen of Beardstown at Decatur Meeting of Illinois Grand Lodge.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Smith L. von Fossen of Beardstown defeated Arthur Johnson of Chicago for grand outer guard of the Illinois grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias on the third ballot this afternoon. Henry P. Caldwell of Chicago was reelected for the thirty-seventh time as keeper of records and seals. It was rumored he would have opposition, and several Pythians hurried here, only to see him elected by acclamation.

William G. Edens of Chicago was reelected grand representative, along with John J. Brown of Vandalia. Officers elected were:

Grand chancellor—William K. Whitfield, Decatur.
Grand vice chancellor—Thomas Williamson, Edwardsville.
Grand prelate—Augustus A. Partlow, Danville.
Grand keeper of record and seals—Henry P. Caldwell, Chicago.
Grand master of exchequer—Millard F. Dunlap, Jacksonville.
Grand master at arms—John J. Reeve, Jacksonville.
Grand inner guard—Walter C. Hayes, Belvidere.
Grand outer guard—Smith L. von Fossen, Beardstown.

Chicago was chosen as the place for holding the golden jubilee next year.

NEGRO HELD IN JOLIET AS SUSPECT IN LEEGSON MURDER.

Copper Colored Man Giving Name of William Seward Cox Awaits Action by Chicago Police.

A negro answering in a general way the description of the man seen with Miss Ida G. Leegson on the evening she was murdered was arrested yesterday at Joliet and is being held by the authorities of that city pending the receipt of definite word from Chicago that he is not the man wanted.

The man gave the name of William Seward Cox, and has been hanging around saloons in Joliet for several days.

The police attached some significance to this statement, but later satisfied themselves that Cox was not the Leegson murderer. He told conflicting stories, however, and he is being held in the belief that he committed some crime in Chicago.

Throws Mystery Around His Age.

"Johnny" Hand, veteran bandmaster, has discarded his "plug" hat. On Saturday he says he will celebrate his "eighty-sixth" birthday in gray felt headpiece. Last year he celebrated his eighty-second birthday. Mystery: How old is he?

BRITISH WILL REDEEM LAND

Lloyd-George Gives More Details of Proposed Scheme.

NEW BOARD TO CONTROL.

Neglected Tracts Will Be Reclaimed by Government Funds.

SWINDON, England, Oct. 22.—Further details of the government's land campaign were given here today by Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd-George. He reiterated that it was his object to "free British land from landlordism and get the people back on it."

"The two purposes which the Liberal government has set for itself are to attract and retain the rural population on the land and to devise means to develop both the quantity and quality of the total agricultural production of the British Isles," he said. "Everything will be subordinated to the attainment of these two objects.

"As the first step, it is purposed to establish a ministry of lands, with control and supervision of all questions dealing with the users of land both in town and country. The functions of the present board of agriculture will be transferred to the new ministry.

Take Land Out of Chancery.

"The government intends to take the land out of chancery. The new ministry will operate through commissioners, who will act in a judicial capacity and have power to reduce rents.

"The new ministry of lands is to be given full power to acquire at a reasonable price all waste, derelict, and neglected tracts of land and to plant them with forests and to reclaim and drain the springs on such land with a view to their cultivation to the full limit of their possibilities.

Fair Wage for Laborers.

"The establishment of a fair minimum wage for laborers with reasonable hours of work, decent housing, and the prospect of the laborer obtaining a bit of land for himself will all be within the scope of the powers of the commissioners, who will have authority to fix the price of land in the case of compulsory acquisition.

"The government proposes to remedy the grave deficiency of cottages in the country by building some themselves with state funds—and we have got a nice little fund at hand—the insurance reserve fund."

ROOSEVELT DRAWS ARGENTINE WRATH

Colonel Misquoted as Saying Brazil Should Dominate South America.

DENIAL IS CORROBORATED

Ex-President Honor Guest at Breakfast Given by Ruler at Rio Janeiro.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 22.—Accounts cabled here from Bahia of Col. Roosevelt's utterances in a speech delivered there several days ago have aroused animosity among the people of the Argentine republic. Col. Roosevelt is quoted as having said that "the United States must be paramount in North America, and Brazil in South America, since they are the richest and greatest countries on the continent."

Col. Roosevelt cabled today from Rio Janeiro a denial that he used the words attributed to him. The correspondent of La Prenso of Buenos Aires at Bahia cables that the expression which has stirred the anger of the Argentines was not in the colonel's speech at all, but was part of an editorial in the speech in the Correio da Manha.

The correspondent adds that what the colonel said was that the United States and Brazil were conveniently situated to impose peace on the world.

Brazil President Entertains Colonel.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 22.—Col. Roosevelt devoted the morning hours today to a visit to the Supreme court and a breakfast at the Cattete palace, given in his honor by President Marshal Hermes Fonseca. Col. Roosevelt sat at the right of the president. The American ambassador, Edwin V. Morgan, was at his left.

The breakfast was attended by the cabinet ministers, the presidents of the senate, and the chamber of deputies, the judges of the Supreme court, the mayor of Rio Janeiro, and members of the municipal council and various other public officials.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Margaret Roosevelt, accompanied by several members of their party, paid a visit to Fao de Acucar, the ascent of the mountain being made by the aerial railroad.

Visits Brazil Military College.

Col. Roosevelt visited the military college in the afternoon, where he was greeted by the minister of war and the directors. Toasts were exchanged and an inspection of the buildings followed. Later the ex-president spoke before the Young Men's Christian association. The attendance was large and the speaker was given a cordial reception.

In the evening Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt and several members of their party attended the Russian ballets at the Municipal theater.

COLUMBUS' BONES ON EXHIBIT.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, Oct. 22.—The bones of Christopher Columbus, now in the cathedral here, will be sent to the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco as part of the Dominican republic's exhibit, according to plans announced today.

DEAL AS TO SEAMEN'S BILL?

Democrats' Votes May Be Payment for La Follette's Tariff Aid.

BURTON PROTESTS PASSAGE.

Says It Would Repeal Treaties and Insult Foreign Powers.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—A curious illustration of "how legislation is made" is furnished by the decision of senate Democrats to support the La Follette seamen's bill, now pending in the senate.

It appears the Democrats are behind Senator La Follette in this matter as the result of an agreement made with him before the tariff bill was passed.

Baltimore Platform Violated.

Recognizing that if La Follette voted for the tariff bill they would receive an indorsement of great political value, the Democratic leaders approached him and suggested if he would vote for the measure they would be disposed to assist him in getting through such legislation as he desired, which was in contravention of the Baltimore platform.

La Follette replied, according to the gossip at the capitol, that he would support a tariff measure reasonably satisfactory in character. He did so, and when the seamen's bill came up demanded his "pound of flesh."

Burton Calls Bill Insult.

That the bill would repeal or annul many treaties with foreign governments "in a way that is almost an insult" to certain countries was contended by Senator Burton of Ohio in the senate today.

The senator's statements were made after foreign protests against the bill had been informally considered earlier in the day by the senate committee on foreign relations.

Germany, Great Britain, France, and Belgium have made representations urging that the United States ought not to act upon any proposed shipping regulations or safety-at-sea requirements until after the international maritime conference is held at London on Nov. 12.

HERE IS MEANEST HUSBAND.

Court Takes Up Collection for Woman—Spouse Beats Her and Steals the Fund.

Mrs. Mary Kunst of 1858 North Halsted street told a story of privation that touched Judge Scully several days ago. He took a collection in the courtroom, giving the woman $10. She appeared in Judge Scully's court and said her husband had beaten her and taken the money away from her. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

EATON PROSECUTION CLOSES; WIDOW'S SON-IN-LAW ON STAND

Daughter's Husband Asserts Defendant Told His Wife She Would "Go Down and Look After the Admiral."

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 22.—The evidence with which the prosecution expects to convict Mrs. Jennie May Eaton of the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was practically concluded today when the government rested its case.

Most of the evidence today dealt with statements said to have been made by the defendant in letters and conversation regarding the admiral's alleged habit of dabbling with poisons and his alleged susceptibility where women were concerned.

The last witness, Ralph P. Keyes, husband of Mrs. Eaton's older daughter, June, testified that he once heard Mrs. Eaton tell his wife that the admiral had put away more than 100 men on his ship at one time by means of poison.

June also said, according to her husband's testimony, that the admiral asked her whether she cared if her mother and her husband were put out of the way.

"I'll have to go down and look after him," was Mrs. Eaton's comment in reply to June's story, as Keyes heard it.

Keyes testified that Mrs. Eaton went to Assinippi the next morning. The admiral died on the following Saturday morning.

The prosecution contends that the first dose of poison was given to the admiral on Thursday.

THE MANN ACT AGAIN.

The Arthur Carey case told in a dispatch from Green Bay yesterday is another illustration of the abuse to which the Mann white slave act is liable because of its broad language. Carey was living with a woman whom he recognized as his wife and with their child whom he recognized as his. They were not formally married, because Carey did not know whether his previous wife, to whose support he contributed, had perfected divorce proceedings against him.

If she has, there is a common law marriage between his present wife and Carey. If the first wife is not divorced, Carey's offense may be, according to legal technicality, "living in a state of open and notorious adultery." Yet this is not the fact, since he has recognized his present companion and their child as his own.

By what distortion of word or thought, then, can this man be convicted as a white slaver? The woman he gave his name to acted without compulsion. There is no hint of deception. There is no question of commercial profit or intention. Carey may have been inconsiderate of the formalities of the marriage laws, and thus may be punishable under the appropriate statutes or ordinances of the state and city in which he offended. But to punish him under a white slave law is to discredit the movement against commercialized vice and give to white slavery the advantage of association with much less heinous offenses.

A PEARSONIZED POLICY.

The displeasure of the American government that Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, should have presented his credentials precipitately following the assumption of dictatorial powers by Huerta has been expressed by Ambassador Page to the British foreign office. The reply is that the policy of that office was correctly indicated by Sir Lionel Carden's act and that the minister's instructions guided him.

That disposes of the first explanation that nothing offensive to the American program had been intended. The British foreign office intends to run counter to the American plan of settlement in Mexico. President Wilson declares that no settlement with the present government of Mexico can be satisfactory to this government. The British government gives its recognition and lends its support to the present government of Mexico.

Any displeasure which is manifest in Washington is justified. The United States is expected to bring about the establishment of peace and to guarantee the security not only of Americans but of Europeans in Mexico. European nations look to the United States for that service and the task, unembarrassed by European interference, is difficult enough. The British make it much more difficult.

British policy is sufficiently indicated by the fact that the Pearson syndicate is satisfied with the Huerta administration. It may be in position to trade British recognition for Mexican favors.

British diplomacy in this instance has the odor of oil.

THE SPENCERS.

The self-confessed murderer, Spencer, is not Spencer, but Skarupa. His father, a Polish immigrant, drank himself to suicide. An only brother died by his own hand a few years later. When "Spencer" was given his first prison term a sister, broken hearted over the unfortunate turn events had taken in her family, killed herself. Another sister died of tuberculosis. The Skarupa family came from Bunker street, the heart of one of Chicago's worst family slums.

It is arguable that the murderer inherited his degeneracy. There are grounds for such a view. But this would not be looking things squarely in the face.

"Spencer's" father may have had an alcoholic strain in him before he emigrated to America. But it is just as likely that he was driven to alcohol and to suicide by the grinding toil and the cheerless home that was his lot in the new world. It is likely, we say, because this is just the thing that is happening day in and day out in the foreign quarters of this city. Thousands of Slav laborers, doing our coarsest and most hazardous work, and living in our worst tenements and hovels on the west side and elsewhere, are constantly drinking themselves to insanity, to suicide, to tuberculosis. Occasionally they drink themselves to murder.

They drink to stupefaction because it is in drink alone that they find rest from their physical exhaustion and relief from their mental pangs and worries. In the saloon, under the glare of the big electric or gas light, they find the space, and the warmth, and the cheerfulness which their homes, of two and three rooms in shacks or tenements, do not possess. They find their recreation there, their company and social life. They can find it no other way and nowhere else as cheaply and conveniently.

These men have children. They do not raise their children; the children raise themselves. During the day the father works; at night he drinks to forget his work. When he is 40 he is crippled, or is otherwise unemployable. Ten or fifteen years in front of a blast furnace unfits any man for further work. The children of these men are "Spencers" of various degrees and shades. They are born puny, weak, defective, or with a pathological strain in their makeup. But they are not beyond reclamation. For the community to turn its back upon them and dismiss them as hopeless degenerates, beyond redemption, is to steer them deliberately in the path of crime and murder.

GIVE US A CONVENTION.

The Citizens' association has come out emphatically for a constitutional convention "at the earliest practicable date as the surest means of obtaining an additional charter power for the city and as the only means of securing the power to consolidate the three municipalities" (Chicago, Cook county, sanitary district).

The council is urged to petition the governor of Illinois to call a special session of the legislature "to consider the supreme need for holding a constitutional convention."

The special council committee on charter legislation, of which Ald. Capitain is chairman, would do well to consider action on the line of the association's resolutions. The committee has been working on the theory advanced by Col. Foreman and taken up by the Association of Commerce that the line of least resistance is by way of a charter convention, but the committee consistently and wisely can take up the constitutional convention plan. It is far the better way to get a modern charter, more inclusive and more direct. We shall putter for years with piecemeal charter changes, and even after we have got all we can get by this arduous method we shall lack what we seriously need, the larger consolidations of the metropolitan district.

But Chicago ought not to look at the constitutional convention proposal from a selfish local point of view. We are citizens of the state and the state needs constitutional relief. Not only Chicago but the state has long outgrown the constitution of 1870, and while our needs may be more dramatic and urgent, they are not more real than those of the state.

THE TRIBUNE hopes, therefore, that the wide awake, progressive press and people of Illinois, regardless of party, will support the Citizens' association and demand prompt action by the legislature.

Let us have done with fighting at cross purposes.

A CASE FOR WORLD POLICE.

Mr. Edward B. Clark, the Washington correspondent of our neighbor, the Evening Post, writing from Panama, makes the startling statement:

"If the governments of Venezuela and Ecuador would spend a few thousand dollars today to stamp out yellow fever there never would be another case of the disease known to the world."

Mr. Clark speaks, doubtless, upon the best authority, and his point suggests a phase of internationalism to which we occasionally advert. What are the rights of neighboring states when a nation permits a focus of disease to continue within its borders, to the peril and loss of such neighboring states? What are the rights of the civilized world, for that matter, in such case, since the intercommunication of peoples is worldwide?

The situation in Ecuador and Venezuela would seem to offer a perfect illustration of the occasional need for what we have begun to formulate as an international police power. With the world contracting year by year, in the sense that means of communication are constantly multiplying and improving, the moral right to bring pressure to bear to compel the abatement of an international nuisance is becoming clearer.

As to Ecuador, an invitation to Col. Gorgas to clean up the pest hole, Guayaquil, was considered, but anti-Yankee sentiment was too strong. This is one of the evil results of the fear and hostility being fanned into flame against us throughout Latin America. As Mr. Clark says, "yellow fever may be bad, in a way, but from a South American viewpoint the Yankee is much worse."

This choice, however, has international consequences, and they should be impressed upon the nations responsible. But it is to be hoped the pressure will be applied by some other government than ours. Brazil, Argentina, Chile, and Peru might give a strong diplomatic hint to the offending nations.

How to Keep Well, By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

HOW TO END MALARIA.

WHEN the temperature of the atmosphere remains below 65 degrees for a while mosquitoes become inactive. Those females that are infected with malaria become harmless, for the malarial plasmodia within them fail to develop. This being true, nobody will be infected with malaria until next spring.

The malaria to keep the disease going is now stored away within human bodies. If the malarial people could become non-malarial it would not matter how many mosquitoes or frog ponds we have next spring.

When the malarial parasite gets into the blood it begins to develop young. These young are now in the asexual form of the malarial plasmodia. This asexual form causes chills and fever.

In about two weeks, when left to itself, in addition to the asexual or chills and fever form, the plasmodium also begins to develop sexual forms. The sexual forms infect mosquitoes.

The chill and fever producers, the brothers to the sexual forms, cannot infect mosquitoes. This being true, if a man would start taking quinine quickly, as soon as he got malaria, he could never infect mosquitoes.

This sexual form, when taken into a mosquito, develops into a form capable of infecting man. If it remains in the body of a man, is not sucked into a mosquito, after a few days it locates in the liver or spleen or bone marrow, where it lies dormant. Many of them die off from old age when they get to be six weeks old. These old, hardened sexual forms are not easily killed by quinine.

Now that the temperature is below 65 much of the time, the mosquito is out of it. Can anything be done to clear up the mosquito foci before spring?

Bass says: "All that is required for the complete eradication of malaria is for everybody who had malaria during a warm season to take the proper amount of quinine on each of two consecutive days in each of six consecutive weeks during the following cool season."

Suppose every person who had an attack of malaria last summer would begin in the middle of November and take twenty grains of quinine a day each Saturday and Sunday until the first of January.

If Bass is right—and Bass knows malaria as well as anybody in the world—there would be no malaria next spring and summer. There might be a few ague case subjects too much malaria soaked to be freed of the parasites by twelve treatments. Some of these would need iron and arsenic tonics and quinine continued over more than six weeks.

However, even if a moderate number of ague case people were not cleaned up, the chance that the disease would disappear would be great. The history of malaria teaches that when the foci have become few the disease tends to disappear.

KEEP ON WITH THE OIL.

Mrs. R. H, G. writes: "A great many of my friends were converted to the use of paraffin oil after reading the article in a magazine. The article said that a prominent London surgeon recommended the use of the oil, refined and purified; that its use prevented auto-intoxication; that it was not absorbed by the body. We all started its use, enthused by the claims of the article, and the results have been great. One person, a sufferer from bilious headaches, has had none since; another has lost her depression. In fact, we all swear by the paraffin. Then along you come and say of its use, 'Nothing is absolutely harmless.' We were all frightened. Now, please be explicit. We are supposed to take a dessertspoonful of the oil every night forever. It is supposed to add to our years; certainly it has added to our physical comfort. But if there's the least modicum of future harm in its continued use we want to know it. Please tell us and relieve us all."

REPLY.

A few reports of harm from imperfectly refined oil have been printed. Your attitude is wrong. To avoid everything absolutely without risk you would quit breathing, eating, sleeping, riding on the cars, going on the street, et cetera. Hazards cannot be escaped. Try to avoid the extra hazards and forget the ordinary hazards. The oil is benefiting you. Exercise care to get a good article, and use it.

HARDENING OF ARTERIES.

C. J. D. writes: "What causes hardening of the arteries? Is it curable? By what general methods, baths, or medicine? How is this trouble prevented?"

REPLY.

The tissues of young people are exceedingly elastic. The more elastic fibers of the tissues wear out more rapidly than other tissues. As they wear they are replaced by a harder, less elastic tissue, called fibrous tissue. It happens that the change from elastic to fibrous tissue in the arteries can be measured in a rough way by measuring the blood pressure. There is no satisfactory way to measure senility in the other tissues.

When a man's blood pressure indicates that his arteries are old, as measured by wear, his other tissues are also worn, though it cannot be proved.

The papers tell us of cures by radium. Maybe so, but I doubt it. To change one's method of living is more rational. While cures have a small field, the field of prevention is large.

The method? Right living; temperance in eating, drinking, working, worrying; avoiding infections and subinfections, especially avoiding rheumatism and gout.

FAKE OXYGEN TREATMENT.

S. writes: "I have become interested in an advertisement of the farador, a scientific instrument for curing ailments with oxygen. Believing that you are familiar with the invention and desiring an opinion on the subject, I address this communication to you. That you may have all the facts before you, I am inclosing extracts from the advertisement which will show you the proposition. Do you believe in the claims made for this instrument? Can oxygen get into the blood as maintained by this advertisement? Is the proposition bona fide or is it a fake?"

REPLY.

3. Fake; about the baldest I have seen.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

KING GEORGE'S appointment of the Duke of Atholl to the chancellorship of the Order of the Thistle is particularly appropriate. He is the senior member of this Scottish counterpart of the English Order of the Garter, antedating the foundation of the latter by several hundred years.

The Order of the Thistle, to which only Scotch peers belong, and of which the Duke of Atholl has been a knight for forty-five years, is said to have originated in the vision of a bright St. Andrew's cross in the heavens, seen by Achaius, king of the Scots, and Hungus, king of the Picts, while they were engaged in prayer the night before their battle with Athelstane, king of England, in the eighth century.

The thistle was chosen as part of the badge of the order, owing to its being the national floral emblem of Scotland.

James V. reorganized the order in 1540, assigning to its knights stalls in the now ruined chapel royal of Hollywood at Edinburgh.

James II., last of the Stuart kings of Great Britain, Queen Anne, and, in later years, George IV., modified its statutes. Now it has its chapel in St. Giles' cathedral at Edinburgh.

The Duke of Atholl is a splendid type of the old feudal nobility, such as survives nowhere save in certain portions of Germany or Austria and in Scotland. He enjoys several distinctions, unique not only in Great Britain, but also in Europe.

Among them is that of being permitted to maintain a fullfledged armed bodyguard, with artillery complete, about a thousand strong, composed exclusively of members of that great Murray clan of which he is the chieftain. Its regimental colors were presented to it fifty years ago by no less a personage than the late Queen Victoria on the occasion of one of her many stays at Blair Atholl, his ancestral home in Perthshire.

Another distinction, also unique, is that he owns a cathedral—namely: that of Dunkeld, also in Perthshire. The sacred edifice at Dunkeld was created a cathedral and the seat of a bishopric by King David in 1127 with the sanction of the pope, and it bears some resemblance to the cathedral of Salisbury.

Beneath the chapter house is the burial vault of the ducal house of Atholl, and within the cathedral walls rest the remains of many illustrious sons of Scotland, the most remarkable monument being that erected over the tomb of the "Wolf of Badenoch," the Earl of Buchan and Badenoch, fourth son of King Robert II.

Blair Atholl is, as far as the exterior is concerned, a hideous old place, of no architectural pretensions whatsoever. Its only remarkable feature is the incomparable double avenue of ancient elms by which it is approached.

A portion of the edifice dates back to the thirteenth century, and it is held by the Duke of Atholl from the crown by one of those strange tenures which are occasionally to be found in Great Britain, the duke being under the obligation of presenting to the sovereign a white rose whenever he or she visits the castle, under penalty of forfeiture.

The consequence is that white roses have from time immemorial been kept in bloom at Blair Atholl all the years through, so as to be ready for any sudden and unannounced visit of the monarch; though the ruler would hardly venture in these modern times to exercise his undoubted right of confiscating the castle and the huge estates if there were no white roses at hand.

Another feature of Blair Atholl, though of more modern origin, is the copper plated finial which surmounted the dome of the Mahdi's tomb at Omdurman, and which now figures on the top of one of the towers of Blair Atholl.

It was brought home from the Soudan in 1898 by the duke's eldest son, the Marquis of Tullibardine, who greatly distinguished himself under Lord Kitchener at the battle of Omdurman, and who picked up this trophy as his own particular piece of loot.

The duke, who is the only member of the house of lords to speak Gaelic with fluency, owns considerably more than 200,000 acres in Scotland, and lives almost entirely on his estates, where he has planted above 2,000,000 larches. He was the first to introduce this tree into Scotland.

He is a useful member of the British peerage, beloved by all his people on his extensive estates, for whose moral and material welfare he considers himself responsible.

His mother was one of the favorite ladies and most intimate confidantes of the late Queen Victoria. He himself was a boyhood friend of Edward VII. and was with him at the university.

His wife, who died about ten years ago, and to whom he was devoted, was perhaps the most beautiful of the daughters of the late Sir Thomas Moncreiffe. The others include the now Dowager Countess of Dudley, Helen, Lady Forbes of Newe, and Lady Muir Mackenzie of Delvine.

Blair Atholl has been subjected to many sieges since the thirteenth century, notably during the civil war, when Cromwell's men blew up a portion of it with gunpowder.

Half a century later it was held for King James II. against William of Orange, while in 1745, its last experience of war, it was held for King George II. against a force of Highlanders true to the cause of the Young Pretender and headed by no less a personage than Lord George Murray, younger son of the first Duke of Atholl and father of the third duke.

It is worthy of notice that in all these Jacobite risings and also in nearly every one of the great wars and rebellions in Scotland, there were as many Murrays serving on the one side as on the other.

This has been set down as a characteristic trait of Murray prudence and Scotch canniness; and it is thanks to this that the family estate invariably escaped confiscation to the crown.

The family of the Duke of Atholl, and likewise his entire clan of Murrays, are descended from one Freskine, a Dutchman, who came over to Scotland some 800 years ago and secured possession of extensive lands in Moray.

His grandson was known as Sir Malcolm de Moravia, or Moray, and in the third generation from him his surname was transformed from Moravia into Murray. That is the origin of the great clan of Murray, which has so many representatives on this side of the Atlantic.

Sir John Murray of Tullibardine was one of the governors of King James VI. of Scotland during that monarch's minority, and master of his household, being raised to the peerage as Earl of Tullibardine. In due course of time the Earls of Tullibardine became Marquesses of Atholl, and then dukes of that ilk.

For a time they exercised sovereign sway over the Isle of Man, the throne of which they had inherited through the marriage of the first Marquis of Atholl in 1650, to Lady Amelia Stanley, only child and heiress of the seventh Earl of Derby, who was also king of Man.

While their reign over the Isle of Man lasted, the coinage of the island bore their effigies. The coins are today extremely rare.

In 1765 the third Duke of Atholl disposed of his sovereignty of the Isle of Man to George III of Great Britain on payment of $400,000 down and an annuity of $10,000 a year, which was subsequently increased to $15,000 a year.

Sixty years later the then Duke of Atholl compounded the annuity and all his remaining rights in and over the soil of the Isle of Man for an additional sum of $3,000,000, paid by the English treasury.

Gentlemen: It has become a custom in Moline that once a year the Businessmen with their ladies and friends gather under one roof to sit at their Annual Banquet. There is where they throw worries and business cares to the forewinds and enjoy themselves in friendly chats with one another. It is just such gatherings that makes life worth living. It brings them closer together; it creates a warmer and a better feeling toward each other, making life and business more pleasant, which means better Harmony and better Understanding; better men and better women. There is no man or woman [may we think them ever so grouty] but what have their good sides if we but knew them better, therefore with that aim in view let us all attend the Annual Banquet this year.

Concerning Canned Goods.

[From the London Saturday Review.]

Prof. Brewster's defense of stock phrases has led to some lively letters in the Times. Prof. Brewster considers that stock phrases indicate a natural tendency against which it is wasteful to strive. "They are an intellectual shorthand, most of the business of life is done by them, and they help us like habits and customs." We all slip into the hateful things in speech and writing, but, however pardonable their use may be in talking, they are a sin in literature. They really disguise a poverty of thought and fancy.

The Duke of Wellington's "circumstances over which I have no control" is a good instance of the stock phrase. Another is found in the expression "it is a far cry," the desperate expedient of a writer who wishes to apologize for an abrupt transition. "Much water has flowed under the bridge since then" and "How small the world is!" are other familiar examples. It is indeed almost impossible to take up a newspaper or book without coming across a few instances. As the Times points out, there are dozens of stock phrases, either vaguely mysterious like the Duke of Wellington's, or charged with a forced vivacity, or tricked out with stale poetry, which any good writer recognizes at once as an evasion of difficulties, as signs that the writer is pretending to mean more than he does mean, or to feel more than he does feel, or to know more than he does know.

THE foregoing reminds us that "Indefinite period" should be chucked into the brine, along with "Well, money isn't everything in this world."

DIRTY TWENTY-SECOND STREET CARS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am a daily traveler on the Twenty-second street car line. I should like to know why such insanitary conditions are allowed on this line. The windows are filthy and the floor is one mass of mud. I cannot see why the laboring man is not entitled to as clean a car to ride in as the north side line.

FILLING IN A LOT.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Dozens of wagon loads of rubbish—tin cans, old shoes, ashes, and everything else under the sun—are being dumped on the lake shore at Lafayette parkway, changing an otherwise beautiful street and beach into a hideous eyesore. Not only that, but a storm is likely to scatter this trash all along the shore in that vicinity, making it terribly bad for the bathers next spring.

If you are instrumental in putting a stop to this making a dumping ground of Lafayette parkway you will have the sincere thanks of every one on the street.

Investigation by this bureau shows that the dumping is on private property on the south side of Lafayette parkway, the owner desiring to have same filled. With the exception of a few loads of street dirt the dumping is being done by contractors and private ash men.

FREE LECTURE BY MOTORMAN.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—At 7:15 p. m. Oct. 10 three men signaled south bound car (Chicago City railway, No. 5753) on through route No. 1 to stop before rounding the curve at North State and Division streets. The motorman ran by, stopping car after rounding curve. Passengers ran and caught car at that point without delay. Without a word of remonstrance on their part motorman in loud and offensive manner commenced to instruct them as to proper place to board cars; all of which was humiliating to passengers, as entire car heard the monologue.

If the motorman was correct, there was no occasion for his manner; the company's attention should be called to violation of orders on the part of every other crew which has stopped at this point in the last few months. W. H.

Cars are required to be brought to a stop on the near side of all street intersections and after rounding curves to take on and let off passengers. This matter will receive immediate investigation and attention.

NOT HOW MANY, BUT HOW GOOD.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Anent the proposed club of parents of ten or more progeny promulgated by certain men just now prominent in Illinois politics, and of which our Chicago dailies have given some notice. Such a project is positively indecent. Consideration of this theme of family should have its rise in the query not how many, but how good. When will men and women learn that quality, not quantity, is the great desideratum? Associate a male and female idiot and they will straightway proceed to multiply and replenish. Can the normal man rise no higher than they?

The education of the child should be begun long before its birth. This is a period the relations of sex appear to take precedence of all other subjects, but how woeful it is that the sources of these thoughts are almost entirely generated in animalism; there seems to be little conception of the nobler points of view. Let this question be the foremost one, but let us bring to its study the high qualities necessary in order to beget a better race.

Children are brought into the world solely as the result of some phase of selfishness on the part of their progenitors. Largely, the human race is the result of accident; usually unsought and undesired; is it surprising that our human family shows little or no higher evolution? I hope the time will come when the state will make it a penal offense for persons not properly qualified to procreate.

In fact, the state will be forced to act if the race is to be preserved. Witness the almost incredible increase of disease. For the thousands of unfortunates totally unequipped for life, who is to blame? Their authors, but, we can hold, their designers; for design was a[bsent] when they were formed.

PRAISE FOR CONDUCTOR 3,552.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Conductor 3552 of south bound Broadway car 189 is surely the right man for the position on a stormy morning like Oct. 21, 1913.

The cars were crowded with wage earners, like himself, and he did not forget that each individual, young or old, wanted to be on time. He helped men and women on and off the car, and for patience he should be given a glory crown. It is unusual to meet a conductor taking so much pains to give comfort.

Generally on a stormy morning Mr. Conductor has a severe grouch and we two wage earning women, one of whom is not young, and have to "ring in," want THE TRIBUNE to see he gets a note of public thanks.

WAGE EARNERS.

STOP EATING VEAL.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., Oct. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Recently I have read a great deal about the shortage of beef, and what the packers claim would be a solution of the subject, and that is, that everybody totally abstain from eating veal in any form for a period of two years.

In addressing you on this subject I have in mind the great good that came from your original idea, the Good Fellow at Christmas time, and how the newspapers all over the United States took it up, and now we have the Christmas good fellow in practically every town and city in the United States.

But what we need now is to have these same good fellows, and every one else, stop eating veal for two years so these same impoverished homes may have good meat to eat at a reasonable price.

I would advise that you take this up through your great newspaper, and in turn the newspapers in other cities and towns will, and soon it will spread over the entire country. The hotels and restaurants will be asked to leave veal off their menus.

Why not print a pledge to be signed and mailed to you that the signer will agree totally to abstain from veal in any form for two years. O. F. JOHNSON.

INJUSTICE IN RUSSIA.

[Des Moines Capital.]

How much longer must Russian oppression of the Jew continue before the crime will be halted by a worldwide demand for an awakened public sentiment?

There was a largely attended massmeeting in Chicago Sunday afternoon to protest against the Russian government's acceptance of the "blood ritual murder" theory in the trial of Mondel Beilis.

Clergymen, lawyers, business men—all classes were represented in the speechmaking. Resolutions were adopted. A protest will be sent to the Russian government.

Will it do any good? Does Russia care anything for outside opinion? Is there a nation on earth that is less responsive to those human and justice loving sensibilities which are supposed to actuate the enlightened mind and heart?

In Russia oppression seems to feed upon oppression. For centuries the Jew has been the target for an unreasoning and bigoted hatred. He has had a tragic struggle for existence. Just as one begins to hope that the melancholy chapter is reaching its termination new atrocities occur to show that darkness rather than light still pervades that portion of the earth.

We hope that the Chicago voice will not sound against deaf ears, but the situation is anything but reassuring.

Churches and Religious Affairs

Presbyterians to Bar Aid to Lazy Churches.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Radical action was taken today by the Illinois synod of the Presbyterian church in adopting without change the report of the committee on home missions.

Churches were classed in the report given by the chairman, the Rev. J. Turner Hood of Oswego, as those which are hopeless, those which are lazy and dishonest, those which can be helped by some other church playing the rôle of "big brother" to them, and those which expect to become self-supporting within five years. Only the last named class, the report said, are hereafter to be helped by the Home Missionary society.

"Churches that have members in them that can ride over farms of 250 acres in $2,000 automobiles are dishonest if they appeal to the Home Missionary society for support," Dr. Hood said. "They are lazy when they come to us every year without any change in their condition, and expect support indefinitely.

"A church that gives no promise to come to self-support ought to be discontinued. When such kind of Presbyterian churches are in the field that are cultivated sufficiently by other denominations, they ought to be given up. We expect to show a record in the future of the federation, merging and burial of churches."

Power was given to the synodical committee on home missions to name three district superintendents. The name of the committee was changed to that of church extension. Its oversight is to include the work of home missions, church building, and Sunday schools.

An appeal was made in behalf of the sufferers of the flood which inundated southern sections of the state at the time of the Ohio disaster. Eight hundred and ten dollars was secured in pledges. The taking of subscriptions was conducted by the Rev. G. N. Luccock, pastor of the First church, Oak Park. A total of $6,000, it is expected, will be raised.

Certain doctrinal conceptions were declared to be a hindrance to the development of brotherhood work by Roger S. Cressy, secretary of the brotherhood committee.

Dinner was served to 200 members of the synod by forty young women in the school of domestic science of the James Milliken university. At the evening service the moderator of the synod, the Rev. Rollin R. Marquis, gave an address of welcome to the newly appointed president of the university, G. E. Fellows.

Prof. T. W. Galloway of the Milliken university, who received the second largest vote for moderator, was made vice moderator, and presided during a part of the afternoon.

Urge Catholic Missionary Plan.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 22.—A central commission to control the missionary work of the Catholic church in the United States is favored by a committee which is investigating the subject. Bishop Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh, who discussed the subject before the Catholic missionary congress today, told the delegates that the missionary situation in this country had been studied by a committee of three appointed by the board of governors of the Church Extension society. While their report has not yet been submitted, Bishop Canevin, as one of the members, explained some of the main points.

The committee found, according to the bishop, that many of the missionary organizations overlapped each other Massmeetings held throughout greater Boston tonight practically brought the congress to a close. Clergymen from all over the country took part.

Lutherans Open Convention.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The annual convention of the English church of the Lutheran Augustana synod of the United States opened here this evening and will continue through Sunday. The convention sermon was preached by the Rev. F. O. Hanson of Chicago, president of the English Church association. Delegates were welcomed by the Rev. C. M. Gander.

Congregationalists Vote Message to Universalists.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—The Rev. Charles A. Blanchard of Wheaton, Ill., leader of the conservative faction, created a furore in the convention of the national council of Congregational churches here today by opposing a message of greetings to the Universalist church convention at Chicago. The Rev. Mr. Blanchard is president of Wheaton college. He urged that the council not recognize any nonevangelical sect.

Gov. Simeon Baldwin of Connecticut said: "Congregationalism does not stand for any such narrowness. The remark of the gentleman who has just spoken is unkindly, coming as it does when we Congregationalists have our hands out for church unity."

Dr. Blanchard's motion was rejected, 591 to 4, and the telegram was sent.

Having completed the task of electing a moderator by naming the Rev. Charles R. Brown, dean of the Divinity school of Yale university, and receiving reports of various committees appointed at the last meeting in Boston, the delegates tonight listened to the address of the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton of Brooklyn, N. Y., the retiring moderator. He declared Christianity today is flourishing and the church is holding its own.

"Mankind is still incurably religious," said Dr. Boynton, "and the instinct of religion never more than today asks its brave questions, claims its uneclipsed hopes, and initiates its inspiring adventures."

Henry M. Beardsley of Kansas City was unanimously named assistant moderator, and Dr. A. C. Garner, a negro pastor of the Plymouth church, Washington, D. C., was chosen second assistant moderator.

The delegates did not get a chance to discuss the report of the commission of nineteen, containing a new statement of doctrine, as the commission announced it would hold a public meeting tomorrow to hear suggested changes. Saturday is the day set apart by the council for a discussion of the report.

Every allusion by speakers to a movement to unite the churches of the country and the world met with prolonged applause.

Universalists in City.

Delegates from Universalist churches in every state in the union, and from the foreign field, in convention at St. Paul's church, Thirtieth street and Prairie avenue, will be welcomed to Chicago today by the Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus.

The Women's National Missionary society ordered the biennial session yesterday.

New officers were elected for the Woman's National Missionary association. Mrs. Minnie J. Ayres of Rhode Island was chosen president; Mrs. Lilla P. Huntley of New York, first vice president; Mrs. Rose A. Johonnot of Maine, second vice president; Mrs. Theresa H. Patterson of Pennsylvania, recording secretary; Mrs. E. L. Conklin of Illinois, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sarah Hanscom of Massachusetts, treasurer.

Archdeacon Made N. D. Bishop.

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The Rev. Hugh L. Burleson, elected bishop of North Dakota, declined to accept, and the House of Bishops of the Episcopal convention today elected the Rev. J. P. Tyler, archdeocon of Cumberland, Md., and rector of St. John's church, Hagerstown, instead. The new bishop comes from Virginia, was educated at the Virginia seminary, and is a descendant of President Tyler. The bishops also agreed to the pension system for Episcopal clergymen.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 22.—The Illinois Unitarian conference elected the following officers: President, Mrs. J. E. Williams of Streator; vice president, W. H. Pulsford of Chicago; secretary, the Rev. A. R. Vail of Urbana; treasurer, George L. Parker of Bloomington.

Superficiality Laid to Poor Choice in Books.

SUPERFICIALITY of thought and lack of general knowledge was laid to the poor judgment in reading of the American people by Attorney Frank J. Loesch at the meeting of the Men's league of the Sunday Evening club last night. Mr. Loesch said that few American citizens were familiar with any of the details of the history of the United States or of the world.

The class of books and the purpose of reading was told to the members of the league in an intensely interesting address. Mr. Loesch urged reading for knowledge as well as entertainment, and he decried the passion of Americans to boast of familiarity with the "best sellers."

"The American people know very little history," Mr. Loesch said. "They don't even know the history of their own nation. They should know that and season it with a bit of Roman and Greek history as well as English history.

"Books should be read for knowledge and entertainment.

"It's safe to say that if you don't read one of the 30,000 volumes of fiction printed in the United States every year that you will not miss a thing. Read great speeches and orations, for in them you get a knowledge of the history of the times.

"In my mind, Moses stands out as the greatest orator, although the defense of the crown by Demosthenes is a wonderful appeal. The orations of Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln stand out in their class and should be read by every American."

Prof. R. E. P. Kline, president of the Men's league and a lecturer on rhetoric, said the superficial reading of Americans was a menace to the democratic form of government.

Medical Society Holds Clinic.

The Chicago Medical society held a joint clinical meeting with the south side branch last night in the amphitheater of the Mercy hospital. Dr. J. B. Murphy, Dr. Paul Chester, Dr. E. Wyllis Andrews, and Dr. Charles L. Mix presented several cases, the latter declaring that the abdomen of one of his patients, a woman 64 years old, had given Dr. Murphy the history of her life, revealing to him that when she was 21 years old she had been tubercular, and "was mute evidence of a variety of diseases." Dr. William Hessert, Dr. G. W. Green, Dr. A. Zimmermann, Dr. T. A. Davis, Dr. L. H. Mettler, and Dr. Frederick Tice discussed the various cases. Dr. Andrews had been scheduled to perform an operation during the meeting, but this could not be done, he explained, because of the brief time allotted to him.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Howard Elting of Chicago has an appointment at the White House tomorrow when he will ask President Wilson to speak before the Chicago Commercial club at its annual banquet. Mr. Elting arrived tonight. As President Wilson has declined so far to speak before any club or business organization it is thought that he will find it impossible to appear at the Chicago banquet.

Foreign Nobles Study Our Art.

A study of American art, architecture, and industry is being made by Prince Henry de Croy of Brussels, Belgium, and Compte Robert de la Barre d'Erquelinnes of Paris, who are at the Congress hotel. They reached Chicago yesterday afternoon from Seattle and will leave for the east today or tomorrow.

Freak Dances Betold in Moving Pictures.

A PICKED audience witnessed in the city hall yesterday a "rehearsal" of moving pictures designed to give instructions in dancing the hesitation waltz, the turkey trot, and the tango. At the end of the "show" the films were barred from public presentation in Chicago.

Those present were the guests of Maj. M. L. C. Funkhouser, second deputy superintendent of police and by virtue of that office censor of Chicago's morals. The question of the production of the films was brought to him by Sergt. Jeremiah O'Connor of the moving picture bureau. They were agreed that they should be barred, but gave the manufacturer a "last chance" by submitting them to a special audience.

This included the special committee of three aldermen—George Pretzel, G. H. Bradshaw, and J. A. Kearns—appointed to investigate immoral dancing in public halls. Another special guest was Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton of the Juvenile Protective association, and also two of the city's ten policewomen.

Maj. Funkhouser consulted them after the films had been run and announced the decision.

"They will not be permitted in Chicago," he said. "The objection is not based so much upon these pictures in themselves, but upon the effect they would have on thousands of young people. After witnessing these professional performers go through these dances in a carefully regulated way, they will go to the public dance halls and try them.

"That is where the danger is. Most of these halls either sell liquor or are close to the places where it is sold. Think of a young girl or a young man with two or three drinks down trying these dances."

Holmes Lectures on Luzon.

At Orchestra hall last night Burton Holmes gave the second of his lectures on Luzon. The films though varied in interest were grouped around a few main themes served not unlike the courses of a dinner. Part I. was a pictorial study of Baguio, the summer capital, followed by sketches of American work among the mountainous headhunting tribes, of methods of "hiking" and of transportation through Luzon, and again a sketch of a typical Igorrote town. Part II. described the tribe of engineers, the Ifugoes. The walls of their rice terraces, Mr. Holmes says, are long enough to reach twice around the world. Mr. Holmes subordinates his lecture to the pictures. Many won hearty applause.

How to Earn Money at Home

Too Busy to Let Worry Creep In.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

THE other day I saw in a magazine a little sentiment that seemed written especially for us, and I saved it so that I might give it to you. Luther H. Gulick is the author of it. It doesn't seem possible that it wasn't spoken directly to you and to me, does it? "See that all the hours of the day are so full of interesting and healthful occupations that there is no chance for worry to stick its nose in."

Don't you think that's a worth while sentiment? Isn't it true that worry has a habit of creeping into minds that aren't occupied?

May I tell you a little true story? The least worried woman that I have ever known was a woman with endless "cares." She was unbelievably poor, even for the days when poverty was more prevalent than it is now and when there were no charitable organizations and when being poor meant staying poor, because there wasn't anything to do to get out of the morass of poverty. I don't mean that there isn't as much poverty in the world as there used to be and I don't mean that there isn't a great deal of work to be done to help make that poverty less, but years ago it was much harder being poor than it is now. There were few pleasures for the poor and no comforts at all.

This dear little soul was poor in a small town. She had had eight children and the oldest one was only 13. Three of them had died. Every ill that a child could have all of them had had. When scarlet fever swept the town every one of them was stricken and one of them died.

The tale of her trials is too sad to tell in detail. It seemed to me sometimes when I thought of her I should have died from the weight of misfortune that seemed to overtake me, if I had been she. But through everything she was cheerful, and to the world and to her children always happy and kind hearted. Her husband was a dependent cripple from an accident. The list of the things she had to bear seems too large to be credible. It did seem it couldn't be possible when you met her that this smiling, sunny woman was burdened with all of that care, almost too much for a woman to live through.

One day I couldn't help asking her how she managed. That day I had been a little down hearted and a little dissatisfied and I had gone to her for help. "Why, there's no secret to it," she said. "I get up in the morning and start to work. And I work all day. And when I lie down at night I know that there's more work to be done the next day, so I daren't lie awake and worry or I'll not be able to work. I'm too busy all of the time to think about the way things are going. And, anyway, I'm big and strong and healthy, and that's an awful lot to have to be grateful for."

I went home with a shamed heart. I realized what the matter was. I had been worrying about something that I never should have worried about if I had been too busy to bother about trifles.

All of that happened many, many years ago, long before all of the modern popular writing about the joy of work. It's lots easier now to keep busy, and there's always some one who understands what a power work is in the world and will help you to find the kind that you want to do. Isn't there?

Are you worrying? Is it because you haven't work for your mind and your fingers to do? Why don't you find some, then? No, it really isn't hard to find work. There are 3,000 women waiting to welcome you into their sisterhood of work. They're all doing work at home that doesn't interfere at all with their housewife duties. Would you like to have them tell you how they are managing to keep the wolf of worry from the door? A hundred of them will stop in and tell you all about it if you'll let them. Will you? Then put your name and address on a post card and send it to me, and I'll send the stories of the hundred to you in a little booklet.

And those of you who are seeking beautiful things to buy, don't these days make you think of dressing up your bedrooms in new fall clothes? Have you been looking about for a spread for the bed? Then why don't you stop in at the exhibit room on the fifth floor of the Tribune building and see the wonderful crocheted bedspreads that the home workers have made for you? And quilts—doesn't the name fill you with longings for possession? They're here in the loveliest patterns, pieced with skillful fingers, some of them silk, some of them cotton, but all of them full of good old fashioned hospitality. And coverlets of wondrous design and antiquity—really heirlooms that are going to make some antique loving heart most happy. Won't you come up to see them? They'll be glad to see you, even if you don't take them home for your bedroom's new fall outfit.

You're planning to come to the home workers' fall party tomorrow afternoon, aren't you? You remember that Miss Doris Keane, who is Mme. Cavalini in "Romance"; Miss Elsie Janis, the charming little leading lady of "The Lady of the Slipper"; and Miss Emma Dunn and Miss Gladys Hanson of "The Governor's Lady" company are all coming to call on the exhibit room. We want every home worker and every other woman in the city of Chicago that can possibly get down to the exhibit room to be there tomorrow afternoon. Will you come?

Bees on a Town Lot.

A friend living in town had a lot too shady for gardening. She procured a few swarms of bees and the last season sold 1,500 pounds of honey at 20 cents per pound. The bees required but little care and the old swarms produce one and two new swarms each summer. Any one having a few shade trees and living near clover meadows can soon build up a paying industry with a small amount of capital and labor, and honey is in demand the year round at a good price.

Cripple Repairs Cameras.

A few months ago a young married man of my acquaintance met with a misfortune which resulted in the loss of his lower limbs and forced him to seek other means of livelihood. He had always been devoted to amateur photography, and hence he hit upon the clever idea of repairing cameras. His wife entered enthusiastically into the idea and a work bench was fitted up in their home and the wife undertook to bring in business. Each morning after the housework has been done she goes downtown and solicits business from the various camera shops, and now these partners have a score of regular customers and an abundance of work and profits.

Give Dancing Lessons.

Three young women in my neighborhood took private dancing lessons and perfected themselves in the popular dances, folk dances and some simple fancy dances. One of the girls is the accompanist. They had cards printed, stating terms, $6 for ten lessons, engaged a room, and personally visited their neighbors and friends. Hours were from 2 to 4 Saturday afternoon.

News of Society and Clubs

Special Color Scheme at Miss Right's Wedding.

ONE bride of last night had a special color scheme brought from Europe and introduced exclusively for her wedding. She was Miss Exa Marie Right, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian C. Right, who at 8:30 o'clock became the bride of Dwight Hartman Muckley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. George W. Muckley of Kansas City. Apricot and green were the chief colors, but the orchid shades so very much sought in the fabrics of the year entered into the general scheme.

The wedding of Miss Right and Mr. Muckley was responsible for the reopening of the house at 1900 Prairie avenue as the residence of the family. Some two or three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Right and their daughter decided to rent their residence and go to one of the hotels to live. They chose the Chicago Beach, and there they resided until this fall. When during the past summer Miss Right decided upon an October wedding she expressed a desire to be married in the family home. To grant this wish Mr. and Mrs. Right again became householders, taking possession of the place a little more than a month ago.

The bridal gown worn by Miss Right was another of the season's costumes to attract particular attention. It was fashioned of ivory satin, brocaded in orchids. Over this was a drape of crêpe de soie, with a bodice of Callot chiffon and hand embroidered lace. The drapings of the gown were held with brilliants and pearls. The bridal veil was of tulle caught into cap effect and held by orange blossoms. The bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

There were two attendants of honor for the bride—Miss Eloise Sherin of New York and Mrs. George Barmore. Both wore gowns of apricot crêpe, with aeroplane drapes of metallic lace and green net. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Charlton of Fall River, Mass., and Miss Helen Crowell. Their costumes were of sea green crêpe with aeroplane drapes of lace and apricot net. All of the bridal attendants carried round bouquets of Aaron Ward roses. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father. Frank Harmon Linthicum of Washington, D. C., was the best man, and Joseph Davidson of Louisiana and Lee Perry were the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Muckley will go south on their wedding trip and later will reside in St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Bessie R. Caspers, daughter of Mrs. Joan Caspers, 4859 Kenmore avenue, to Harry Simpson Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Drummond O. Scott, took place at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother. The Rev. F. N. Perry performed the ceremony. There were but two attendants, Miss May Helen Caspers, the maid of honor, and Eugene J. Riley, the best man. A reception followed in the Dixie tea rooms. The bridal gown was of ivory charmeuse satin with princess lace the veil of tulle having been caught beneath a Juliet cap fastened with lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore pink chiffon over shadow lace, with pink tulle cap, and carried Killarney roses. After a trip through the south Mr. and Mrs. Scott will be at home at 1103 Winona avenue after Dec. 1.

The marriage of Miss Helen C. McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutledge McGill of 1129 Wrightwood avenue, to Arthur Richard McKiel took place yesterday at 5 o'clock in St. Clement's church, Orchard and Deming place. Miss Jewel Clark served as maid of honor, and Miss Ruth McGill and Miss Frances McGill, sisters of the bride, and Miss Stella McKiel, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids. Charles McKiel, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mark J. Kelly, Robert Wilson, and William Barron. The event marked the twenty-third anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents.

Little Esther Harding of Highland Park and Ella Magny of Edgewater were the flower girls. The bride's gown was of white crêpe de chine with chantilly lace and pearl trimmings. The veil was of tulle with a wreath of myrtle and lilies of the valley. The bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore light blue brocaded crêpe meteor and carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses. Miss Bertha Johnson wore pink charmeuse and duchess lace, and Miss Hathaway, pale green charmeuse and shadow lace. Both carried arm bouquets of Killarney roses. Remedy for Lice.

SEEING in your Corner the inquiry of W. A. V. and also that of Mrs. J. G., I am sending a recipe I call golden ointment for head lice. An ounce of saltpeter finely powdered, one ounce of flour of brimstone, half ounce of white precipitate. Mix with hog's lard to the consistency of cream. Scent with oil of lavender. The scent may be omitted. One application is sufficient. Rub well into the head at night, tie up in an old towel, and burn the cloth or scald it the following morning. Wash the head in tepid water and white soapsuds and rinse well in several waters. I hope this may do some good, as it has been a valued possession in our family for many years. We have used it on many occasions, and the one application has never failed to destroy both "nits" and lice.

MRS. C. F. S.

Concerning Needy Girls.

In a late issue of the Corner I read this appeal: "Chance for some needy girl. Do you know of such a girl who will come in and help get dinner, serve, and then wash the dishes? This would be an excellent opportunity for a girl to learn how to cook, as there are only three of us in the family." Please let me suggest that if this woman would pay some needy girl at least 50 cents each day, she will have many "needy" girls from homes to wash the dishes and help her to cook. "Needy" girls need carfare and clean clothes, something to eat and a place to sleep. If the girls will learn something they must work to live, and have at least a room and board.

MARIE B.

Eliminates the Ring.

I have repeatedly noticed requests made in regard to cleaning dainty silk and messalines with alcohol and gasoline, which leave a "ring." If they would thicken either with cornmeal to form a crumbly paste, not soggy; then rub it into the stain; there will be no such trouble. I should like to hear from the Corneites after some of them have tried it.

MRS. A. C. E.

Old Colored Prints.

"Has any one of your readers some old fashioned colored prints that are to be found in old time magazines of 1850-60 that she would be willing to send me? I am willing to give some music in exchange for it, if cared for.

"MRS. O. B."

I appreciate the interest you and many another woman take in collecting fashion plates of "ye olden times." They are always entertaining and sometimes consoling when one compares the extremes of fashionable caprices of fifty years agone with the absurdities of today. Grandmothers who have kept Godey's and Graham's may find it in their hearts to spare us a few pictures. We negotiate no exchanges other than those of service and good will. But we accept the music with gratitude.

To Rid of Ants.

For an efficacious ant exterminator, obtain from the druggist a pint of wood alcohol and with a small, soft brush and a can of bisulphide of carbon you are ready. Remove the tin cap and original cork of bisulphide can; securely recork it with a new, strong cork, the point of which is wrapped with paraffine paper. To exterminate a colony or "hill" take a smooth stick the size of the finger and at about sundown when the ground is dry, punch two or three holes well down into the ant colony; pour into each hole about a teaspoonful of bisulphide. Quickly seal each hole with moist earth. Spread several thicknesses of dampened paper over the spot and weight it down so the wind cannot disturb it. Next morning the inhabitants are all dead and buried. It does not hurt vegetation. To drive them from the pantry or cupboard, first trap all you can with molasses dropped on the bottom of a small glass or other glazed surface, narrowing at the top. They go down, eat their fill and try to return, but they are then "dumpy" and nine out of ten drop back and remain. Twelve to twenty-four hours gets most of them. Next kill with the finger tips all that are running about. Then prepare a mixture of, say three parts wood alcohol to one of bisulphide and brush well into the corners and crevices. Also brush the top shelf with wood alcohol. After an hour or more air the closet to get rid of the bisulphide fumes. If done in June the operation may have to be repeated once in the season, but the remedy is effective, I am sure.

DAD.

Curing Wild Duck Wings.

"I read with interest your part of the paper. I note that A. B. asks for a method of curing wild duck wings. The method we use is simple, and satisfactory. It is as follows: On the part of the wing where it is severed from the body of the fowl rub in a liberal supply of arsenic, going over the flesh on the severed wing. If the shape in which the wing is to be used is known in advance the wing may be tacked upon a board at the time, in any shape desired. If the feathers are at all oily, as is apt to be the case in the fall, they should be covered with powdered magnesia. It will absorb all the oil. The wing will be thoroughly cured in three weeks, although double that time is better. The magnesia is easily brushed off, and the arsenic wiped off at this time. In using the arsenic it is of course necessary to place the wings out of the way of your household pets, and also protect them from mice and rats. These pests will ruin the wings, the only satisfaction being that they will soon die after eating. If this information is of any value to A. B. I shall indeed be glad. If she wishes information with regard to curing any kind of special wings I shall be glad to put her right.

"TOM C."

As an avowed opponent to the slaughter of birds for the sake of the plumage to be used for decorative purposes I should hesitate to print the foregoing, interesting and kindly as it is, were it not for the reflection that barnyard fowls and game killed for the market may be further utilized. The wings of quail, pheasants, and grouse may be prepared in obedience to the rules laid down by our intelligent masculine member and converted into ornaments for hats; turkey wings make nice fans and dusters, and the wings of our finer breeds of ducks may be wrought into handsome fire screens. There are thrift and commendable ingenuity in all this, and no inhumanity, such as is involved in hunting and killing nonedible creatures to minister to human vanity.

Would Send Weekly Installments.

"I have the habit of cutting out verses, recipes, good stories, and most all pictures. It seems that now I can't resist the temptation to save such, and yet they pile up so fast, and I get so few into a scrapbook. I wonder if somwhere there is a sick child to whom an envelope of pictures each week would bring sunshine? Or an old lady who would enjoy the stories? I would be glad to pass them on.

"MRS. K. J. K."

The child—sick or well—and the old lady who likes to read good stories, may be taken for granted. Your proposal to make your benefactions weekly adds zest to the anticipation. The small shut-in will learn to look forward to the arrival of the envelope as to a visit from a friend, and the old lady will unfold the story paper with the pleasure she would derive from the coming of the magazine for which she cannot afford to subscribe. The idea is fine, and does credit to heart and imagination. Let us know when the subscription list is full.

Eton Jackets Coming Into Their Own.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—For the woman who has always kept a love for Eton jackets deep in her heart the news that the Eton is slipping back into public notice will be most welcome. Nor will it matter to her that its arrival is not being noisily acclaimed and that its approach is so quiet as to warrant almost the term surreptitious. Indeed, were it not for its occasional dramatic appearance on some particularly striking and unusual model one might be inclined to refute its existence entirely.

It is in wonderfully appealing color combination with exquisite beauty of line and drapery that the Eton jacket is gradually thrusting itself before the gaze of a rather surprised and unprepared public. And it is as a part of the three piece suit that its greatest success is expected.

One extremely smart model exhibited by Paquin not long ago was a three piece suit of dark amber velours-de laine. As with most of the one piece gowns the bodice was collarless with an extremely low pointed decolletage, while a tunic of chiffon in three tiers fell over the skirt. Over this was arranged a short peplum of gold brocade cut away at the front and extending into the bodice, producing an oddly shaped girdle effect. The Eton jacket fastened with three large buttons of the same color with a small collar of aubergine purple velvet.

The use of dyed fur on Etons is predicted to be much in vogue. Some of the smartest Parisians are wearing white fox collarettes dyed rose with plaited frills of satin of the same color as the fur bordering the edges of the Eton.

There is a particularly stunning "Egyptian brocaded crepe" with a tendency towards huge splashy designs which is being used to tremendous effect for the Eton tailored suit. The Eton skirt is inclined to extremeness in that it is long and unslashed and presents a narrow roundness at the bottom. These plain skirts are decidedly effective in the novelty crepes, the only trimming in the suit being on the Eton and generally of fur. Remarkable effects are had in two tone silk and wool. There is one novelty material called "scintella" which comes in three styles, the plain, the soft blend of white with one color, and also in various two color effects. These in brocaded effects are especially popular now with Parisiennes.

Both Martial and Armand are employing considerable of rich golden brown material for their Etons. The sleeves are generally long, touching the knuckles, and are sometimes shirred into dropped shoulder seams in order not to give too sternly tailored lines.

Three piece suit of dark amber velours de laine. Hat of same shade and material with black velvet facing. Eton jackets bordered with purple fox.

Doll Pageant Planned.

A doll pageant will be staged on Nov. 15 in the parlor of the Temple Sholom, Pine Grove avenue and Grace street, by the ladies' auxiliary of the temple. Mrs. Kahn is chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. H. Alder, Mrs. S. Lande, Miss Helen Frankenstein, and Mrs. B. Engelhard have charge of the doll booth. Mrs. H. E. Cohen, Mrs. S. Trenlich, Mrs. J. Berger, and Mrs. L. Goldman will sell fancy goods. Mrs. P. Speigel and Mrs. E. Waldtrott will have the candy booth, while Mrs. L. Weiss, Mrs. A. S. Utitz, and Mrs. L. Weiller will be stationed in the utility booth. Mrs. C. Kohn and Mrs. B. Doane will sell lemonade. Not far away Mrs. D. Birkenstein and Mrs. S. Rosenbaum will pour coffee and Miss Tillie Becker will try to sell perfumes. Mrs. Leopold Ascher, 553 Melrose street, will explain the mysteries depicted by every kind of doll.

Doris Blake's Advice

By Doris Blake

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of "Miss Blake. If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped addressed envelope.

The "Unsociable" Wife.

TOM'S wife is one of those very practical little persons generally described as "having no nonsense about them." She thinks that her husband's married sister is an object of censure with her notions of keeping up to date in matters of clothes and society.

Mrs. Tom thinks that by going to the other extreme she will not only please her husband, but may actually shame her husband's "foolish" sister out of her nonsense.

With this end in view she goes about the house with her hair "bobbed" up in a very hurried, unbecoming fashion. She doesn't dress in calicoes exactly, but her clothes have an unmistakable air of "home, sweet home."

When her fashionable sister-in-law boasts of social successes Mrs. Tom tells proudly of "going over her floors," "cleaning up the attic," and so on. Of course, it is estimable of Mrs. Tom to keep her rooms in a bright and shiny condition. But she need not loudly insist on the fact, nor need she always bring into the parlor the flavor of soft soap and soda.

"I can't be bothered with tea parties," she declares as she sits hemming dusters or cutting up her husband's discarded undergarments to make scrubbing cloths.

She seems always occupied with the unlovely things of life.

In consequence of her impatience with "tea parties" and making calls she has few friends.

Night after night when her husband comes home he asks: "Have you seen anybody today?" "Not a soul!" is the monotonous answer, always with an explanation that she has been working all day at something that the cleaning woman could have done better than she.

Rather hard on Tom after his long day's work! He must supply all the talk, for there is little enlightenment to be gotten from a person who spends her days in household drudgery.

He would infinitely prefer that she occasionally put away her scrubbing brushes and her cleaning pails and go out to tea. Then she would have a little cheery news, maybe a little spicy gossip with which to regale him in the evenings.

The fact that the house is always as neat as a new pin will not compensate for lack of companionship.

A certain amount of social life is the absolute duty of every wife. It is folly to make the excuse of having "no time."

The successful wife finds the time to make herself a companion—not a drudge.

Victim to Her Charms.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 23 and have been keeping company with a young woman for three years. We have always loved each other very much and we are now engaged. But just recently I met a very beautiful young woman who is very rich, and I at once fell a victim to her charms. I have not told my fiancée as yet, as I don't really know which one I care for the most. Shall I tell her now? Or shall I wait until I become more acquainted with the beautiful one? I am in a very embarrassing predicament, and if you could advise me as to what to do I would be very thankful.

"HENRY."

You had better wait until you become better acquainted with the beautiful girl. She may not turn out to be at all the cause of so much admiration. Are you sure that her riches have not something to do with her charms? If that is the case, a word of warning may not be out of the way: Remember a man who marries money earns every cent he ever gets. This "road to happiness" has been found anything but a smooth one by almost every man who has taken it.

She Dislikes Mustaches.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am in love with a young man whom I have known for several years. Now recently this young man has raised a mustache and I dislike mustaches very much. I have requested him to take it off, but he will not do it. I do not say that I have any right to ask him to do this, but don't you think if he really loved me he would do this when I ask him to?

TINY."

Mustaches are very delicate propositions with young men, Tiny, and I don't know but that the separation of a man and a first mustache is too great a love test for the ordinary human. You better not ask it. You have the comforting thought, you know, that the novelty of a mustache soon wears off, so I'd advise you to be just a bit patient.

Never Entertained a Gentleman.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am going to invite a young man friend of mine to my home some evening, but I have never entertained a gentleman, except at parties. I have been reading your answers to letters and I consider your advice the best that can be given. Therefore I am going to ask you some questions. What are some nice things that I can do to entertain? Shall I serve anything and if so what is best to serve and at what time?

"IONE."

I do not approve of serving luncheons to young men callers. The first time a young man calls he should not remain over an hour or so and a girl should not encourage him to do so. To serve anything during that time would be quite bad form. When he comes to call have him meet your mother and father. They can help to entertain the young man by joining in a little chat. It is not necessary to plan any entertainment for a man caller. In fact, a very good program to follow is to let the man do a good deal of the entertaining himself.

Will Soon Have Abundant Means.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 22, with dark hair, laughing blue eyes, a dimple in my chin, an exceptionally fine physique. Am engaged in intensive farming and have had such success that I feel that I shall soon have abundant means to support a wife and I feel that I am in need of such as I am away from home in a small town where my interests are located, and having to live with a strange family gets very lonesome. I am of a shy and retiring nature and am diffident about meeting people. I have seen several young ladies about the town who seemed pleasing to me. How shall I make their acquaintance?

Q. R. R."

The best way to get acquainted with the young ladies would be to cultivate some of their men friends and then ask them to give you an introduction to the girls. Men are usually very willing to help make desirable acquaintances for their friends. In smaller communities it usually is not a difficult matter to make acquaintances, but, of course, some effort on the part of the young man must be made. You must not be too diffident and backward.

TROUBLED: Women who work need to use oatmeal in the water in which they wash their hands, and rubbing cream into the skin of the hands at night will make them smooth and white. A large nail brush should be used, and then used again with plenty of warm water and soap; good pure olive oil soap is the best. If the hands still seem rough and soiled, put a dash of ammonia in the water and wash them again. There is one woman of my acquaintance who has beautiful white hands. When I asked her secret she confessed to me that she used nothing but sour cream to soften them. Her plan is to put a saucer full of cream on a shelf until it is sour and thick. She then uses it just as she would cold cream or a lotion, rubbing it into the hands for fully ten minutes. She then washes her hands with warm water and castile soap until perfectly free from the cream, then bathes them in cold water and dries them thoroughly. There is great importance in drying the hands thoroughly, rubbing the fingers separately round and round. Much chapping of the skin is due to letting the hands go undried. Take time and patience to do everything thoroughly, even to drying the hands. Surely my friend's hands paid her for her care and trouble, for, although she is a woman who does much work, her hands are really beautiful.

BLONDE: Your hair is probably changing color. I would not advise you to put anything on it to make it the same color. Take good care of the hair in keeping it clean and massage daily. I shall send instructions for scalp massage and a good shampoo for blonde hair if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

MRS. L. B. E.: Some women find the vibrations of a motoring trip exhilarating, and are able to sleep like children after hours of it. Others become nervous and wakeful, and pass nights of painful restlessness after motor trips. Such women should not take long trips; that is obvious. A few suggestions for motoring may be helpful. First of all your feet must be kept warm. You should lean back and relax. Use a pillow if the back seat of the car slants too much. Wear a small hat that will not prevent you leaning back, warm gloves, a loose corset, and learn to press the toes of your left foot upon the footrail, just as a woman presses her toes into the stirrup when riding horseback, so that you will rise gently in the seat without jolting when going over the bumps. Look anywhere but at the road ahead. Trust in the chauffeur to land you where you are desirous of going. In that way motoring may be made a pleasure.

H. J. C.: I cannot give you a formula for darkening the eyebrows with dye. I would not advise you to use dye. You are liable to get it into your eyes and it may cause you a great deal of trouble. Plain yellow vaseline will make the eyelashes heavier. Apply a bit of melted vaseline to the roots of the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush, but be exceedingly careful that you do not get any of it into the eyes, as oil of any kind will irritate them. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you the French tonic for eyebrows. There are several good eyebrow pencils on the market that you might use to darken your lashes.

The Parsnip.

SOME cook books devote as many as two lines to the parsnip. Others do not mention this vegetable. Most church and club cook books have one parsnip recipe each. One compiler found twenty-five, but this did not represent twenty-five distinct ways, but variations of a dozen styles of cooking the parsnips. Some of us have a collection of parsnip recipes, but when there is a call for them it perversely hides itself.

Parsnips can be baked, boiled, scalloped, mashed, fried, stewed, etc. For cakes and fritters they are usually boiled and mashed and mixed with eggs, but sometimes they are parboiled and grated. Parsnips boiled, cut in large slices, dipped in flour, and fried in deep fat are excellent, if the work is well done. Parsnips parboiled and then prepared like escalloped potatoes may be exceptionally dainty.

The following recipes come from half a dozen or more sources, but all seem perfectly reliable:

FRIED PARSNIPS—Boil the parsnips in salted water until tender; scrape and cut into long slices. Dredge pieces with flour; fry in hot lard or dripping until a pretty brown. Drain and serve.

ESCALLOPED PARSNIPS—To one pint of boiled and mashed parsnips add one tablespoon of butter, a teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper, and two tablespoons of milk. Mix the ingredients; turn into a buttered dish; cover with bread crumbs, dot with butter, and brown in the oven.

ESCALLOPED PARSNIPS (Mrs. Rorer)—Four good sized parsnips, one-half a cup of bread crumbs, one tablespoon of flour, one-half a pint of milk, one tablespoon of butter, one-half a teaspoon of salt, one saltspoonful of pepper, two tablespoons of chopped onions. Scrape and boil the parsnips; when tender, cut them into blocks. Make a cream sauce from the butter, flour, and milk; add the salt and pepper. Put a layer of the cream sauce in the bottom of the baking dish, then a layer of parsnips, a sprinkling of onions, and so continue until the dish is full, having the last layer sauce. Dust with fine bread crumbs and bake half an hour. Serve with salted boiled beef.

PARSNIP SPHERES—Boil the parsnips till tender; drain and mash, or put through a colander. Season well with butter, salt and pepper. Flour the hands and form the parsnips into spheres. Roll in flour and fry in dripping in a frying pan until a nice brown on both sides. If preferred, a well beaten egg and one tablespoon of flour may be added with the butter, salt, and pepper. Good with roast beef.

PARSNIP CAKES—(Mrs. Seeley).—Peel, cut in pieces, and cook some parsnips in salted water, in which a tablespoon of flour has been mixed. When tender drain thoroughly; chop fine and press through a fine colander. Return to the saucepan; add salt, a little white pepper, a little flour, and the beaten yolks of three eggs. Stir on the fire for five minutes and put on a plate to cool. Turn on a floured board and shape into small spheres. Dip in beaten egg, then in cracker crumbs. Fry until light brown in hot lard. Drain on brown paper, garnish with parsley and serve hot. These are good with pork chops.

JESSIE WILSON ENTERS FIGHT TO GET $4,000,000 FOR Y.W.C.A.

Says Trousseau Nor Wedding Cake Concerns Her Enough to Interfere in Interest in Needy Girls.

New York, Oct. 22.—Although engaged to be married next month, Miss Jessie Wilson, the president's youngest daughter, has found time to hep the Young Woman's Christian association in its campaign to be formally begun soon to raise $4,000,000 within two weeks.

At the home of Mrs. Willard Straight at Westbury, L. I. Miss Wilson decared that neither trousseau nor wedding cake concerned her enough to interfere with her interest in the welfare of needy girls. A large audience of fashionably dressed women from all parts of Long Island listened to her vigorous appeal for aid before the young woman.

SUIT OVER POLICY OF PAPER.

Man Who Has Charge of Editorial Page Seeks Court Protection from Any Interference.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22.—Frederick B. Warren, in charge of the editorial page of the New St. Louis Star, an afternoon newspaper, today filed suit in the Circuit court asking an injunction to restrain John C. Roberts and Edward S. Lewis from interfering with his editorial control of the paper.

Mr. Warren claims he has an eight year contract giving him absolute control of the policy of the paper, but that since Roberts bought control he has interfered with Warren in such a way as to injure the latter's financial interest in the publication.

THE CORYSTON FAMILY

Admirers of this distinguished author's talent will be glad to know that she has returned to the style which made "The Testing of Diana Mallory" such a delight.

First of all, "The Coryston Family" is a love story, with a heroine who will rank as Mrs. Ward's most charming portrayal of young womanhood of today, then an absorbing representation of the dramatic struggle between the radical and aristocratic elements of present English society. Lady Coryston, by means of her position, money and character, is a power in the land, but fate overtakes her when her children defy her in both love and politics.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

When the football teams representing Chicago and Purdue clash on University field on Saturday in one of the most important struggles of the western conference season it will be the nineteenth time elevens representing these institutions have met and fought for the honor and glory of their alma maters.

In the eighteen years of hard man to man combat the Maroons were victorious in fourteen battles, Purdue won three, and one contest resulted in a 5 to 5 tie. Some of the games were bitterly fought, but in the majority Chicago was the victor by one sided margins.

Since 1909 the Boilermakers have been a worthy foe of the Maroons, and this year's team is no exception. Chicago won last year's contest, after a hard fought game, 7 to 0, but Stagg's warriors will have to fight with all the physical energy they possess on Saturday to trot off the field still possessing a clear claim to the title.

Three Straight for Purdue.

In 1892, the year that Chicago was represented by its first football eleven, Purdue won by the overwhelming score of 38 to 0. The following year the Boilermakers repeated, winning by 20 to 10, and on the third occasion of their meeting Purdue won by a single touchdown, the final score being 10 to 6.

In 1894 Chicago scored its first victory, and from that time until 1901, when the game resulted in a tie, the Maroons won every contest. Chicago's superiority from 1901 to 1910 is shown by the one sidedness of the scores, but beginning with the 1910 eleven the Boilermakers have been a harder nut to crack, until this year they will come to the Maroon stronghold with an even chance to win.

The Purdue team, alumni, and supporters are sure they will break Chicago's string of victories this season. The eleven is one of the strongest that ever has represented the school on the banks of the Wabash. The team is strong in all departments of the game, and with an even break in the luck, a factor in all football struggles, Purdue will give the Midwayites a battle worth going miles to see.

Back Field Better than Maroons'.

With Oliphant in the backfield, the Purdue backs have a slight advantage over the Maroon trio of ground gainers. With the exception of center, the visitors' line will be stronger, but Chicago will have a slight advantage on the ends. There is not much to choose between the quarterbacks.

Both teams are coached by men who know every angle of the game. For one of the few times in his long career Stagg's eleven will be sent into the game without having a thorough knowledge of Purdue's style of play. The Maroon mentor has not kept in touch with the system in vogue at Pennsylvania in the last ten years, and as a result the attacks planned by Coach Smith of Purdue, a former Penn mentor, may bewilder the Maroons for part of the game at least.

Both teams are fortunate in being well fortified with substitutes. Purdue has been taught to play a hard, but clean game of football. This is a Pennsylvania method and the Maroons cannot expect to be handled with care on Saturday. When they are tackled they will know they have been hit, and the same is true of interference. The Boilermakers tackle with deadly results. In their game with Northwestern several of the Purple players had to call for time as the result of hard and clean tackles.

Battle for Chance at Title.

It should be one of the hardest football games of the year in the west. Both teams will be coached to the height of football perfection. The players realize the winning of this game will put their team in line for the championship, the goal of the gridiron season. Consequently nothing will be overlooked by the coaches or players to secure a victory.

The Purdue Alumni Association of Chicago will hold a football dinner tonight at the Boston Oyster house. Ten instructors of the Boilermaker institution, who will be guests of honor, will deliver speeches on Saturday's game.

The Michigan Aggies, who will meet Wisconsin on Saturday, will arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning. The team will go through signal practice at one of the local ball parks and will leave for Madison on the morning of the game.

BACK BROKEN IN GRIDIRON GAME

Physicians Believe Ohio Youngster Will Recover Despite Nature of Injury on Football Field.

Canton, O., Oct. 22.—An X ray examination of the injury sustained by 17 year old Joseph Nist in a football game last Sunday disclosed that the fifth lumbar vertebra in his back was broken, but physicians say he will recover. Nist, who was quarter back of the Brier Brae eleven, was running with the ball when he was tackled and thrown hard. Paralysis of the lower limbs, which generally follows injuries of this nature, has not appears in Nist's case and this leads physicians to believe he will recover.

BOWLERS TOPPLE MANY PINS.

Tropics Average 938 1-3 and Take Three Straight from Brunswick Team in City League.

The City and Bryn Mawr leagues went after the pins in heavy style last night, between them monopolizing the limelight on the bowling circuit. Flenner's league put up enough good marks to make the fans remember old times, no fewer than seven men turning in double century series. The Tropics put a star performance, a triple success over the Brunswicks rewarding their efforts. Behrent with 217 and Kruesow with 203 got the lion's share of the counts, with Kerr marking time for the losers.

Blatz players annexed two games from the Flenners in another fast series, J. Blouin getting 214 1-3 and R. Rolfe drawing 218 2-3. The Blatz team averaged 956 2-3. Jimmy Stevens also shot well in the league. The Lipmans won three from the José Gomez and the Bell Tailors cleaned up at the expense of the Davis & Fersons in the other two combats.

O. Trader landed the night's high series with 223 flat for the Gibsons in the Bryn Mawr league, but he had Secretary Ed Healey setting the pace in the first and third games. The Gibsons won three straight from the Mordas and averaged 987 2-3, with 1,016 at the finish. Louis Closen's 215 2-3 for the South Waters and Easley's 214 1-3 with a 588 1-3 series for the Crescents were other features.

MAROONS SEE PURDUE PLAYS

Freshmen Elevens Show Tactics of Boilermakers.

VARSITY MEN 'SPECTATORS.'

Norgren, Des Jardien, and Breathed Desert Hospital Squad.

BY MAROON.

The idea that spectators often know more about football than the players themselves was given a fair tryout yesterday by Director Stagg. The Maroon varsity candidates assumed the rôle of football fans and watched with critical eyes Purdue plays as enacted by two freshman teams.

Every play and formation used by Purdue this season was staged for the benefit of the varsity men. Coaches Page and Sauer, who saw Purdue in action in both of its conference games, instructed the first year men in the plays, and they ran them off without a hitch.

It is part of Director Stagg's plan to have his pupils assimilate all the football knowledge they possibly can acquire and at the same time learn just what to expect from Coach Smith's men. While it was apparently a rest from the usual tough sessions of scrimmage, the Midway director saw to it that his pupils gave strict attention to every detail of the Purdue attack, as shown by he freshmen.

Purdue Interference Shown.

Another advantage gained by the "spectator" style of coaching was that the Maroons were given an opportunity to learn what kind of interference to expect from their opponents on Saturday. The Boilermaker backs have perfected themselves in the running game, and have four or five men forming interference for men in end runs. The problem of breaking up this style of interference was presented to the Maroons.

Director Stagg also lectured the Maroons on technical points of the game and ordered them to tackle lower and with greater force. He followed the lecture with a signal drill, during which the new plays were gone over. The program was concluded with a sprint in which all the candidates joined.

Three Players Rejoin Squad.

Capt. Nogren, Des Jardien, and Breathed, all of whom have been on the hospital list, appeared on the field in good shape. They have been given extra attention by the medical experts and trainers and are not likely to be hampered by their injuries in the game with Purdue.

Breathed probably will be used at quarter against Purdue. The unfortunate veteran has been making a good showing at practice and probably will be given a chance to earn his letter in the rest of the contests.

PURDUE RUNS OVER SUB TEAMS.

Regulars Try New Offense and Make Four Touchdowns Against Second Eleven and Freshmen.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Trying their new offense against the second team and then against the sturdy freshmen, Coach Smith's Purdue regulars this afternoon showed unusual strength and scored four touchdowns in rapid succession.

The team practiced in a drenching rain and the rule forbidding spectators on the field was rigidly enforced. East returned to the squad, having removed a condition and it is not yet decided whether he or Applegate will start the game at fullback. Burns, a substitute guard, has been showing improved form and there is a possibility of getting a berth in the line.

Phelps, substitute half back, is suffering with a broken finger and this crippies the second string of back field men. The Purdue squad will leave here on Friday morning for Chicago.

Rencesias, 34; Salem A. C., 4.

The Rencesias of Hamilton Park opened the basketball season last night with a 34 to 4 victory over the Salem A. C. quintet. The accurate tossing and splendid defensive work of the winners featured the contest.

In the Football Camps.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—An all day rain covered Jordan field with two inches of water today and outdoor practice at Indiana was not attempted. The gym was thrown open for the football squad and formations and signals were practiced. The entire time was devoted to defensive work. Trout, the star half back, who was injured last night, will not be able to play on Saturday. He will be replaced by Fleming. Indiana will go into the Illinois game minus the services of Davis, Worsey, B. Whitaker, Trout, and Johnson, all first string men.

AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Coach Yost and his crippled varsity eleven left at 7:30 tonight for Nashville, where the team will meet Vanderbilt on Saturday with little preparation since the M. A. C. disaster. Several thousand students accompanied the squad to the station in a downpour of rain. The student body still has confidence in Yost and his team. Jimmie Craig, the sensational half back, who played on the varsity for two years, has made up his mind to don football armor and try for his old job. Jimmie will be on the job next week. Twenty men were taken to Nashville. Bushnell, a veteran, who has been out of the game, was in the squad and will get into the game.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 22.—Coach Williams warned his Minnesota football team today that the game scheduled for Saturday will not be the procession across North Dakota's goal line that the members of the team expect. North Dakota was beaten easily by a minor college team last week, but was without the services of its best back field men. However, supporters of Minnesota expect a big score on Saturday. All players injured in the Nebraska game were in the scrimmage today and will start against North Dakota.

AT NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Driven indoors by a soaking rain, the Notre Dame squad was forced to practice in the big gym this afternoon. For thirty minutes the varsity line bucked the scrubs, after which signal practice was ordered. Believing the squad sufficiently well drilled in straight football, Coach Harper confined the practice to trick plays and passes to be used in the West Point game.

The coaches have finally decided to use Gushurst at right end, with Capt. Rockne at left end.

ILLINI ROOTERS ASK DUNNE TO ACCOMPANY THEM ON JAUNT.

Invite State Executive and Wife to Ride with Them on Excursion to Indiana Football Game.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special]—Gov. Dunne will ride to Indianapolis to see the Illinois-Indiana football game on Saturday as a guest of the Illinois rooters on the special excursion train leaving here Saturday morning if the wishes of the Orange and Blue rooters are acceded to by the chief executive.

An invitation to the governor and Mrs. Dunne to be guests on the special was sent to Springfield as soon as it was known that the governor had accepted the invitation of Gov. Ralston of Indiana to be his guest. Gov. and Mrs. Dunne probably will come to Urbana Friday night as guests of Capt. John R. Trevett, member of the board of trustees, who will accompany them to Indianapolis as representative of the university administration.

The Illinois rooters were tickled over the news that the governor would forsake the cares of state to lead the rooting in Hoosierdom, and Gov. Dunne will be greeted with special cheers Saturday morning.

Rain fell heavily tonight, hampering practice in Illinois field. Coach Zuppke took the Illini to the north field and worked his men with the slippery ball. "Ole" Lanache and Watson, who were crippled, reported in good shape. Zuppke refrained from scrimmage and may let the regulars go the rest of the week without actual combat.

De Paul Team Works in Rain.

Rain did not deter the De Paul football squad from participating in practice yesterday. The coaches used a slippery ball. With the return of Buckley the line will be strengthened. The remaining games are hard ones, and consequently the coaches are making every effort to improve the defensive work of the team.

DELAY ACTION ON PLEA OF PURPLE

Head of Life Saving Bureau Wires for Information on Hale Case.

UP TO EVANSTON CAPTAIN.

Gridiron Player Probably Will Be Held to Contract if Services Are Needed.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special]—S. I. Kimball, superintendent of the life saving service, today wired Capt. Jensen of the Chicago station for particulars concerning the application of Carrol Dwight Hale of the Chicago station for leave of absence to play football at Northwestern university. Pending a reply from Capt. Jensen action will not be taken on the request.

President Wilson yesterday received a telegram from the Northwestern coaches asking that Hale be permitted to sever his connection with the life saving service, temporarily at least. He turned this over to Supt. Kimball, who immediately wired for more information. If Capt. Jensen replies that Hale's services are needed it is probable Supt. Kimball will recommend that the request be refused.

PURPLE COACHES STILL HOPEFUL

Failing to receive definite information from Washington yesterday, Northwestern university football coaches still were hopeful that Carrol Hale may be granted a leave of absence from the life saving service to join the Purple football team. They were, however, far from optimistic over the chances of success.

A reply to the telegram sent to President Wilson was received by H. Franklin Oates of the university yesterday. The telegram, which bore the signature of J. P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, was as follows:

"Telegram received and brought to the attention of the secretary of the treasury for immediate action."

The attitude of Capt. Jensen in refusing to allow Hale to leave the service for football is the basis for failing hopes. Jensen yesterday said he did not believe Hale would be in physical condition to play on the football team if he were allowed to resign.

"I do not believe any action will be aken permitting Hale to resign from the crew," he said. "A life saving crew is more important than a football team. This is the season of the year when we are most likely to be called on for service."

Squad Drills in Rain.

Coach Dennis Grady spent a large share of the afternoon yesterday trying to develop a new punter and goal kicker to take the place of Patterson, whose leg was broken in the Illinois game. Grasett and Peiffer are the two most likely candidates, and Coach Grady drilled them for two hours in Patten gymnasium. Whittle, who is back in the game, also is a possibility as a punter.

The varsity was given a scrimmage against the freshmen in the rain, and a signal practice also was held. The back field is giving the coaches much concern. The scarcity of heavyweights has made it impossible to get a heavy, experienced set of backs.

Director Omer plans to inaugurate a new custom in honoring the "N" men of Northwestern university. Beginning with the Iowa game next Saturday, Omer will have "N" benches placed upon the side lines at all football and baseball games and track contests. Athletes who present their "N" credentials will be admitted free to the coveted bench of honor. Omer has sent out over 200 invitations to alumni who possess a university letter, and says he expects to have his "honor benches" crowded at the Iowa-Northwestern game.

Coach Lewis Omer of Northwestern university will give his cross-country squad a tryout today in preparation for the meet with Chicago on Nov. 8, the day of the Maroon-Purple football game. A squad of fifteen men is in training. Several who have shown well are Capt. Traxler, Ferris, Gray, Greer, and Howard Osborn. Omer's star half-miler. Today's meet will be an open affair, freshmen as well as upper class men will contest. Next week Omer plans another tryout limited to those seeking places on the cross-country team. The tryouts are over a two mile course around the campus.

ATHLETIC STARS TO COMPETE AT DEXTER PARK INDOOR MEET.

C. A. A. Men and Collegians Named for Events in Games at the National Dairy Show.

Chicago athletes will pry the lid off the indoor season tonight at Dexter Park pavilion, where three real leonteets are to inaugurate the athletic program which will be a feature of the national dairy show. Star performers have entered for the pole vault and 1,000 yard run, and a fifty yard dash limited to collegians who are here as members of cattle judging teams also is expected to attract a strong field. The athletic events will continue throughout the show, which ends Nov. 1.

The Illinois Athletic club will not enter athletes in the meet, but good fields are assured in all the events listed. Coach Delaney of the C. A. A. has named several of his stars for the 1,000 yard run tonight, including Sauer, Hill, Darwent, Palmer, and Nye. Osborne, the Northwestern university star, will compete for the Purple school. Meeker, a former Maroon runner, and R. Mueller of Lewis institute will complete the field.

Shaw, Wagoner, and Coyle will represent the Cherry Circle in the pole vault. Shaw is present junior national champion. Wagoner, a former point winner for Yale, is holder of the national title, and Coyle, did some good work while a member of the Maroon track squad. F. B. Murphy of Illinois university, who also has represented the I. A. C.; G. H. Sears of Lewis institute, and E. W. McLain also will try for the vault prizes.

ILLINOIS DEPARTMENT.

Dear Wake: Well, the Daily Illini fell for your verse, declaring Illinois had a champion at last! Please don't make Illinois a laughing stock just because some simps exist. every game and wasn't scored on. Yet, these persons declare the team should have made large scores. Cut out the Illinois Department. If you don't, you'll sure have some awful dope to print. Don't make us a joke. "Illini" is plural, but you can say "an Illini," just like "an Oneida." W. Y. Z.

To make Illinois a laughing stock or a joke is furthest from our intention and power. Possibly we will have to print some awful dope, but probably no worse than some we have printed. You assert, sir, that we can say "an Illini," but you don't tell us how to say it.

With Cole, Henninger, Hal Weeks, Bennett, Tom and Harry Hammond, Heston, Hugh White, Benbrook, and Redden on hand, Yost will have a pretty fair nucleus for a football team.

According to Eckle, Wisconsin last Saturday failed to show knowledge of one of the cardinal points of football, which is just the kind of point one would expect Wisconsin to have down pat.

If President Comiskey were willing to release Ted Easterly, Ted might go to the Milwaukee club, were it not for the fact that Milwaukee doesn't want him.

No one who has seen Northwestern play this year doubts that the team needs a life saver.

IN THE FOOTBALL CAMPS.

AT CHICAGO.

Yesterday's practice was behind locked gates and no outsiders were permitted to look on. The freshmen, using Purdue plays, gained ground consistently and the varsity was afterward lectured by Coach Stagg. The men were kept working until long after dark, using the ghost ball when daylight had died out.

AT PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 22.—Coach Andy Smith, fearing Chicago scouts, drilled his men in secret today. They were made to practice until long after dark, the ghost ball being much in evidence. The first year team, using Chicago plays, tore large holes through the varsity and Coach Smith gave his charges a severe scolding.

AT ILLINOIS.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 22.—The ghost ball was in evidence here today, Coach Zuppke keeping the Illini at work until long after dark. The freshmen eleven, employing Indiana formations gained ground at will through the varsity defense, and the regulars were "called" by the coach for their inability to stop the yearlings. The practice was behind locked gates.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 22.—Coach Jimmy Sheldon refused to call a halt in the practice at the approach of darkness. He brought out a white-washed ball and kept the varsity hustling until long after supper time. The freshies, utilizing Illinois plays, gained large gobs of ground through the regulars, who brought down on their heads the wrath of the coach. The entire drill was secret.

AT NORTHWESTERN.

Sullivan, the remaining member of the Northwestern football team, scrimmaged behind closed gates yesterday. Coach Grady and his assistants were going to keep him working after dark with the ghost ball, but the squad broke his neck early in the drill and had to be carried to the hospital. He will not be able to play again until he has graduated. After the injury to Sullivan the coaches gave up the ghost.

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 22.—Coach Hawley has decided to send ten men to Evanston for the Northwestern game Saturday. The Hawkeyes did their best work against Chicago while using that number, so they must not be taken as an insult to the deep Purple. If Iowa seems to be losing Gross will be sent in at quarter back, perhaps too late.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 22.—Coach H. L. Williams, assisted by the All American teams of 1850 to 1900, inclusive, gave the Gophers a long drill with the ghost ball today after an unsuccessful effort to call off the remaining games of the schedule.

AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 22.—Coach Yost goes south with his team tomorrow. The coach has hopes of holding Vanderbilt to a low score because he and Dan McGuire married sisters.

CRANE GAME TEST FOR W. P. ELEVEN

Battle Will Afford Comparison of Phillips Squad with Hyde Park.

EASY CONTEST FOR RIVAL

Bowen, the Leading Contender Among Minors, Will Tackle Medill on Saturday.

Comparison of the respective ability of the two contenders for the Chicago High School Football league championship—Wendell Phillips and Hyde Park—may be drawn from the result of games in the second round on Saturday. Wendell Phillips will meet Crane, which lost its opening game to Hyde Park last week, 27 to 0.

Although scores often are deceptive in figuring out the comparative strength of two teams, the eleven which defeats another by a wider margin than its rival should be regarded as favorite for the honors. If Wendell Phillips succeeds in downing Crane by a much larger score than Hyde Park did last week it should rank as the choice for the title.

The game with Crane did not show the difference in the team play of last Saturday's contestants. At least two Hyde Park touchdowns were the results of flukes. Crane probably has greater possibilities among its green material than any other major eleven in the league. It defends stubbornly, but its weakness is in its offensively.

If W. P. insists on playing the line plunging game it will find Crane a hard nut to crack. Hyde Park did not gain more than thirty to forty yards through the forwards in the entire game.

Hyde Park will tackle Schurz, which lost to Englewood last Saturday. On the early performance Hyde Park should win by a bear margin. Englewood will meet Lane in the third major game, and another defeat for the technical students will eliminate them from the race.

Oak Park majors, after playing their only tie game of the season against the Clinton eleven last week, will go back to the "soft" stuff this Saturday, when they meet New Trier in the suburban league at Phipps field.

WHITE SOX AGAIN DOWN GIANTS, 7-3

Bland Jeff Tesreau Real Beating at Ottumwa, Getting Ten Bingles.

FIRST ON DALY'S HOMER.

Callahans Sew Up Contest in the Fifth, Scoring Three on Two Hits and Two Errors.

Ottumwa, Ia., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The White Sox took their second straight win from their National league opponents, the New York Giants, this afternoon, 7 to 3, before one of the biggest crowds that has ever seen a baseball game in this city.

The Sox swooped down upon Jeff Tesreau and gave him a real trimimng, registering ten hits during the contest. "Reb" Russell, who performed on the mound for the White Sox, was in fine fettle and had an easy time keeping the National leaguers at bay throughout.

Comedians Supply Fun.

Both teams had their fun furnishers and the stands as well as crowded bleachers were entertained by the comedy supplied by Schaefer of the Callahan tribe and Mike Donlin of the Giants, who appeared on the coaching lines. Homers by Merkle of the McGraw tribe and Daly of the Sox were among the features of the game.

The Sox started the pyrotechnics in the second frame, when Daly, the first man up, landed a circuit drive over the left field fence. Following this White walked, but no more runs scored, as Schalk flied out to Lobert, Rath sided to Doyle, and Russell sent a high one to Thorpe.

A good chance to score got away from the Sox in the next round. Weaver was out on a grounder to Doyle for a starter. Schaefer walked and Chase flied out to Magee. Crawford clouted a sassy grounder to Doyle, who fumbled long enough to permit everybody to be safe. Then Schaefer and Crawford pulled off a double steal with huge success, but Daly ended the round by fanning.

Merkle's Double Scores Run.

The Giants put over the tying counter in the fourth, when Lobert flied to Crawford and Doyle walked. Merkle following with a single to center.

The big doings for the Sox came in the sixth, three runs crossing the plate before the tribe of Callahan could be retired. The rally was started by Weaver, who clouted a double to right field. Schaefer took three healthy swings, missing each time, and walked to the bench. Chase, next up, placed a single in center, and Weaver scampered home. Crawford poked a grounder at Lobert, who fumbled, Chase going to third, while Crawford reached first safely. Daly cracked the ball to Doolan, who followed Lobert's example and booted the ball, filling the bases. Joe White then smashed out a double, on which Chase and Crawford rode home, but Daly was thrown out trying to reach third on the play.

Giants Make Two in Ninth.

In the seventh round Schalk lived on Lobert's error and scored on singles by Roth and Weaver. The Giants' last two counters in the ninth were the result of Schaefer's and Daly's error and Merkle's homer. Score:

BALL TOURISTS SHUN FT. SMITH

Report That Souvenirs from Prison Gallows Would Be Presented Keeps Sox and Giants Away.

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Because a story appeared in a Chicago paper to the effect that when the White Sox and Giants arrived here to play an exhibition game on their world tour, local fans intended presenting Managers Comiskey and McGraw with watch charms made out of nails taken from the old federal gallows, on which nearly 100 men were executed, the game has been called off.

This, at least, is the explanation given by Comiskey in a letter received here last night. According to Comiskey any souvenir that includes a suggestion of death is as popular with ballplayers as smallpox.

The Chicago magnate says he was informed that the charms had already been cast and that local fans were anxiously awaiting the arrival of the tourists so the souvenirs could be presented to the leaders of the teams. Under the circumstances, Mr. Comiskey pleads, a game here could not be entertained.

BAKER TO RETIRE FROM GAME.

Rumor Is Out That Athletics' Great Slugger Will Quit Baseball to Engage in Business Career.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—Baseball fans in this city were startled this afternoon when a report became current that John Franklin Baker, third baseman of the Athletic baseball team, the world's champions, might quit the game to enter upon a business career. It was said that while Baker has not yet decided upon his future plans, he is seriously considering such a step. Connie Mack, when asked about the report, said he had heard nothing from Baker regarding the matter. "I am inclined to believe," said Mack, "that Baker will be seen with the Athletics next season. If he does quit the game there is nothing for us to do but fill his place."

WHAT IS HAPPINESS?

SPEAKER TO JOIN SOX TODAY

Boston Fielder Will Meet Chicago Team at Sioux City.

NO CANCELLATION OF TRIP.

President Comiskey Says Tour Will Be Completed at Any Cost.

BY SAM WELLER.

Tris Speaker, the star outfielder of the American league, is expected to be among the White Sox and Giants today and take part in the game at Sioux City as one of the Sox members in the world's tour. The star Boston player reported to Charles Comiskey here yesterday and expressed eagerness for the trip around the world.

The Old Roman made another payment on the expenses of the long trip yesterday and laughed at the idea of any one even supposing the trip around the world would be called off. He says it will go through whether any money is made or not.

Comiskey had intended to go to the Wisconsin woods last night for two days of shooting, but gave it up because of pressing business. President Johnson of the American league then changed his plans and went to northern Michigan for his outing instead of Camp Jerome, in Wisconsin.

Several members of the Cubs departed for winter quarters yesterday. Jimmy Lavender started for his home in Georgia, but because of the bad weather he gave up his plan to make the journey by motorcycle. Heine Zimmerman was about the only one left here and he plans to leave for New York the latter part of the week, possibly staying to see Chicago and Purdue clash on the football field on Saturday. Ward Miller wasted no time in getting to his farm near Dixon, Ill., and said he expected to be wearing a husking peg tomorrow.

Konetchy Deal a Winter Yarn.

Ottumwa, Ia., Oct. 22.—President Hempstead and Scott Kinsella of the New York Nationals, who arrived with the Giants and White Sox on their world tour, stated today that there was nothing to the report that First Baseman Konetchy of St. Louis would become the property of the New York club in exchange for Fred Merkle and another New York player. Manager McGraw also denied all knowledge of any impending trade.

At the annual meeting of the Norge Ski club held yesterday at 1700 North Washtenaw avenue it was decided to hold the next tournament at Cary in January. Knudson will try to break the world's record of 169 feet, made by Ragnar Omtvedt of the Norge club at Ironwood, Wis., last year.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Louis Olsen; vice president, John Bjornson; secretary, M. L. E. Jensen, 2208 McLean avenue; treasurer, Christ Bjerkel; financial secretary, Arne Slettner; trustees, H. Finstad, Dr. J. Hanshus, Carl Olsen.

WELSH VS. MURPHY CARD AT KENOSHA

English Lightweight and Boston Boxer Matched for Bout on Nov. 10.

TEN ROUND CLASH BILLED.

Briton's Manager Accepts Terms and Rivals Probably Will Sign Today.

BY KNOCKOUT.

Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, and Eddie Murphy of Boston have been matched to meet in a ten round bout before the Kenosha A. C. of Kenosha, Wis., on Nov. 10. The fighters have agreed to make weight at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Promoters from the Badger State club have received the consent of Harry Pollak, manager of Welsh, and little difficulty was experienced in inducing Murphy's manager, Mickey McBride, to accept the match. Pollak and Welsh will be in the city today and forfeits will be posted.

Although the Kenosha promoters have lost money on their previous shows this year, they believe Murphy and Welsh will attract a capacity house. Murphy has many friends in Chicago, and, as this will be Welsh's first appearance in this section, a number of fight fans probably will make the trip to see the Englishman in action.

Murphy has made arrangements to do his training at O'Connell's gymnasium and Welsh will work at Lewis'. Willie Schaeffer has been engaged to act as Welsh's sparring partner and Frankie Lynn, Danny Goodman, and Steve Ketchel will box with Murphy. Both will start light training on Monday.

Murphy and Manager McBride returned yesterday from St. Louis, where Eddie met Jimmy Duffy of Buffalo in a ten round bout on Tuesday. The St. Louis critics called the contest a draw, but Murphy asserted he beat the New Yorker all the way. According to McBride, the club changed referees at the last minute. The arbiter who acted was partial in handling the fighters, but after the contest said Duffy had a slight shade. As a result of his decision a lot of money changed hands, although the referee is not supposed to give decisions in the state of Missouri.

Cal Delaney, the Cleveland bantamweight, who is matched to meet Matty McCue in a ten round bout at Racine on Oct. 28, boxed eight rounds at the Madison street gymnasium yesterday. Delaney has made a lot of friends by his clever work and a number of them will go to Racine to see the mill.

In the semi-windup to the Delaney-McCue contest, Billy Kauts of Racine will box eight rounds with Joe Bishop of Whiting, Ind. The weight will be 120 pounds at 3 o'clock. In the first preliminary Hugo Kelly of Racine will clash with Harry Haulesey of Burlington, Wis. They will box four rounds at 133 pounds. Ted Fell of Racine and Julius Hochmann of Burlington, welterweights, will be the principals in the second preliminary of six rounds.

"Young" Saylor, who lost to Freddie Welsh last week at Winnipeg, claims a clean knockout blow floored the British champion in the ninth round of their fight. Saylor arrived in Chicago yesterday with his business agent, Barry Ferris, and will remain here another day or two before going to St. Louis to fight Dick Gilbert next Tuesday. According to Saylor, Welsh was not in the best of condition and claimed he was fouled when hit in the pit of the stomach.

WOLGAST BACK IN CADILLAC.

Says It's Unfair to Him to Say He Claimed Injury in Order to Escape Bout with White.

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—"It's unfair to me to say that I claim to be injured in order to escape a match with Charley White," said Ad Wolgast, who arrived home tonight from Milwaukee, where he was scheduled to battle White Friday night. "My doctor told me it would be suicide for me to enter the ring for two months and I followed his advice. I left a forfeit of $250 in Milwaukee to meet White as soon as I am able to fight. He will be the first man I'll tackle." Ad's two injured ribs are held in position by rubber bands.

GUS CHRISTIE BEATS SULLIVAN.

Badger Boxer Gains Shade, but Buffalo Scrapper Puts Up Clever Fight at Fond du Lac.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Jack [Twin] Sullivan was shaded by Gus Christie in their battle here tonight, but he upset all the dope by not only halting the knockout punch of Christie by lasting the distance, but by improving as the battle progressed. By a fierce rally at the finish he brought the crowd to its feet. Christie was absolutely tigerish in his attack. Early in the second round he opened up an old cut over Jack's left eye and the blood flowed profusely, nearly blinding Sullivan.

ARRANGE TOURNEY FOR 'PRO' GOLFERS

Open Meet for Players of Chicago and Vicinity to Be Held Next Month.

SEEK MORE COMPETITION.

Event Outcome of Discussion Following Poor Showing in Memphis Contests.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Chicago golf professionals and those living within a radius of 100 miles of Chicago will compete in an opent event early next month, the date and venue not having been settled. The tournament, which will be managed by Tom Bendelow of A. G. Spalding & Bros., is the outcome of a discussion held by a number of players on the train returning from the western open event at Memphis.

It was agreed that the eastern professionals who took the bulk of the prize money there had more opportunities for competitive play, and that if the western men hoped to succeed in future tournaments they would have to get more of the fire of competition.

A few of the western players have their state championships, but the Chicago "pros" have only the national and western open events to play in during the northern season.

The contestants in the coming tournament will play for a championship the title of which will be determined at the next meeting of the committee. An entry fee of $5 will be charged, and this, with the added money, will go to make up the prize list.

Women members of the Windsor Golf club yesterday celebrated the close of one of the most successful seasons in the history of the club. Prizes for the season were distributed, and a vote of thanks given to Mrs. S. J. Chadwick of the sports and pastimes committee.

DROUILLARD SHADES KETCHEL.

Earns Verdict Over Chicago Boxer by Superior Work in Three Rounds of Bout at Windsor.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Steve Ketchel of Chicago was shaded by Patsy Drouillard of Detroit in the opening mill of the Windsor season tonight. The margin was very slight. Drouillard's uncertain style of "awkward cleverness" puzzled the Chicago boy. Drouillard did most of the leading, using straight lefts to the face, followed always by a quick uppercut. Ketchel depended almost entirely on body jabs, rarely trying for the head. The Detroit boy seemed stronger throughout, earning his decision by special activity in rounds three, six, and eight.

CHICAGO COURTS WIN HIGH PRAISE

Prussian Penologists Astonished at Speed of Local Tribunals.

SEE ST. CHARLES SCHOOL.

Declare Volume of Work Done by Domestic Relations Is Remarkable.

Two Chicago courts, by their simplicity and efficiency, startled four Prussian penologists yesterday. The Municipal court system interested the Prussian jurists so much that they took a complete set of the blanks with them to use in the revision of the penal code of Prussia.

The other tribunal was the Juvenile court. The system of probation and the expeditious handling of cases by Judge Merritt W. Pinckney and his assistant, Miss Mary Bartelme, were praised by the delegates.

The delegation from Prussia, composed of August Plaschke, minister of justice and cabinet counselor, of Berlin; Paul Remppis, Prussian minister of the interior; Frederick Schlosser, royal Prussian privy councilor, and Herr Nickham, privy councilor, of Werl, visited the boys' school at St. Charles, Ill., yesterday morning and the Municipal and Juvenile courts in the afternoon. They were the guests of Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court.

Germans Praise System.

"The delegates were much impressed with the management of the St. Charles school," O. F. Lewis, general secretary of the New York Society of Prison Reform, who is accompanying the visitors on their tour of the United States, said. "They praised the management and the general system in vogue there."

The simplicity of the Municipal court system astonished the Prussians, who are accustomed to considerable formality in their court work. The abbreviated system of records which expedite the trial of cases and the procedure appealed most to Judge Plaschke. Judge Olson supplied him with all the details of procedure. The Court of Domestic Relations interested the delegates.

Calls Work Remarkable.

"The volume of work that one court does here is remarkable," Judge Plaschke said. "In Berlin we have 183 courts of first entry and one more trial court. Here Judge Olson tells me you have only fifty-seven Municipal and Circuit courts to which ours correspond. Also we have 150 courts of appeal. I do not see how you carry on the work of this great city with so few divisions of the city courts.

"It is wonderful how the charitable organizations join in aiding the Court of Domestic Relations. It is too bad that we have no such court. The probation plan of your Juvenile court is an important feature and the work of the probation officers is wonderful. We must have those features."

Mr. Lewis said the Chicago Juvenile court was the best in the world.

ROAD OFFICIALS STUDY PAVING

Inspect Various Kinds of Surfacing Used in Cook.

FOUR COUNTIES REJECT AID.

Logan, McLean, Knox, and De Witt Decline State Assistance.

The state highway commission—A. D. Gash, James P. Wilson, and S. E. Bradt—yesterday made an inspection of the roads in Cook county which it proposed to improve first.

The commission intimated clearly it is ready to pass upon the specifications for Cook county, and added it would require better roads where the traffic is heavy than in the rural districts in which the teaming is less.

On their trip of inspection they were accompanied by County Commissioners Board, Coonley, and Anderson. Their first stop was at Ontario street, where a concrete pavement has been laid. The large cracks on this concrete and the lack of repairs did not make a favorable impression.

Examine Evanston Roadway.

Next they examined Hinman avenue, in Evanston. This is a macadam street which has been resurfaced with a tar mixture. In the home county of both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bradt there are about fifteen miles of macadam roadways which need resurfacing.

Another stop was made on the mile of sample concrete roadway between Evanston and Niles Center which is now being constructed. Except for the first 200 feet laid the commission had no criticism. This first 200 feet appeared to be "soft" and rough for concrete.

Later an inspection was made of Twelfth street and of Milwaukee avenue, which the county board proposes to improve next summer. The members of the state commission will return later to inspect other roads.

Four Counties Reject Aid.

The one big surprise of the state commission since it came into existence last July was the failure of Logan, McLean, Knox, and De Witt counties to accept state aid in the construction of good roads. Bloomington is located in McLean county, Lincoln in Logan county, Galesburg in Knox county, and Clinton in De Witt couty, which are four of the more prominent cities of the state.

"My guess on the reason of their refusal is that much of the land in these counties is owned by wealthy men who live in the cities," said one of the members of the commission. "They do not farm. They rent their farms, and they probably figure they can get as high rents without roads as with them, so why should they reduce the amount of their rentals to pay taxes to aid their tenants?"

MODERN COLUMBUS IS 'BROKE.'

Promoter of San Francisco Trip Gets So Little Income That He Has to Abandon Caravels.

The receipts from the local exhibition at Cleveland, O., did not pay for towing the Columbus caravels from that harbor. That is the reason given by the men who took the Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria from Jackson park harbor in an effort to reach San Francisco with the boats in time for the 1915 fair for leaving the caravels at Cleveland, where it is believed they will abandon the trip, returning the caravels to Chicago. The vessels' masts are in good shape, a dispatch from Cleveland last night said, but leaks have made navigation impossible.

BRITAIN'S STAND REGARDING MEXICO WORRIES WILSON

Differences on Policy Which Is to Be Pursued May Lead to Strained Relations.

TALK OF ENVOY RESENTED

America Turned Down Compromise Which Would Have Put Gamboa in Presidency.

EUROPE MAY FOLLOW ENGLAND

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The United States has become involved in a dispute with Great Britain over the Mexican situation. The disposition of continental Europe is to follow the lead of the British government and there is a prospect of American isolation as the result.

The administration is becoming convinced that it made a mistake in soliciting European cooperation in connection with the settlement of a purely American question. It was believed such cooperation would create a world sentiment which would force Gen. Huerta to relinquish the presidency of Mexico.

But British, German, and other foreign interests in Mexico have become dissatisfied with the policy of the American administration because of their view that it promises the perpetuation of anarchical conditions in the distressed republic.

They have insisted that the imperative need of Mexico is a strong man able to exercise all the powers of dictator and prepared to adopt harsh measures in order to compel a cessation of strife. Such a man was Diaz in his younger days, and such a man, they say, is Huerta.

Refused Compromise Plan.

It developed today that in the early stages of the negotiations with Great Britain and other countries the British government suggested that, as Huerta was unsatisfactory to the United States, a compromise would be to offer Gamboa, until recently Huerta's minister for foreign affairs and now Huerta's candidate for the presidency.

Gamboa was not pleasing to this government, first, because of his associations with Huerta, and, second, because of information that, if elected, he intended to name Huerta minister of gobernacion, the most important post in the government.

The discussion regarding Gamboa was the beginning of the divergence between the United States and Great Britain. The negotiations reached a point where the United States expressed its displeasure over the course of Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico City. The British reply not only indicated a lack of sympathy with the American policy but is said to have been in the nature of a deliberate rebuff.

Carden Statement Resented.

Nor has the statement attributed to Sir Lionel Carden in Mexico City last night helped matters. In some quarters his statement was regarded as little short of insulting.

It is most unusual for a diplomatic representative to criticise publicly the policy of another government. Precedent, it is declared, warrants the United States in demanding of the British government some explanation.

The difficulty in the present instance is that this government has already been officially informed that Great Britain holds substantially the same views as those expressed in plain language by Sir Lionel.

TWO MADEROS ARRESTED.

Mexico City, Oct. 22.—Daniel and Evaristo Madero, brothers of the late president, have been arrested at Monterey, charged with complicity in a plot to turn over that city to revolutionists, according to dispatches printed in the newspapers here.

The two brothers are said to have been compromised by documents taken from dead rebels after a fight near Monterey.

Felix Diaz Defies Order.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 22.—Gen. Felix Diaz, in defiance of the intimation of the government that he proceed to Tampico aboard the steamer Corcovado and there disembark, has decided to remain at Vera Cruz, at least temporarily. He is unwilling to admit that he is not free to come and go and talks of a trip to the capital tomorrow or Friday.

According to reports current here tonight he is likely to return to Havana aboard a Mexican warship, and unless the orders from the capital are altered he will be left no choice.

ENGLISH COMMENT ON SITUATION

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Oct. 23, 3 a. m.—The Daily Mail sums up Great Britain's attitude regarding Mexico by saying it is merely a desire for lasting peace, which it thinks will be soonest obtained by helping Huerta because he is most likely to succeed in evolving order from chaos. Great Britain, it goes on, does not wish to antagonize the United States and would welcome any practical solution. It adds that the United States is well aware of this.

The Standard says the whole secret of the trouble lies in the rivalry of the United States and Great Britain for control of the oil fields. Diaz, it says, was not partial in granting concessions to foreign enterprises. Madero favored the Americans, and Huerta has reverted to the policy of Diaz, thus placing a check on the monopolistic schemes of the Americans and giving rise to the irritation displayed by the Washington government.

"Great Britain's attitude," it continues, "is perfectly correct and is based solely on considerations of peace and order in Mexico, in no sense antagonistic to the United States."

Dismayed at the inability to keep cooks and maids longer than a few weeks at the most, three Lake Forest families have pooled their interests and established a community dining service. The heads of the families are George Anderson, vice president of the First National bank of Lake Forest; Frank W. Read, cashier of the same bank, and George Findlay, president of the State Bank of Lake Forest. Other despairing householders will be admitted on approval of 90 per cent of the adult members of the community. There are six children in the three families, and at last report they were getting along well.

HAS COMPROMISE LAKE FRONT PLAN

Engineer Ewen Sends Sketch of New Scheme to Secretary Garrison.

ADVOCATES DEEP LAGOON.

John M. Ewen, consulting engineer, has mailed to Secretary of War Garrison a compromise plan for the development of the lake front between Twelfth and Fifty-fifth streets. The hearing of the subject, scheduled for yesterday, has been postponed until next month.

Briefly, the plan of Mr. Ewen is that a certain amount of land shall be filled in outside of the right of way of the Illinois Central railroad. Still farther lakeward there will be an island to be used for park purposes forever.

Foundation for Harbor.

Between the island and the made land Mr. Ewen would have a lagoon, connected with the lake at both Twelfth and Fifty-fifth streets, and at each of these points have a bridge connecting the island with made land. Mr. Ewen wants the lagoon so deep it will accommodate the largest ships on the lake. The underlying idea is that if the city ever decides to have a harbor on the lake front between these two points it will be protected by an island on the outside. In the meantime the layout can be used exclusively for park purposes.

North of Twelfth street Mr. Ewen would have a shelter harbor. His plan provides for filling in the lake out to the present breakwater and the construction of a breakwater farther out. In this area between Twelfth street and the river he would have a portion of the land reserved for docks.

Would Not Exclude Shipping.

Commenting upon his plan, Mr. Ewen says: "A considerable number of our citizens favor park development along this area to the exclusion of shipping interests, many of whom have been instrumental in the upbuilding of Chicago. These people do not believe that the shipping interests at any time will be of sufficient magnitude to warrant the building of docks along this area, and they may be right. Time only can determine this. If they are right the park plan proposed by them will never be disturbed.

"On the other hand, there are many who are in favor of doing everything possible to develop the shipping interests, who believe that in years to come the development for harbor will take place in this area. The point the harbor commission made is that the development of the parks should not preclude the possibility of harbor development in the future."

Col. H. C. Carbaugh of the staff of the South park commissioners has another plan for the improvement of the lake shore. Like the Ewen scheme, it provides for a compromise between the commercial and the park idea for using the lake front.

SOCIETY WOMEN TO TESTIFY IN MABEL STURTEVANT CASE.

Chicago and North Shore Residents Probably Will Be Subpoenaed Within Few Days by Federal Officials.

Many of the most prominent society women in Chicago and along the North Shore will appear before a federal grand jury in the next few days if the subpoenas which have been made out are served by the United States marshals. Subpoenas for the women have been out in connection with the government's charges against Miss Mabel Sturtevant, graduate of the law school of the University of Missouri, who is accused of using the mails to defraud.

Among the well known women, who are said to have been victimized by Miss Sturtevant and for whom subpoenas have been issued are the following:

Mrs. N. W. Harris, Mrs. John B. Murphy, Mrs. William R. Linn, Miss Elizabeth Brophy, Mrs L. S. Gordon, Miss Victoria Jorjorian, Mrs. George S. Isham, Mrs. J. R. Chapman, Mrs. Sadie W. Curtiss, Mrs. Byran Lathrop, Mrs. Byran Howard, all of Chicago, and Mrs. O. B. Tennis of Evanston, Mrs. Edward C. Allen of Wilmette, and Mrs. William McIlvaine of Hubbard Woods.

These women contributed to Miss Sturtevant amounts ranging from $10 to $100 as a result of her soliciting through the mails.

WARN COUNCIL OF TERMINAL HASTE

Citizens Suspect Scheme to Rush Approval of Pennsylvania Plan.

MAY FIGHT ORDINANCES

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The citizens' terminal plan committee appears to believe there is a scheme on foot to rush through the city council an approval of the railroad terminal plan of the Pennsylvania group of lines.

The citizens' committee yesterday made public its impressions or suspicions in a letter to the council committee on terminals. It refers to the action of the council committee as "hasty" and then says the reason for speed is without substantial basis.

The citizens' committee refused to permit its expert, Bion J. Arnold, to aid the council committee to prepare ordinances before Mr. Arnold has formed his conclusions and made his report. An idea of the meaning of the letter may be gained from the fact that the following attended a meeting of the citizens' committee during the day:

Alfred L. Baker, Alfred Cowles, Mrs. E. Blaine, Julius Rosenwald, A. A. Sprague II., Chas. S. Cutting, Walter L. Fisher, Morton D. Hull, David R. Forgan.

The seriousness of a fight on the ordinances probably will appeal so strongly to the railroads that they may ask the council committee to defer action until Mr. Arnold makes his report. Fifty-three affirmative votes are necessary to vacate streets and alleys, which the Pennsylvania plan contemplates. Seventeen votes block the ordinances. Ordinarily it would take eighteen, but one council chair is vacant by the death of "Manny" Abrahams.

State Law Fear Unfounded.

That the citizens' committee is aware of this situation is clearly indicated in the following paragraph of Mr. Baker's letter to Ald. Geiger, chairman of the council committee:

"The only reason which is given for the hasty action by your committee is the fear that the state public utilities commission may acquire jurisdiction over this matter on Jan. 1. We are able to find in the law creating the state commission no ground for this apprehension. Certainly it seems clear that no terminal plan which involves the vacation of public streets and alleys in this city can be carried out without the affirmative vote of the necessary percentage of the city council; and this will be just as true after the state public utilities commission is in existence as it is now."

Immediate Action Planned?

John F. Wallace, the city's expert, presented his report to the council committee on Monday and the members at that time decided to go ahead and "take up his report and the ordinances" requested by the Pennsylvania group. The motion was not put in concise form, so that it could be determined finally and definitely whether the committee intended to take action upon the ordinances, either recommending or rejecting them.

One of the members of the committee asserted that no promise of delay in final action was intended by the motion. When the meeting was over several members thought a mistake had been made. Then an effort was made to get Mr. Arnold, the citizens' expert, to sit in with the committee while it considers the ordinances.

In reply, the citizens' committee said it was the "unanimous opinion" of the committee that Mr. Arnold should not sit in.

LYNCH NEW YORK LABOR CHIEF.

Typographical Union Head Named by Gov. Glynn and Nomination Is Confirmed by Senate.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The senate tonight unanimously confirmed Gov. Glynn's nomination of James M. Lynch of Syracuse, president of the International Typographical union, as state labor commissioner.

The senate twice rejected Gov. Sulzer's nomination of John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, for the position.

After the second rejection Gov. Sulzer nominated Lynch. The nomination was never reported from the senate finance committee in order to withhold minor appointments in the department from Sulzer.

POLITICIANS EYE PLANS OF WOMEN

Watch Peoria Convention, Where Suffragists' Policy May Be Decided.

FACTION ROW EXPECTED.

Politicians have centered their attention on the three day state convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association in Peoria beginning on Nov. 6.

The belligerent attitude taken by some suffragists in the late Fifth Supreme court campaign has increased the general interest in this approaching session. Gossip indicates there will be a clash between the element led by Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the association, and the women who side with Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Antoinette Funk, and Mrs. Sherman Booth over the advisability of the fight the three women made in behalf of the Progressive nominee for Supreme judge, Arthur H. Shay.

Chief Renounces Speakers.

Mrs. Trout wrote a letter to Thomas A. Grier, a conspicuous business man of Peoria, saying the projection of the woman issue into the campaign was no part of the policy of the state organization. The same position was taken publicly by Mrs. H. M. Brown, president of the Peoria association, which will entertain the state convention next month.

The politicians, particularly those interested in the coming legislative campaign, are interested to know what steps will be taken by the organized women in regard to the next general assembly.

The "wets" are wondering whether the suffrage convention will make an organized attack on the liquor interests, with particular reference to the local option issue.

Option Elections in Sight.

Local option elections will be held in twenty-three Illinois municipalities next month under the city and village local option law. The women will have their first chance to vote directly on the saloon question. It generally is held that every one of the twenty-three places will go "dry." Information from the various localities shows the women organized almost solidly against the saloons.

James C. McShane yesterday issued a statement which said he has not started actively as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, but admitted "many of my personal friends have suggested that I become a candidate."

HONOR TO GROVER CLEVELAND; BIG GOTHIC TOWER DEDICATED

Ceremony Connected with Completion of Graduate College at Princeton—Ex-President Eulogized.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 22.—Princeton university's graduate college and the Grover Cleveland memorial tower, which is included in the architectural scheme of the college buildings, were dedicated today in the presence of a distinguished company of learned men from Europe and America.

Gifts amounting to $2,850,000 for the erection and endowment of the college enabled Princeton to realize an idea conceived twenty years ago—the housing of graduate study in a body.

The tower was presented to the university by the Cleveland Monument association, which received gifts for the memorial fund from all over the United States.

President Hibben of Princeton presided and about him were former President William H. Taft, who delivered the memorial address on Grover Cleveland; representatives of practically all the universities and colleges in the United States and Canada; hundreds of alumni and delegates from English, German and French universities.

Former President Taft's estimate of Grover Cleveland as expressed in his oration was as follows:

"Mr. Cleveland was not a great lawyer; he was not a great economist; he was not a great orator; but he was a great president and a great man, and he was these because of the strong mind, clear intelligence, and wide knowledge of affairs. He had the character, honesty, courage, and sense of public duty which enabled him to meet great and critical issues without regard to personal consequences."

THOUSANDS CHEER SULZER'S ATTACK ON 'BOSS' MURPHY

Crowd of 50,000 Follows Ousted Governor to New York East Side Meetings.

PLEDGE CAMPAIGN HELP

Speaker Denounces Tammany Leader for Methods Used to Collect Great Wealth.

MENTION OF "THE CHIEF" HISSED

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—"I ask Charles F. Murphy if it is not true that I refused to accept $25,000 during my campaign for the governorship from Samuel A. Beardsley, the representative of the late Anthony N. Brady?"

With this question former Gov. William Sulzer started his campaign in the Sixth assembly district tonight. Probably 50,000 persons heard him ask it, in four meetings indoors and at four more in the streets while howling mobs of east siders "booed" the name of Murphy, shouted that they would send William Sulzer, first to the assembly, then back to the governor's chair, and finally to Washington as president.

"Mr. Murphy subsequently took this money," continued Mr. Sulzer, "and as far as I am informed he never accounted for it. We tried to prove this during the trial at Albany, but the Murphy members of the court excluded it. Why?"

New Question Every Day.

Mr. Sulzer announced that he would put a new question to Mr. Murphy each night of the campaign, and he invited the Tammany leader to answer them the following day in any way he likes.

Perhaps the east side has never seen anything that equalled the reception given to Mr. Sulzer tonight. Everywhere he went he was greeted by tremendous crowds, and everywhere the enthusiasm for him was at fever pitch.

A thin line of policemen who tried to club a way through the streets for his automobile were thrown about like ten pins and it was not until Mr. Sulzer himself climbed on the back seats and begged for a passage that he could make any progress.

At every stop he bitterly attacked Murphy and his men on the Tammany ticket, some of whom he named.

"Murphy took my office away from me," he shouted, bending forward and sweeping his arms about like flails, "but before I get through I'll take away his power."

The roar that greeted that was heard for blocks.

Crowd Bushes After Auto.

The Sulzer party left the Broadway Central hotel shortly after 9 o'clock. When the car reached Avenue A and Second street the crowd chasing the ex-governor let those standing know who it was that was passing by. In ten seconds every man and woman in the throng was running down the street after Sulzer, while he stood up and waved his hat to them.

"I am glad to greet you," he yelled, "because you are my friends and I am your friend. Your affection and unwavering loyalty warms my heart. As long as I live I shall never forget the people down in this part of the city. You sent me to the assembly, and advanced me until I was the youngest speaker the state had ever had. Then you sent me to congress for eighteen years. Finally you sent me to Albany——"

"Yes, and we'll send you back," the crowd yelled.

"I was put out of the governorship," Mr. Sulzer shouted, when the noise died down, "because I would not be a rubber stamp for Murphy. I would not be a proxy governor. I would not take my orders from 'the chief.'"

When he said "the chief" every man within hearing booed and hissed.

Calls Murphy State's Menace.

"In all my trials and tribulations," Sulzer said, after he had fought his way into the Casino, "I have had no more loyal friends than the Jews of the Sixth assembly district. You never deserted me and I believe in you as you do in me."

A salvo of cheers interrupted him again. He went on and then put his question which he wants Mr. Murphy to answer tomorrow.

"Charles F. Murphy is a menace to good government in our state," he barked out. "He tried to bribe me and he couldn't. No man ever bribed me or ever will. Bribes failing he threatened me and no man lives who can threaten—William—Sulzer."

Refers to Murphy's Wealth.

"Charles F. Murphy is worth $15,000,000," Mr. Sulzer said in one of his speeches. "Where did he get it?"

"Did he make it in the saloon he owned on Avenue C or driving a horse car?"

"No," yelled back the crowd.

"Did he make it as dock commissioner?"

"Well, partly," shouted some one in the crowd while the rest laughed.

"Did he make it as leader of Tammany Hall?" shouted Mr. Sulzer.

It seemed as if every voice in the crowd yelled "yes" to that.

Then Mr. Sulzer went on to speak of "Boss" Tweed. "He languished away and died in prison," he said. "Now we have a little Tweed. What is going to happen to him?"

NAME 15 IN VOTE FRAUDS.

Special Grand Jury Understood to Have Voted True Bills—Indictments Await Foreman's Signature.

After two weeks of close application the special grand jury named by Judge William Penimore Cooper to investigate frauds in connection with the election in Cook county last November, is expected to return fifteen indictments today. It is understood that Special State's Attorney Northup and his assistant, F. L. Fairbank, have the bills ready and that they await only the signature of the foreman.

SUFFRAGE FIGHT TO COVER NATION

Effort Will Be Made to Pledge All Candidates to Aid Constitutional Amendment.

DR. SHAW TELLS PLAN.

Campaign Will Be Made to Defeat Men Who Refuse to Promise Their Support to the Cause.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Defeat for reelection of all those who oppose the adoption of a constitutional amendment to assure nation-wide woman suffrage, including senators and representatives in congress and members of the state legislatures, is the avowed object of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, who arrived here today.

Dr. Shaw made this announcement today following a conference with Washington suffragists, at which plans were discussed for advancing the movement for the proposed amendment.

She will inaugurate her campaign at Lynchburg, Va., next Friday night, when she will address the Virginia Suffrage league, and proposes to continue it before other suffrage organizations in various parts of the country.

In a statement today Dr. Shaw denounced the detention of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffraget leader, at Ellis island, characterizing it as "ridiculous in the extreme." The only effect upon woman's suffrage in this country Mrs. Pankhurst's case would have, she said, would be to arouse sympathy for the cause.

SEEK TO SUPPRESS PAPER.

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—There was a prompt stirring up of official activity today when complaints began to come to the district attorney's office, to the police, to the offices of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, and to the chief magistrate's office about the writings of Miss Christabel Pankhurst in the copies of the militants' weekly English publication, the Suffraget, which were sold by young girls to anybody and everybody at the meeting addressed by Mrs. Pankhurst Tuesday night.

Anthony Comstock called on District Attorney Whitman to see what could be done to suppress the sale of the publication. Mr. Whitman would make no comment on the nature of his talk with Mr. Comstock, but a copy of the pamphlet:

"Vile, absolutely vile. Why, even in medical books I've seen these subjects are at least presented without the horrible rawness of this girl's writings. Think of a lot of young girls going around peddling this stuff right out in public to anybody—to other young girls, for instance, without let or hindrance."

Sees "The Lure"; Speaks.

Mrs. Pankhurst spoke to the audience at Maxine Elliot's theater tonight after she had seen two acts of "The Lure," the play dealing with the social evil. Mrs. Pankhurst occupied a box with Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Joan Wickham, and Miss Chrystal Bennett.

"I think the public is to be congratulated that the stage has at last awakened to its mission as a factor in public education and is presenting the sordid truths of life in a courageous fashion," she said. "The women of England are suffering from a sense of intolerable injustice and intolerable wrongs. We believe that the cause of those wrongs is that women are held as chattels; that they are regarded by the opposite sex as inferior beings; that they are held cheaply.

"We know that if we can raise the political status of our sex we will thereby increase the value of women in our country. We believe that by acquiring the rights of franchise we can create a single moral standard."

Disappointed at Sum Paid.

Mrs. Pankhurst and her friends are much dissatisfied because she does not believe she received as much of the gross receipts of the Madison Square garden meeting as she had expected. Her contract, according to this authority, called for a guarantee of $1,500, no matter how small the audience, and 40 per cent of the gross receipts. The total receipts were placed today in the neighborhood of $5,000.

She is said to have received only the $1,500 guarantee, however.

"Why didn't the Pankhurst meeting succeed? Because women didn't run it. Men don't know how to sell tickets to suffragists," Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, secretary of the National Suffrage association, said today.

SYLVIA PANKHURST RELEASED.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Sylvia Pankhurst was released under license today from Holloway jail. She is much enfeebled and emaciated in consequence of a hunger strike of a week's duration.

She was arrested on Oct. 14 as she was about to enter the Poplar town hall to address a meeting of militant suffragets.

The previous night Miss Pankhurst was the central figure of a fierce struggle between the police and a crowd of suffragets after she had addressed a gathering at Bow Baths, in the east end of London.

BUYS ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS.

John C. Shaffer of Chicago Will Operate Newly Acquired Paper in Connection with the Times.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 22.—The Rocky Mountain News, for the last twenty years owned and published by former United States Senator Thomas M. Patterson, has been sold to John C. Shaffer of Chicago, according to an announcement made by Senator Patterson tonight.

Mr. Shaffer also has purchased the Denver Times, the consideration for the two papers being $750,000. Henry D. Carbary will be general manager and Kent Shaffer, son of J. C. Shaffer, treasurer of both papers.

ELGIN WOMEN CAST FIRST VOTE.

Only 1,064 Out of 6,000 Take Advantage of Opportunity to Go to Polls.

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 22.—The women of Elgin played an important part today in a referendum election at which $162,000 worth of bonds were authorized for the installation of a municipal power plant and lighting system. Of the 6,000 women of voting age in Elgin 1,064 voted. It was their first ballot under the new suffrage law.

BANKERS AGREE ON LINE OF ACTION AS TO INCOME TAX

Chicago Institutions Reach Tentative Agreement, Pending U. S. Instructions.

LAW ATTACKED BY MAYER

Chicago Attorney Declares Chaos, Evasion, and Deceit Will Follow Its Enforcement.

CALLS COLLECTION PLAN WRONG

Fearing the government's interpretation of its complicated income tax regulations may not be issued this week, Chicago banks have united in a program whereby they will stand together. A week ago there was wide difference of opinion, and the bankers recognized the danger of being sued by their clients if they obeyed the letter of the law and being sued by the government if they did not.

There still is a wide difference of opinion on some features, but the program represents majority ideas on each feature. Should the government attorneys issue their interpretation within a few days, prior to Nov. 1, when the banks must begin acting one way or another, and that interpretation should differ from that of the banks, the present program will be abandoned. Otherwise the banks will act in concert and take a common chance of litigation from one side or the other.

Recommendation to Bankers.

Of prime importance to the houses dealing in real estate mortgages is this recommendation to the banking institutions:

"There is no obligation to withhold at the 'source' upon real estate mortgages made by individuals unless the annual interest exceeds $3,000."

This means there is to be no deduction of the tax imposed on the mortgagor in paying his interest or the investment house selling the mortgage unless the interest exceeds $3,000 a year. It is admitted by a rather broad interpretation and is particularly welcomed by mortgage buyers.

The committee, which was made up of representatives of most of the large banks, also made an important recommendation on the mooted question of what was to be done with certificates of deposit and accounts in bank. These it proposes to exempt from the tax except in cases where interest at the time of payment or credit exceeds $3,000.

Another Friendly Ruling.

Another ruling is friendly to corporation holdings. It provides no tax shall be levied on coupons proved to belong to the corporation in its individual capacity. Where it is in a fiduciary capacity—save for another corporation—there is no exemption.

There was particular division of opinion on the question of what time should be selected for the making of affidavits. One faction held strongly to the view that notices with regard to the matter should be given at the time of payment on the coupon. The other insisted the end of the calendar year should be chosen. On this matter in general the committee admitted it could make no recommendations.

But there was unanimous action to take care of the small investor perhaps dependent on receipt of interest at the regular date. On receipt of full sworn affidavit that he has an income of less than $3,000 or $4,000—according to his single or married state—he will be paid.

As full measure of protection the committee recommends that each bank keeps its notices of such exemption. Also it recommends that coupons be received for collection and not for credit, thus evading financial responsibility should payment be protested.

The banks are fervently hopeful the government interpretation will be out before Nov. 1.

Levy Mayer Attacks Law.

Asserting that chaos, evasion, and deception will follow the enforcement of the new federal income tax, Attorney Levy Mayer yesterday, in a statement given to the Manufacturers' News, declared the law will have to be amended in some of its principal features, and this at an early date.

"The utter impossibility of collecting the income tax at its source will be demonstrated promptly," said Mr. Mayer. "There is no more reason why agents should withhold the payment of coupons than the payment of dividends should be withheld. Chaos, evasion, and deception or mistake will be encountered at the outset on the part of the smaller taxpayers, assuming that the government will not experience difficulty in the instance of those having larger incomes.

"It should be remembered that there will be nearly 500,000 persons taxable under the income section of the tariff law. These half million individuals are scattered over a territory larger than half of Europe. The collection of the tax will be distributed among states with their hundreds of financial centers, as contrasted with England and its financial centers at only two places of importance, London and Liverpool.

The Collection Difficulties.

"It will be impossible for the government of this country to utilize as collections agencies these innumerable smaller precincts without insuperable confusion.

"These banks and fiscal agents are required to only collect 1 per cent at the source, and of course that deduction cannot and will not cover the rate when it is 2 or 3 or 4 per cent or more.

"I think it will become imperative to change these administrative provisions of the law if the government is to collect these taxes without fraud, evasion or—in the case of honest tax payers—possible, yes, probable duplication of taxation. It is impossible to apply the English system over a territory so vast as the United States and with so many widely separated financial centers.

"The simple remedy is to abolish the provision requiring collection of the taxes at the source of income and substitute a provision requiring that all persons shall file sworn returns of the amount of their income."

PAYS $70,000 FOR WABASH PROPERTY

Frederick S. Oliver Buys Leasehold and Buildings at 22d Street Junction.

HAS FAITH IN DISTRICT.

Looks to Railroad Terminal Moving for Advancement of South Side Values.

In a notable transaction in the South Wabash avenue district, Frederick S. Oliver of Oliver & Co. has purchased from Addison E. and Fred A. Wells the leasehold interest and the four story and basement stone front building at the northwest corner of Twenty-second street for $70,000. The ground, which fronts 50 feet on Wabash avenue and 120 feet on Twenty-second street, is owned by the estate of John D. Jennings and is under lease for ninety-nine years at the nominal rent of $2,000 a year. The lease has seventy-four years to run.

The building contains six stores facing on Twenty-second street and has offices and small apartments on the upper floors. Mr. Oliver will remodel the first and second floors of the building, installing new store fronts and lowering the entrances to the street level. Walter V. Peck was the broker in the deal.

Follows Terminal Activity.

An interesting feature of the transaction is the statement that the purchaser was influenced in making the deal because of the probable building of new railroad terminals on the south side, and particularly because of the through routing of trains on the elevated roads between the north and south sides.

The purchaser whose activities during recent years, both as a principal and as a broker, have largely been directed to the new south business district, has evidenced his faith in that section by acquiring within the last seven years the northwest corner of Michigan boulevard and Harrison court, the northeast corner of State and Eighteenth streets, and the northwest corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-sixth street in addition to the corner just purchased.

Flats Sold for $42,500.

The property in West Sixty-third street, 47 feet east of Marshfield avenue, 48x125 feet north front, with store and flat improvements has been sold by Mary M. Preacher to Margaret E. Sedgley for $42,500, subject to an incumberance of $25,000.

Margaret Dickinson has sold to Herman Kruger the property in Milwaukee avenue, 100 feet northwest of Fontenoy place, 25 5-6x125 feet, northeast front, with store and flat improvements, for $26,000.

Following the maturing of a purchase contract entered into ten years ago, Cyrus H. McCormick has conveyed to Mrs. Jennie H. Smeeth, president of the Smeeth-Harwood company, the property in Western avenue, 150 feet south of West Twenty-second street, 200x506 feet, east front, for $34,251. The property was vacant when first acquired, but later was improved by the company with steel frame factory buildings. Following the reorganization of the company some time ago Mrs. Smeeth was elected president and her husband, Edwin H. Smeeth, secretary.

Deals in Milwaukee Avenue.

William H. Totten has sold to John W. Recktenwald for the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee, the property at the southwest corner of Milwaukee and Sixtieth avenues, also the northwest corner of Fifty-ninth court, of irregular shape, with a frontage of 480 feet on Milwaukee avenue. A consideration of $1 appears in the transfer, but it is said the price was $15,000.

The same broker sold for John W. Recktenwald to Charles A. McDonald the southeast corner of Paulina street and Lawrence avenue, 55x125 feet, for $7,000.

George H. Scithers has sold to Joseph Glueckert and others one tract of 30 acres and one of 39.8 acres at the southwest corner of Foster avenue extended and Nagle avenue for $17,500.

The property at the southeast corner of Orleans and Erie streets, 97x72 feet, with brick business improvements, has been sold by David G. Alsop to Nicholas W. Sievers for $25,000.

Leavitt Street Flats Sold.

Samuel A. Farber has sold to Hulda Salzer the property in Leavitt street seventy-five feet south of Le Moyne street, 50x124 feet, east front, with flat improvements, for $20,000, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000.

Anton Kneisel has purchased from William Joern the property in Huron street 216 feet east of Leavitt street, 48x121 feet, south front, with brick improvements, for $16,500, subject to an incumbrance of $6,000.

Following the consolidation of Winslow Bros. company with the Hecla-Winslow company, the property of the former at the northeast corner of South Forty-sixth avenue and West Congress street and at the northwest corner of Harrison street has been conveyed to the new company, subject to an incumbrance of $70,000.

E. B. Woolf & Co. have sold for Max Mickel and Louis Pitzele to Henry J. Klein the business property at 1918-1920 South Halsted street, consideration nominal, but said to be $30,000. A six apartment building in East Sixty-fifth place, near Washington avenue, was given in part payment.

Former Probate Judge Charles S. Cutting will be the speaker at today's weekly luncheon of the Cook county real estate board and will talk on "Some Misapprehensions as to the Judiciary."

FINANCIAL EXPERTS TO FRAME CURRENCY BILL AMENDMENTS.

Senate Committee Agrees That Greatest Care Must Be Taken—Hearings Will Close on Saturday.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Plans for securing the aid of experts to frame proposed amendments to the administration currency bill were made today by the senate banking and currency committee. Hearings on the bill be closed formally on Saturday, and then consideration of amendments will begin.

Other witnesses whom the committee wishes to hear, particularly financiers familiar with the movement of gold between the United States and Europe who have not been able to attend so far, are to be examined as work on the amendments proceeds.

The members of the committee agreed that the framing of amendments must be done with the greatest deliberation, and each one will be submitted to an expert qualified to judge of its effects. Charles A. Conant of New York is one of those whose opinion will be asked.

Taylor Vinson of Huntington, W. Va., proposed an entirely new banking and currency scheme. He suggested the formation of a "treasury bank," through which the government itself should issue currency and extend rediscounts to national banks. He recommended that the collectors of internal revenue be made branch officers of this bank, to pass on credits, pointing out that they would have at their disposal as credit in formation the returns under the income tax law.

Light Receipts Send Fresh and Cold Storage Stock Higher.

BEST BUTTER ALSO RISES.

Live Spring Chickens Advance; Potato Prices Hold Steady.

Egg prices at Chicago yesterday advanced 1c a dozen and further slight gain was made in prices of better grades of creamery butter. Both fresh laid and cold storage eggs were affected by the upturn, light receipts, 4,733 cases, affording holders a favorable opportunity to dispose of refrigerator stock. Butter receipts were 5,831 tubs.

Live spring chickens sold at an advance of ½c a pound, while old hens were lowered ½c. Other descriptions of poultry were unchanged. Trade was fairly active, with receipts of 7 cars and 1,300 coops.

Reduced receipts of 40 cars of potatoes proved ample for the requirements of the trade and prices remained without change. The demand was quiet, with sales at 65@70c a bushel on track.

Fresh fruits and green vegetables met with a moderate demand. Supplies on sale were not heavy and prices showed little change.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Print cloth markets hold very firm. Narrow cloths still are quoted much below the parity of wide cloths of similar yarns. Jobbers of ginghams are looking forward to advances that have been held back for some time. Heavy colored goods are firm with the demand growing broader for deliveries into the early months of next year.

BLAIR UNOPPOSED IN TRACTION VOTE

Probably Will Be Re-elected Chairman of Board and Policies May Carry Today.

FOES GIVE UP BATTLE.

Campaign of 'Protective Association' Dropped by Beifeld and Allies.

Fifteen minutes probably will be enough for the election of officers of the Chicago Railways company today. Within that time it is expected Henry A. Blair will be reelected as chairman of the board and his wishes regarding the directorate will be carried out.

Threats of several varieties of trouble heard until a few weeks ago have disappeared completely, so far as representatives of the company know. The victory of the proxy holders' committee has been so overwhelming no fear of any objection to the brief formal program is looked for from the "protective association," which campaigned actively against the present officers for several months.

All One Way, Admits Beifeld.

"I don't see that there is any chance for an argument, since it has all gone one way," said Joseph Beifeld, one of the active leaders in the campaign.

W. R. Betham, another, has given his proxy to Mr. Blair and is now an enthusiastic supporter of his management.

The actual business of the meeting will be transacted by the five trustees of the stock of the company at noon. They will receive the report of the proxy holders committee, attested by the Northern Trust company as to the form of the proxies and other details, so there may be no room for legal question, and then they will put in effect the statement of the wishes of the committee.

Blair Holds 60 Per Cent.

More than 60 per cent of the proxies have been sent to Mr. Blair. The opposition at one time had proxies representing slightly more than 10 per cent of the total of 212,522 votes from the holders of the first three series of certificates; but it is believed that total has been reduced considerably during the month. Approximately 30 per cent, including widely scattered small lots of certificates, have failed to affiliate with either faction.

The board of directors to be elected carries only one new name, that of John Chapman, nominated to succeed Charles L. Hutchinson, resigned.

BREWING SHOWS BIG GROWTH.

Local Industry Gains at Remarkable Rate, According to Association of Commerce.

Along with other industries brewing appears to have grown at an extraordinary rate in Chicago, according to a report made yesterday to the Association of Commerce by the subcommittee of which Charles J. Vopicka, new minister to the Balkan states, is chairman. It is eighty years since the first small brewery was started. It had 400 barrels a year capacity. The 1910 beer sales in Chicago were 5,440,267 barrels, produced by fifty-four breweries and agencies employing 4,950 persons.

DISTILLERS CO. TO TRY NEW POLICY

Julius Kessler, New President, Will Reverse Usages of Old Regime.

MAY INCREASE EARNINGS.

Plans to Cut Down Interest and General Expenses by About One Million Dollars.

Under the direction of the new president of the Distillers Securities corporation, Julius Kessler, there has been inaugurated a reversal of policies of the former management, and Mr. Kessler's friends say he will be able to increase net earnings in the current fiscal year by approximately $1,000,000. The increase in net will be effected through savings in interest and in general expenses.

There is considerable assurance that the holders of the $30,815,280 stock will again receive dividends on their shares. The market for both bonds and stocks has shown an upward tendency since the election of Mr. Kessler, about one week ago. He has since become the president of the Distilling Company of America, the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse company, and other important subsidiaries.

Mr. Kessler has been given a free hand, both in business policy and the reduction in the personnel of the management. A salary agreement has been waived by the president until such time as he may determine his value to the corporation.

Will Cease to Store Stock.

One of the two features of the new regime will be the selling of the crop as it is manufactured instead of storing it as the company's own product for a period of four or five years. The former management in its annual report for the year ended June 30, showed bills payable of $8,349,672, being loans secured by whiskies held in the warehouse. This product is to be sold and the bills payable account discharged. Already about $2,000,000 has been paid off. It is thought that in the present fiscal year all the bills payable may be discharged. The interest account on current loans, according to the last annual statement, was $729,833.

The new plan involves selling the product ahead for a period of years. The sale is made on an agreed present price, and thereafter any advance in raw materials will be added to the price per gallon. This insures the company a known and fixed profit. Being the owner of warehouses the company will collect the usual storage charge from the purchasers of its output.

Bonds and Stock Advance.

The company's two particular sources of profit hereafter will be those of the manufacturer and the warehouse man.

The $14,092,711 5 per cent bonds of the company, which dropped as low as 53½, have advanced 7½ points in the last two weeks, and were quoted yesterday at 64½, after opening at 61. The stock was selling two weeks ago at 12, having previously sold as low as 9½. It was quoted yesterday at 19¾ high, closing at 18½.

Talk of Shipbuilding Preferred.

Rumors are in circulation to the effect that the next dividend on American Shipbuilding preferred may be deferred. A director of the company declined to discuss the matter, which might be taken to indicate that there was something in the rumor. If the dividend should be passed it would be an event wholly unexpected by the stockholders in general.

Changes in Rock Island.

Boston makes announcement that there will be a number of changes in the operating staff of the Rock Island system. President Mudge is to be retained. A representative director was quoted as saying:

"The system has been operated at 79 per cent of gross, according to my last report, which figure is exceeded by that of but one other railroad in the country. With the volume of gross business handled this is entirely too high and will be pared down if the management can accomplish it.

"The directors will in the future work more closely with the operating officials in an endeavor to bring about better results. The property is there and much money has been spent on it.

"The entire board is aware of this situation and will do its utmost to work improvements wherever possible. The exceedingly high operating expenses have resulted from increased taxes, higher wages, and greater cost of material. There has been no extravagance in the management so far as I have determined."

NEW YORK STOCKS DULL AFTER RISE

Tone Continues to Improve, Though Quotations Ease Off at Closing.

STEEL TRADERS WARY.

Industrials Make Big Gains Despite Depression in Other Issues.

New York, Oct. 22.—After the favorite stocks had relapsed a point or so from the higher level attained on yesterday's buoyant rise, interest in speculation died out today and the market became dull and flat. The tone improved and part of the early loss was recovered, but in the final hour quotations moved off again.

Bull leaders were not inclined to take an aggressive position, in view of the uncertainties of the general situation. Comparatively little significance was attached to the recent upturn, which apparently signified merely that short selling has been overdone. No considerable volume of outside buying was attracted by the rise.

Steel Trading Checks Market.

Steady pressure against Steel was effective in holding the market in check. Most of the bearish talk of the day centered about the steel stocks. The steel trade reviews spoke of further reductions in working forces, and it was announced that one of the steel corporation's subsidiaries had dismissed a large number of employés. Additional price reductions were reported.

The Mexican situation was again brought to the fore by the day's news, which exerted a restraining influence. London selling was another factor in depressing the market. Stocks were unloaded freely for London account on the opening break, chiefly Amalgamated and Canadian Pacific.

Declaration of 21 per cent back dividends on Vulcan Detinning preferred caused a jump of 15½ points in the stock. American Tobacco was again strong, its gain in the last two days amounting to 15 points. California Petroleum common and preferred were weak, falling to low records.

Bond Prices Ease Off Trifle.

Bond prices eased off a trifle. Distillers' 5s extended their recent rise by moving up 3½. Total sales (par value), $1,900,000. United States 2s registered advanced ⅛ on call.

Money on call steady, 3@3¼ per cent; ruling rate, 3¼; closing, 3@3¼. Time loans, easier; sixty days, 4⅝ per cent; ninety days, 5; six months, 4¾. Prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent. Sterling exchange firm, 4.8125 for sixty days, 4.8540 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.80⅝. Bar silver, 61. Mexican dollars, 47. Government bonds, firm. Railroad bonds, easy.

DENY MONOPOLY OF HARD COAL.

Five of the Nine Companies Sued by Government as Trust Ask That Case Be Dropped.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—Denials that they are parties to any alleged combination in restraint of the anthracite coal trade were filed in the United States District court here today by five of the nine companies mentioned in the government's suit to dissolve the so-called hard coal trust.

All the companies making answer today deny that they are parties to any agreement to control or monopolize either the production of anthracite or its transportation from the mines in Pennsylvania to market points in other states or its price or sale in or throughout other states.

They ask that the suit against them be dismissed.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The behavior of the stock market today reflected the natural hesitancy of sentiment after the violent bulge in prices on Tuesday. A sudden reversal of form of this kind always leads to a feeling of uncertainty as to its real significance and the street awaits further developments to get its bearings. On this account the stock market today appeared to be acting in a perfectly natural manner.

It betrayed no hollowness such as might have resulted from an elimination of buying power from a complete roundup of the short interest. To the general run of observers the market situation would have appeared very unstable if prices had promptly lost the greater part of the ground gained, but as it was, the slight relapse that occurred was not regarded as important. It was easy to account for on the score of profit taking sales and the tentative making of new contracts for the fall by speculators who thought that the advance, whatever its real impulse, had gone ahead too rapidly.

Probably the majority of market observers decided that it was too early to take it for granted that the main trend of prices had changed. It was argued that the advance on Tuesday was rather obviously accomplished by a heavy covering of contracts previously entered into for the decline. This movement may have been simply a correction of a temporarily oversold condition and a topheavy market, and, on the other hand, it may have been the outward and visible sign of a far-reaching change in the financial outlook, to be reflected in a gradual return of confidence in stock prices.

Even if the former be accepted as the explanation of the development, there is no evidence that the market has been deprived of the support of a short interest altogether. If a short interest had been created on the decline in ratio to the state of sentiment, it is hardly likely that it would have completely covered the rise that has occurred. It is remembered that in the advance from the low level in June the short position held on persistently for several months and probably was not finally eliminated until September.

If the present recovery in prices can yet be compared with what happened in June some points of difference may be pointed out. The turn in the stock market after the spring fall, which was by the way much more severe, was effected with deliberation. It was not a quick, sharp turn. It was a big turn in the sense that a large volume of stock was turned over at the bottom and that the stock market seemed to hesitate for some days before it definitely established itself on a higher level.

Thus Steel common on three consecutive days touched practically the same low level, 50⅛, 49⅞, and 50, respectively. In these three sessions, moreover, over 450,000 shares of this stock were turned over, a total which makes the scale of activity this week appear small. Subsequently Steel common held at an average price of about 58 until well into the month of July, when it at last began to mount rapidly.

Amalgamated Copper had a somewhat smaller range today than the other active speculative mediums. The recovery in copper has so far been more complete than in Steel, Union Pacific, or Reading. Logically it is argued this stock ought to be in a weaker position technically than the rest of the list because present conditions in the metal trade are such as to encourage enthusiasm on the long side.

The bear argument on Copper at present prices is that a weak bull account probably has been created on account of what are described as purely technical influences in the trade. The Lake Mines, it is suggested, may begin producing again at any time and even if the present situation were maintained for some time longer it is not one which is likely to cause a stampede of Copper consumers. All this may be true and still the general suspicion that there is a weak bull account in Amalgamated may be a strong reason why the stock is able to maintain itself out of line with the others.

Apparently the California Petroleum stocks have not yet reached a level where there is a demand for them sufficient to offset liquidation. The common sold today at a new low point of 16 and the preferred duplicated its former low price of 45. On the first day it was listed on the exchange last October, the common sold at 66, 69, and 72½. The other "new industrials" seem to have found their proper level sooner.

FUTURES SCORE SHARP ADVANCE

Bulls Are Aggressive in Face of Weakness Abroad; Wheat Follows Corn Lead.

RECEIPTS MUCH LIGHTER.

Foreign Markets Depressed by Big Stocks; Hog Products Have Late Upturn.

Strength in corn with smaller receipts in the northwest, and firm cash prices gave wheat a strong tone yesterday. At the start there was a small depression due to the unexpected weakness at Liverpool. The English market closed ⅜@½d lower and the continental markets were all a little lower. However, there was fair buying here, and the market gained sharply late in the session, closing with net gains of ¼@⅜c.

Light rains were reported in India, which, with the liberal offerings of Canadian wheat and favorable Argentine advices, took the edge off the markets abroad. The offerings of native wheats were reported moderate in France. Russian shipments are expected to continue liberal.

Small Gain in Stocks.

The increase in world's stocks for the week was 5,750,000 bu, compared to a gain of 11,284,000 bu a year ago. One factor increasing the confidence of holders in prices was the decreasing movement northwest. For the day northwest receipts were only 460 cars, against 1,263 cars a year ago, being only a little more than one-third as large. Moreover, reports from the northwest indicate that arrivals will be small.

It is estimated that there is about 65,000,000 bu wheat still to be marketed in the three states. Last year at this time there was about 175,000,000 bu. Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 650,000 bu for four days, and flour sales were reported good, mills being good buyers of the December, against sales of flour.

Shipping Sales Are Fair.

The shipping demand here continues fairly good, and sales for the day were about 135,000 bu. Mills are taking spring wheat quite freely. Offerings of wheat from the country were moderate. In the southwest mills and elevator people were good buyers of cash wheat, prices being a little higher. Receipts here were 35 cars, with 30 cars for tomorrow.

Primary receipts were 869,000 bu, against 1,888,000 bu a year ago. Clearances for the day were 760,000 bu wheat and flour. Buying of wheat was headed by Harris-Winthrop, King-Farnum, Wagner, Lindman, and Barrell, Kidston and commission houses were sellers on the advance.

Cutten Leads Corn Buying.

Offerings of corn were picked up quickly on an early break, and during the latter part of the session the market was decidedly strong. Cables were decidedly weak, 1⅜@1½d off, but the foreign news did not have much effect, and neither did the reports of a cargo of Argentine corn sold at 69⅝c, or about 1½c lower than the offers of the previous day. On the other hand, traders were more responsive to reports from the country of poor husking returns, and the light sales from the farms. Continued unsettled weather also was a bull factor. Final prices were ⅝@⅞c to 1c higher. Cutten led the buying all day, being credited with buying upward of 1,000,000 bu December.

Liverpool was influenced by the heavy Plate offerings, with the large stocks. Cash prices here were unchanged to ½c higher, and there were sales of 185,000 bu. Receipts were 95 cars, with 133 cars inspected yesterday. Primary receipts were 535,000 bu, against 281,000 bu a year ago.

Oats Show Marked Strength.

Oats showed independent strength at the start and later there was covering by shorts on the strength in corn. Last prices for the day were ¾c to 1@1⅛c higher. The cash demand was fair, and there were light offerings from the country. Shipping sales were 250,000 bu, with sample prices ¾@1⅛c higher. Receipts here were 150 cars, with 134 cars the estimate for today. Western arrivals aggregated 791,000 bu, compared to 1,360,000 bu a year ago.

Hog Products Stronger.

Provisions were stronger. First prices of the day were a little firmer, after which there was a setback. Stockyards houses were good buyers later, and there was a sharp upturn. Offerings were comparatively light during the latter part of the session. Hog prices were 5@10c lower and receipts were 29,000 with 23,000 estimated for today. There was a good trade in lard for shipment report, some sales being made at a premium over November. Western receipts were 89,500, compared to 84,200 a year ago. Liverpool prices were unchanged.

Fancy Rye Wanted.

Fancy rye met with fair demand, but lower grades were neglected. No. 2 sold at 65@66c, while No. 3 was 60@61c and No. 4 57@59c, nominal. Receipts, 19 cars.

Barley sold 1c higher, with malting 58@80c; feed, 50@55c, and screenings, 30@47c. Receipts, 68 cars.

Timothy seed held steady at $5.30 bid for October and $3.75@5.20 for cash lots. Cloverseed was quiet at $12.90 bid for October and $10.50@12.50 for cash.

Duluth flax closed 1⅛@1¼ lower, with cash on track, $1.36½; October, $1.34¾; November, $1.35; December, $1.33⅝, and May, $1.39. Receipts, 52 cars. Minneapolis was 1@1⅛c lower at $1.34@$1.36½ for cash on track. Receipts, 48 cars. Winnipeg closed steady to ⅝c lower, with October, 1.14⅝; December, $1.14⅛, and May, $1.21. Receipts, 85 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22.—WHEAT—Market was strong and prices registered another advance. Local mills were buyers in the pit against liberal flour sales. Northwestern receipts are decreasing rapidly and now are less than half a year ago. December closed ⅜@⅝c higher than yesterday and May ¼@⅜c higher. Local elevator stocks increased 650,000 bu for four days. December opened at 81⅝@81¾c; high, 82⅜@82½c; low, 81⅝c; closed 82⅜@82½c. May opened at 87c; high, 87½c; low, 86⅞c; closed 87⅛c. Closing cash: No. 1 hard, 85⅛c; No. 1 northern, 83@85c; to arrive, 83@84⅛c; choice to arrive, 85c; No. 2 northern, 81@83c; No. 2 hard Montana, 81⅛@82c; No. 3, 77@81c. FLOUR—Sales were of good volume and local mills reported an active business during the last two days. Prices advanced on account of continued firmness in wheat. Shipments, 64,895 brls. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

The shipping demand for wheat continues fair and prices continue firm. Offerings from the country continue light. Receipts here are moderate, and at winter wheat points are running less than as much as a year ago, and in the spring wheat country there has been a sharp contraction of the movement, indicating that present prices are not on an acceptable basis to the farmers. Mills took about 135,000 bu here. Minneapolis reported mills paying firm premiums for cash wheat. Elevator and mill interests were credited with buying the cash wheat at Kansas City. Cash corn was unchanged to ½c up. Oats were ¼@⅜c higher. Offerings from the country were moderate, and there was a fair shipping demand, sales being 195,000 bu corn and 250,000 bu oats.

Argentine corn was again offered at lower prices yesterday, but the fact that prices for this corn were relatively much cheaper than American corn did not have much effect on prices. A cargo of 200,000 bu was sold at 69⅝c c. i. f. New York, Boston, or Portland, buyers' option, and another cargo was offered at about the same price, which was 1½c lower than the previous day. Chicago No. 2 yellow corn sold at 79c Boston rate, lake and rail, yesterday. In some quarters it is claimed the Argentine corn is not as suitable for feed as American corn, being of a more flinty character, but the glucose manufacturers appear to find no trouble in its use, and have already bought more this season than a year ago, when they used about 800,000 bu.

Broomhall's weekly wheat review said: "The paramount reason for the weakness in foreign markets was the result of liberal supplies and the record Canadian marketing, although world's shipments have been nothing more than normal considering the autumn months. Fears are entertained that Canada is shipping at the expense of reserves, which may be felt later on, then again there is a strong fact that only two big countries are in a position to ship freely and this fact is becoming more pronounced."

A report from San Jose, Ill., to Fitch & Co.: "Reports from the corn fields are very disappointing. Some of the very best land, also the farmers that are in the habit of raising big crops will not shuck their corn as the yield and quality are so poor it will not pay to hire it shucked. Farmers have turned their stock on the fields. Several farmers that thought their corn would yield thirty bushels are getting as low as eight and ten bushels."

The country offerings of corn continue limited and many points report feeders paying decidedly more for corn than Chicago basis. In one instance in this state it was said feeders were paying 3c over Chicago December. Husking returns generally are unfavorable, and much of the corn is said to be of a poor quality. Receipts continue larger than a year ago in the west and southwest and primary receipts were nearly double those of a year ago.

New York wired: "Two steamers, 32,000 and 30,000 quarters fixed today at Baltimore to Havre at 2-9, December loading, and one of 22,000 quarters for Bordeaux January, 2-9. Ship brokers say old business."

A Minneapolis message to W. H. Lake said it was estimated there was about 65,000,000 bu wheat left to be marketed in the three states, compared to 175,000,000 bu at this time a year ago.

Light rains were reported again in India and there was not much concern displayed abroad, all the foreign markets being lower on wheat for the day.

A good trade in cash lard was reported in the provision pit. One sale of 2,000 tcs was reported at a premium over the November.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 39 cars; corn, 133 cars; oats, 134 cars; rye, 19 cars; barley, 68 cars; hogs, 23,000 head.

There were two cars new corn reported in yesterday, one grading sample grade and one No. 4 yellow.

Minneapolis stocks increased 650,000 bu for four days compared to a gain of 875,000 bu a year ago.

Minneapolis reported fair sales of flour, including some business for export.

Milling interests at Minneapolis were credited with buying December wheat against sales of flour.

W. P. Anderson reported a membership sold yesterday at $2,200 net to the buyer.

Morton L. Conley has made application for membership on the board of trade.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Money was firm, but discount rates were easy today. The stock market started quite strongly, with a general advance due to bear covering. Gilt edged securities maintained the improvement under investment support and closed steady, but speculative issues finished weak. Mexican shares were upset by the political situation and Rio Tintos, De Beers, and Brazilians declined on Paris selling. American securities opened steady and during the forenoon advanced on light covering. Later New York offered stock freely and the market declined and closed flat.

MORE STEEL BUYING LIKELY WITH RATE INCREASE GRANTED

Boom in Car Orders Expected to Follow Missouri Action by Interstate Commerce Commission.

New York, Oct. 22.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

"While the slowing down in steel works operations is not marked, each week makes some addition to idle forces. The Alabama steel plant has just laid off several hundred men, as rail orders on which it chiefly depends are slow in coming to the mills. The readjustment of prices of steel products goes on and several reductions are made this week in Pittsburgh quotations.

"Sentiment in the industry is not so hopeful as the probability of any considerable buying movement at present low price levels grows less. At the same time full weight is given favorable factors, such as the continued insistence of consumers for prompt shipment of their orders.

"Car inquiries and car buying have been the encouraging developments of the week and the most is made of the commerce commission's permission for some advance in rates between Missouri river points in its bearing on the pending case of the railroads east of the Mississippi.

"The Atlantic Coast Line has placed 1,300 cars and a number of western roads have made inquiries, these including 2,500 for the Wabash and several thousand for the Missouri Pacific. The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh inquiry has been increased to 3,000.

"The Great Northern rail contracts are thus far 40,000 tons, of which 25,000 tons went to the Chicago district mills. Some addition probably will be made to the 15,000 tons distributed among eastern mills. The Pennsylvania and New York Central orders are not coming out as expected and are likely to be delayed for some time. The trade is watching sharply for import developments, but little foreign steel has come this way.

Chicago territory shows further irregularity in bar prices and the weakness is pronounced in bar iron, the iron mills in that district being operated at only 50 to 75 per cent capacity. Some bar iron sales were made by Chicago mills at 1.35c Cleveland, or 1.20c at mill.

Industrial Board Ready for Work.
